TWENTY LIVES LOST. A THRILLING STORY FROM WISCONSIN.

ICE-GORGE FORMED And The People are Fleeing For Their Lives.

A report from Durand, Wis., on Tuesday, says thirty people have lost their lives and many are suffering from the cold which is intense. This report cannot be verified, and is probably exaggerated.

The ice gorge is unbroken, and the water is still running over the lower section of that city and steadily rising. All hope of breaking the gorge is abandoned and all attention is given now to saving household goods and merchandise. Every team in that city is kept busy moving people and effects to places of safety.

At 9 o'clock Tuesday morning the water had crept up to the bridge and postoffice, two blocks from the river. The river is now twenty-two feet above low water mark.

The Wisconsin Central tracks are covered with water two feet and the Omaha tracks are in the transfer of trains at Eau Claire.

Du-ran creek, a tributary to the Chippewa river near there, is also doing much damage as the water is backing up in it from the river.

Every resident and business man on River street has moved out. It is thought by many that this is only the beginning as there is no possible hope of getting a channel out through the jam of logs and ice.

Many farmers barely escaped with their lives, and in some places houses and barns are carried away. Live stock has been lost by every farmer.

The suffering by those obliged to move is terrible, as the thermometer shows from one to five degrees below zero.

At 10 a. m. all hope was given up of saving the entire business portion of the city. Everybody is making preparations to move to the hill.

A report that another gorge is forming at Little Falls, thirty miles above Durand, Wisconsin, has increased the panic, as in case of its breaking suddenly the whole city would be swept away.

IN A TRANCE FOR A DAY. Been Reading Books on Hypno- tism, but will do so no More.

Everybody in Wappinger Falls, N. Y., is discussing the mysterious case of Charles Moyer, 25 years old, who is just recovering from a trance in which he laid one day, and which is believed to be of hypnotic origin.

Moyer has always enjoyed good health, has a good education, and is of an unusually alert temperament.

He recently became much interested in the subject of hypnotism, and has been studying everything he could get on the subject. On Sunday he fell into a deep sleep, and finally passed into a condition that had some resemblance to a complete suspension of animation.

The usual restoratives used in cataleptic cases were applied, but with no result.

Several of the villagers, who think they know something about hypnotism, tried rubbing, and made passes, and went through the regular formula, but still Moyer slumbered on. Finally a man named Agramonte was called, and he succeeded in awakening Moyer. He was dazed and cannot explain what happened to him, except that he was conscious in a hazy way of what was going on around him, and when he was able to move his muscles felt a great sense of oppression leave him. He will not pursue his hypnotic investigations further.

A Novel Bet.
Commonwealth.
One of the most novel bets ever known, perhaps, was consummated in Wisconsin during the late campaign. Two prominent well-to-do business men who took opposite sides on the money question were each so sure of the success of his choice for President that they made the following contract, signed and recorded by a notary public: The Bryan man contracted that if McKinley should be elected he would sell out his business interests and leave the United States never to return; and the McKinley man contracted to do the same if Bryan should be elected. They signed the contract in good faith and agreed to close out by next January. Their friends protested against their course, telling them what a loss it would be to have to leave the country in the full years of prosperity, but they signed the contract all the same. There has been no bulletin of the losing man's course since the election.

Broken Chain

The family circle is never so happy after the chain is broken and a link taken. Some family chains are strong, others weak. Have you a good family history? Or is there a tendency to coughs, throat or bronchial troubles, weak lungs? Has a brother, sister, parent or near relative had consumption? Then your family chain is weak. Strengthen it. Take SCOTT'S EMULSION of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites. It makes rich blood, gives strength and vigor to weak lungs and run-down constitutions. With its aid the system throws off acute coughs and colds. It prevents the chain from breaking. Shall we send you a book about this, free?

For sale by all druggists at 50c. and $1.00. SCOTT & BOWNE, New York.

Do not allow your system to get weak and debilitated. It is easy to keep well and strong by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Rough on William.
"William, I am going to Heaven, and you will never see me again." She was his mother in law, and she wrote the above on her dying bed. William immediately went around to the church and gave up his pew.

The cure of rheumatism has often taxed medical skill, but its prevention has been very easy by an occasional use of Simmons Liver Regulator. It keeps the liver well regulated, and the system free from poison. Therein is the secret of health. "I have used it for years for indigestion and Constipation, and also found it gives me relief from a touch of rheumatism."—N. Hughes, Lordsburg, N. M.

GUNS POINTED SEAWARD. Mortar Battery at Fort Monroe Ready for Armament.

Norfolk Virginian.
Fortress Monroe has been rapidly modernized in the past few months. Since November 1st the work has been pushed to such good advantage that the fort is now prepared to dispute the passage of Hampton Roads with any fleet.

The ten-inch guns are practically ready for use, and the mortar battery emplacements are complete.

The platforms are now ready to receive the mortars of which there will be sixteen.

A railway is being built from the Chesapeake and Ohio railway tracks in order to transport the guns to the battery. The track will cost about $6,000, and it will run along the beach to the fort, where a cut has been made in the covered way. Through this cut the road will run to the Chesapeake and Ohio tracks. The battery will be in position by January 1st, 1897.

Blind Made to See.
Interesting Test in Boston.
SUBJECT OF THE X-RAY EXPERIMENT BLIND FROM BIRTH AND DIDN'T KNOW WHAT LIGHT WAS.

An experiment to determine the value of the X-rays in aiding the blind to see was made a few days ago at Boston upon Dr. James Richard Cooke, well known as a scientist. Dr. Cooke has been blind since birth.

When the electric current was turned on Dr. Cooke said: "Ah, I get something; there is certainly a sensation. It is indescribable."

"Was it light?" was asked. "I do not know what light is," replied Dr. Cooke; "I never saw it."

A number of tests were made with objects being passed before the light, and in every case Dr. Cooke was able to describe them with some degree of accuracy. Dr. Cooke said that the impression made by the rays were vibratory, like a general cerebral sense, and almost like the perception of space.

The statement is made that the Atlantic Coast Line is planning a new short route between Norfolk and Wilmington, N. C., and that surveys are now being made for an extension of its system from Washington, N. C., to Newbern, a distance of thirty-three miles. At Newbern the extension would connect with the Wilmington, Newbern and Norfolk Railroad, giving a route much shorter than by the present Atlantic Coast Line system between Norfolk and Wilmington. The new road would enter the trucking section of Eastern North Carolina and compete with the Norfolk and Southern Railroad.

BELIEVES HE WILL SOON DIE
Has Had a Revelation and is Preparing for the Summons.

Thoroughly convinced that only a few days more of earth life remain to him, Levi Weed, of Walker Valley, N. Y., although at present in the enjoyment of perfect health, is rapidly closing up his business in preparation for death's summons.

The little village of Walker Valley is nestled among the mountains, but a short distance from the spot where the notorious Mrs. Halliday committed the triple murders, three years ago last September. For years ago last September. For years ago last September. For years ago last September.

The monument was dedicated with appropriate religious exercises and an address was delivered by Graham Davis, president of the association. The outlines of Fort Raleigh are distinctly visible and the angles are now permanently marked by granite pillars.

Come to North Carolina.
Progressive Farmer.
People are on the verge of starvation in many parts of the country. And yet six pound turnips can be raised in North Carolina. There is enough land in cultivation in North Carolina to feed ten millions of people, and our climate and soil is so varied that almost any of the immense variety of farm, orchard and vineyard products raised throughout the world can be grown to perfection here. We need more thorough, systematic farming.

In the eastern part of the State our sounds are full of the finest oysters, our rivers and lakes are full of fish. The trucking lands in the East are equal to the best in the world. In twenty or more counties we can equal Texas in growing cotton, and Louisiana in the production of rice and cane. We supply the world with peanuts. We have fifteen counties producing the finest bright tobacco. Our corn lands are equal to any in Illinois or Kansas. We have some good wheat land in the Piedmont section. Ohio can't beat the blue grass mountain counties for wool and cattle grazing. No Southern State equal ours in the manufacture of cotton goods and fine tobacco. But, after all this, low prices, business stagnation and our weaknesses are holding us down with the rest of the country.

The men who advertise in the FISHERMAN & FARMER are the men who have faith in what they have to sell. Having a good thing to offer they want to sell it because the more used the better satisfaction it gives.

The Ladies Mackintoshes at "The Fair" were bought at a big bargain and you can get the benefit of it.

A Thrilling Experience.

Professor Odell, who is well known in Elizabeth City and Edenton as a most daring aeronaut, having made ascensions in both places, had a thrilling experience in Tampa, Fla., Friday afternoon. A high wind was blowing, and the balloon went sweeping westward. A dispatch describes the affair thus:

"He was almost touching the ground, and the little yellow dog he takes up with him was still lower. As he went flying through the air he shouted to a lot of boys on the ground to get out of the way, and they escaped injury. At the same time it was apparent to many of the spectators that the man must strike the clump of palmetto trees a little beyond, and many closed their eyes. A moment later the Professor struck the top of the trees, the rope holding the dog tied up the great machine for a moment, and the animal fell twenty feet to the ground. The aeronaut then cleared, and away he flew to the westward and upward, dangling to the car. The people ran out to watch the parachute drop. When about 150 feet high and 300 yards distant he cut loose, the parachute spread, and he settled to the ground. A number crowded around the dog as it lay on the ground breathing its last. Professor Odell sustained no injuries, further than a good shaking up and a few scratches."

Post Masters May Lose Their Heads.

A special from Washington says: The Postoffice Department has complaints against fifty or sixty Presidential postmasters throughout the country, charged with violating the order of the President, prohibiting them from taking an active part in politics. Most of these cases are in the West, particular in Illinois and Iowa. It is hardly probable that the Postmaster general will take action against all the offenders, but will deal only with the most flagrant cases. The others will be left for the hatchet of the Postmaster general appointed by Mr. McKinley. The terms of office of a number of them will not expire for a year or two after March 4th next.
