The Teller Reso-The Good lution that Die Young, passed the Senate last week and so soon found its doom in ty reading to the Free Silver folk, but it proved as empty as Senator Pritchard's promises. The Resolution provided that all bonds of the Unit d States should be payable, at the option of the government, in silver thus virtually creating a silver, or double, standard. Most o the Senators who voted for the Resolution, heartily favor Free Coigage; others declared that their vote for this measure did not bind them to the Democratic principle; while others voted Aye simply because it was a good opportunity to pose as a friend to the white metal, while secret ly in opposition. There never the Resolution would pass a hostile House; and had it passed by any hook or crook, President McKinley's ready veto would have checked effectually further legislation. The vote merely showed that Free Coinage is sleeping, not dead

A DAY WITH LUMBERMEN.

By special invitation of Mr. H. C. Hudgins, the general freight and pasenger agent of the Norfolk & Southern Railroad Company, it was the pleasure of the Editor of the Fisherman & Farmer to accompany to Edenton on Monday last that unique and jolly organization of Lumbermen from Ohio and Pennsylvania, known as the "Hoo Hon" order, or Union Association of Lumber Dealers. This famous order factory than other fellows. Per omprise the best known and most prominent lumber dealers in the courtry, and is represented in every state n the Union-from Oregon to Maine The ELLIOTT PRINTING Co.,

and Michigan to the Gulf. The order was originally started by nine snow bound lumbermen for a pastime, but has spread so rapidly that it bids fair to boil over the limits of membership it first fixed, namely, 9,999. The dues of the order are 99 cents a year and the House, was all mighty pret- initiation $9.99; in fact, it is said that anything that has a nine in it is lucky o a Hoo Hoo. The Association has been holding its annual meeting a Columbus, O., and being accustomed for years past to take an excursion fter the Convention, they came to isit the towns and mills of the South The train that brought them here was composed of three Pullman sleeprs, a day coach and a buffet, and the ravelers were about 120 members of the Union, a few railroad men, several nvited guests, and just nineteen la res-wives of the excursionists. The whole party was in charge of Col. H . Hudgins. The train, in charge o onductor P. B. Luke and Enginee Geo. Cannon, left Norfolk at 8:25 a. m. criving at Elizabeth City 10:50.
