MOSQUITO FLEET FOR DEWEY.

Tugs and Small Gunboats for Service in the Inland Waters of the Philippines.

The Navy Department is preparing to organize a "mosquito fleet" for the Philippines. The condition now prevailing in the Island of Luzon indicates that for a long time it will be necessary to maintain a strict patrol of the coast and inland waters. The big ocean tugs which formed the "mosquito fleet" that operated around Cuba during the blockade, and of which the Government has a number, are now being looked over with a view to service in the inland waters of the Philippines. Some of them are on the Pacific coast.

The Navy Department has figured out a coasting voyage that will take them up the Alaskan coast, coasting at Sitka, Ounaslaska, Cook's Inlet, down through the Aleutian Islands, to Hakodado, the northern point of Japan. Thence they can make the run across the China Sea to Hongkong and thence to the Philippines. It will be about a two month's voyage and can be safely made.

Spain had a fleet of small gun boats admirably suited for this work in the Philippines, but has recently sold thirteen of them at Hong Kong. It is possible some of these vessels may be purchased by the Navy Department and can be had for a reasonable sum.

Canning in North Carolina.

The Hicory (N. C.) Times Mercury thus gives the experience of a Catawba county man in canning: "Several years ago Mr. A. G. Corpening, of Cora, Caldwell county, commenced canning tomatoes, berries, etc., on a limited scale.—He put up a high grade of goods, which he sold in small lots to merchants in this section. Every order brought larger orders; the demand steadily increased, and today he has a large flourishing industry and is unable to supply the demand for his popular brands of canned fruits and vegetables. His factory has a capacity of 2,000 cans per day, and he cans tomatoes, tomato soups, corn, beans, berries and peaches. Mr. Corpening buys large quantities of these products from the neighboring farms, paying good prices for them. One of the farmers who lives near the cannery told us recently that he could make more money growing tomatoes at 20 cents per bushel than tobacco, corn or any similar crop. He said he received the last season $30 per acre for his tomato crop, which cost him $5 for labor and 100 pounds of guano, and that it was less trouble to raise tomatoes than corn.

For frostbites, burns, indolent sores eczema, skin disease, and especially piles, Dr. Witt's Witch Hazel Salve stands first and best. Look out for dishonest people who try to imitate and counterfeit it. It's their endorsement of a good article. Warrant goods are not imitated. Get the Witt's Witch Hazel Salve. ## "I AM NOT HOBSON."

Brenham, Tex., special to the Baltimore Sun:

Hon. William J. Bryan passed through here today en-route to Houston, where he spoke to-night. The crowds surged about him and the usands shook hands with him.

Miss Ruby Gardner, a young lady of this city, wanted to vary the form of saluting the distinguished Nebraskan.

"Mr. Bryan," Miss Gardner blushingly said, as she edged up to him in the throng, "will you give me a kiss?"

Mr. Bryan was surprised for a moment, but recovering himself he replied: "You will have to excuse me my dear young woman I am not Hobson."

The girl withdrew her face crimson.

BODY CHARRED TO A CRISP.

MR. WALTER AYCOCK, OF WARRENTON, MEETS A FEARFUL DEATH.

HIS LAMP EXPLODED.

His Wife Burned Her Hands Trying To Extinguish the Flames.

A shocking death occurred at Warrenton, N. C., early last Saturday morning. Friday night about 10 o'clock, after he had undressed and had slipped on a dressing gown, Mr. Walter Aycock lowered the swinging lamp and blew it out, when it burst enveloping his body from neck to feet in burning oil. No one else was in the room at the time, but his wife ran in and enveloped him in a blanket and put out the flames badly burning her own hands. She burned several blankets before she conquered the fire. Mr. Aycock was charred to a crisp, but survived until 7 o'clock Saturday morning. He was about 36 years old, was a good merchant and universally liked. He was an active member of the Baptist church. His life was insured for about $3,000.

Great Improvement.

"I had severe headaches and rheumatism and suffered intensely. I could not rest, had spells of cramping in my stomach and had constant pain all over. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. I am now in better health and weigh more than ever in my life." Mrs. Catherine E. Moyle, Huntington, W. Va.

SUICIDE AT NEWBERN.

F. B. Hutchinson, a Locomotive Engineer, Kills Himself.

Newbern, N. C., March 21.—F. B. Hutchinson, who claimed to be an engineer on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad on furlough, and a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, committed suicide here today by taking arsenic. Hutchinson lived in Baltimore. This was his second attempt at self destruction, the first one occurring Monday when he was discovered in time to save his life. The man was very despondent and said he wanted to die as he was in trouble, but did not state the nature of it. He came here Saturday from Wilmington.

BROTHER AND SISTER.

Marriage Contracted by Them in Ignorance Declared Null and Void.

Vienna, March 18.—A singular domestic tragedy is reported today by taking arsenic. Hutchinson lived in Baltimore. This was his second attempt at self destruction, the first one occurring Monday when he was discovered in time to save his life. The man was very despondent and said he wanted to die as he was in trouble, but did not state the nature of it. He came here Saturday from Wilmington.

Contest Over Offices.

MUST NOT BEAT TRAINS.

The railroad authorities in this State speak in great commendation of the act passed by the last General Assembly, which provides that beating of way on trains shall be punished as a misdemeanor, and any person beating his way may be arrested and tried not only in the county in which he is caught, but in any county in the State through which the road runs.

CORPORAL A TRAITOR FOR LOVE.

Married a Filipino Girl and Deserted. But Was Shot.

San Francisco, Cal., March 18.—The American, a daily paper published at Manila says: "Ex-Corporal John W. Hayes, of Co. D, First California Volunteers, a traitor and deserter has found his just end. His body now lies in a trench dug to bury the enemies of his country who fell in battle, with no slab at his head, his name forever hated by his own regiment. Hayes came with his regiment to Manila.

"Last October he married a Filipino girl and two days later deserted to the insurgent lines. This was the last his regiment heard or cared to hear about him until yesterday, when in burying the dead insurgents they came across his body riddled with bullets, with the clothes of a first lieutenant of the insurgents."

San Francisco, Cal., March 18.—The report that ex-Corporal John W. Hayes, of Company D, First California Volunteers turned traitor and was killed in the Philippines, is supposed here to refer to a man named Haze. There was no J. W. Hayes in the regiment. Haze served in the United States Navy, and was said to be a brave soldier, but fond of liquor and rather erratic.

Death in The Electric Chair.

Electrocution of Mrs. Martha Place for Murder.

Went to Death Quietly. The First Woman to Be Executed Under New York's New Law.

New York, March 20th.—Mrs. Martha Place was executed at Sing Sing prison today. She was the first woman to die in the electric chair in the State of New York, and she went to her death quietly. Her death was instantaneous, but two shocks were given. State Electrician Davis threw down the lever at exactly 11 o'clock a. m. The voltage of the current was 1,760, and it was continued for four seconds. It was then gradually diminished to 200 volts, which was continued for 56 seconds. Dr. Irvine, the physician of the prison, examined the woman and then ordered a second shock. That was the same as the first in power, and continued for the same length of time. The second shock has always been administered at Sing Sing.

FIGHTING MACHINES

OF THE MOST FORMIDABLE CHARACTER.

The Designs for the Battleships and the Cruisers to be of the Finest Type That Man can Conceive—Large, Powerful and Swift Vessels. They Will Be Quite an Addition to Uncle Sam's Navy.

A Washington dispatch says the plans of the three big battleships authorized by the naval appropriation bill just passed are being worked out. The general features of the ships have been defined, subject to the approval of the secretary. The battleships will be 1,000 tons larger than the Maine and the Missouri class, of a total displacement of 13,500 tons, making them by far the largest ships in the American navy, and about equal in dimensions to the best type of battleships now being constructed abroad under the new practice. Though larger than the Maine, the ships will be laid on almost the same lines, being only a little greater in every dimension. They will carry four 12 inch guns in turrets. This calibre is an inch less than the guns carried by the Oregon, but by improved design they will be almost equal in penetrative power. The 8 inch guns of the Oregon type, although they did very effective work at Santiago and Manila, have been abandoned. But instead of 8-inch guns the new ships will have no less than sixteen 6-inch calibre, all rapid fire and twenty six pounders. The speed of the ships will be eighteen knots, an advance of two knots over the Oregon class, but just equal to that of the new Maine. For protection against the enemy's shot, the battleships will have one belt of armor seven feet six inches broad, running clear around the water line, three feet six inches above and four feet below.

Altogether there is a notable absence of new features in the design of the battleship, which fact, taken in connection with the small amount of progress reported in the designs for the Maine class, may be indicated that our naval designers have very nearly approached the identical battleship in their work. As far as these particular ships are concerned, the fact that the navy department is limited to $300 per ton in the purchase of armor makes it impossible to build them in the absence of further legislation and the department will be obliged to content itself with the mere preparation of detailed plans during the coming summer.

The six cruisers of the unarmored type provided for can, however, be built, as Chief Constructor Hiebhorn has already been working out the designs upon lines approved by the board of bureau chiefs. It is the purpose of the navy department to place contracts for these ships the earliest possible moment. They represented a type of cruiser which would be of the greatest value just now for our foreign service. The plan call for vessels of about 2,600 tons and the ships will be improved Marbleheads, so to speak, being 600 tons larger than the ships of that class, and with better batteries and more coal capacity. A most important consideration is that they will be sheathed with wood over the steel hull and fully coppered, enabling them to keep the seas even in tropical waters for many months without being under the necessity of seeking a drydock. The battery will be made up of six 5-inch guns for each ship. The cost is to be considerably more than that of the Marblehead, which was $664,000, for the amount allowed by Congress was $1,141,800 each. This difference is accounted for by the many improvements made in the Marblehead's designs, a notable one being the use of water tube boilers, giving much greater speed and economy.

Rev. E. Edwards, pastor of the English Baptist Church at Minersville, Pa., when suffering with rheumatism, was advised to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. He says: "A few applications of this liniment proved of great service to me. It subdued the inflammation and relieved the pain. Should any sufferer profit by giving Pain Balm a trial it will please me." For sale by W. W. Griggs & Son.

Death in The Electric Chair.

Electrocution of Mrs. Martha Place for Murder.

Went to Death Quietly. The First Woman to Be Executed Under New York's New Law.

New York, March 20th.—Mrs. Martha Place was executed at Sing Sing prison today. She was the first woman to die in the electric chair in the State of New York, and she went to her death quietly. Her death was instantaneous, but two shocks were given. State Electrician Davis threw down the lever at exactly 11 o'clock a. m. The voltage of the current was 1,760, and it was continued for four seconds. It was then gradually diminished to 200 volts, which was continued for 56 seconds. Dr. Irvine, the physician of the prison, examined the woman and then ordered a second shock. That was the same as the first in power, and continued for the same length of time. The second shock has always been administered at Sing Sing.

Mrs. Place murdered her step-daughter, Ida M. Place, a mere girl on February 7, 1898. She first threw acid in the girl's eyes and then smothered her. This was early in the morning in their home in Brooklyn. She waited the entire day for her husband to return and then attacked him with an axe, fracturing his skull and otherwise seriously injuring him. Place, however, recovered.

Mrs. Place was convicted and sentenced to death, but she never for a moment believed she would be electrocuted. She at first claimed she could remember nothing of the murder, and later the plea of insanity was submitted in her behalf. It was not until last Thursday that the Warden gave, announced to her that Governor Roosevelt had absolutely refused to interfere with the course of justice; and she must die on Monday. It was a great shock to the woman but during the last four days she bore up wonderfully well. She suffered in two ways, after she learned that she must die, from sleeplessness and from loss of appetite. Again the warden visited her so that there might be no misunderstanding, and told her she must be ready at 11 o'clock on Monday morning.

She was ready at that hour, and no one who watched her could understand what change must have taken place in the woman's nature to dull her senses that she could go to her death so calmly and impassively as Mrs. Place did. It had not been expected that she would do so. The last woman condemned to die in this State went to the gallows shrieking and fighting, but Mrs. Place hardly uttered a sound. She merely murmured a prayer, with closed eyes, her face turned partly upward and seemingly unconscious of things about her.

This was the twenty sixth electrocution at Sing Sing prison, but none were as successful as that of today.

Rev. E. Edwards, pastor of the English Baptist Church at Minersville, Pa., when suffering with rheumatism, was advised to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. He says: "A few applications of this liniment proved of great service to me. It subdued the inflammation and relieved the pain. ## PATRIOTIC WOMAN'S FLAG.

It is the Largest Specimen of "Old Glory" In The World.

One of the pretty and rather interesting relics of the recent argument with Spain is now treasured by Miss Josephine Mulford, of Madison, N. J., and it is her intention to present it to the country. It is the largest flag in the world—the United States flag—and was designed and entirely hand made by Miss Mulford during the war. Each stitch is supposed to represent a soldier in the army and navy, and the flag contains 325,000 stitches, which were counted by the maker of the emblem.

The flag measures 100 feet by 65 feet hoist, with a blue field 40 feet by 55. Each star measures two feet eight inches across and the stripes are five feet wide. The bunting, extra width and quality, was manufactured especially for the flag. In construction the flag is unique. The forty-five stars are embroidered with the names of the States which they represent, also the date of their admission into the Union, and arranged upon the field in the order of their admission. The Pennsylvania star was made in Philadelphia, partly in the house of Betsy Ross, in the room in which she made the first American flag, in 1776, partly in Carpenter's Hall, where the first Continental Congress met, and partly in Independence Hall, while sitting in the chair in which Hancock sat when he signed the declaration of independence.

The New Jersey Star was made in Washington's headquarters at Norristown, the Maryland star at Fort McHenry, in honor of Francis Scott Key; the Virginia star in the Lafayette room at Washington's home at Mt. Vernon; the New York star was made partly in the long room at Faunce's tavern, where Washington bade farewell to his officers after the Revolution and partly on board of the flagship New York.

On the halliard canvass is worked a message to all the soldiers and sailors, congratulating them on their safe return. It is Miss Mulford's intention to have the flag presented to the nation.

It is better to be fooled once in awhile than to live in a world in which you are the only respectable person.

Pimples, boils and humors show that the blood is impure. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier that money can buy.

It appearing to the satisfaction of the court that after due diligence the defendants Hannah C. Pinner, Francis Mullen Pinner, Stephen B. Weeks and Dr. N. M. Ferrebee cannot after due diligence be found in the state and are non residents of the state of North Carolina, and they have property in the state, and the plaintiffs have a cause of action against them of which this court has jurisdiction.

It is therefore on motion of E. F. Aydtett Attorney for plaintiffs ordered, decreed and adjudged by the court that publication be made for the said defendants in the Fisherman and Farmer a newspaper published in the town of Elizabeth City, N. C. for a period of six weeks to appear before the Clerk of the Superior Court of Camden County at his office on the 11th day of February 1899, and answer or demur to the complaint filed in this cause, which is for a settlement of the estate of the late Dr. F. It is further ordered that a publication of this notice shall be a sufficient notice to the defendants.
