ANOTHER HISTORIC DAY.

North Carolina is rich in great, historic days. It was a great day when the Englishman's foot touched for the first time the soil of these United States upon the beautiful island of Roanoke. It was a great day when upon the same island the first white child born of English parents in America—Virginia Dare—opened her wondering baby eyes to behold the glad sunlight of God and to have her little heart thrilled by the jubilant voices of nature.

It was a great day when brave North Carolinians—not like their Boston cousins disguised as Indians, but without disguise and in the broad open daylight withstood the execution of the iniquitous stamp-act and thus bade defiance to the royal crown of England. It was a great day when the first rich libation poured out upon Liberty's sacred altar in behalf of American freedom, rendered Alamance forever thereafter a hallowed spot. It was a great day when the first Declaration of American Independence was published to the world in old Mecklenburg county. It was a great day when amid the first clash of arms in the great Civil Strife a North Carolinian yielded up, at Big Bethel, the crimson wealth of his noble heart. It was a great day when Pettigrew not Pickett led his men farthest up the gory heights of Gettysburg. It was a great day when the gallant Worth Bagley freely gave his noble young life for Cuban liberty and with his rich blood cemented more closely the severed sections of this broad Union.

Time would fail to give all the great days in North Carolina's glorious history. We will name but one more. It has the property of dewey freshness. It has but recently demonstrated its right to a place in Fame's proud record. IT IS THE SECOND DAY OF AUGUST, 1900. It will ever hereafter be memorable in the State's annals. No bugle blast was sounded, no booming of cannon was heard, no clash of arms disturbed the day's serenity, but a pivotal battle in the State's history was being fought. Noislessly as the struggle between light and darkness the tiny but potent ballots wrestled for the mastery. Bloodless was the conflict but when the day was ended a glorious victory had been won. Right had triumphed and wrong had been throttled. Manhood had asserted itself and North Carolina had been freed from ignominious surfdom.

This day's victory will live forever. It will fling its glorious light far down the avenue of coming years and be hailed with glad acclaim by future generations.

Messrs. M. C. Crowson as editor, and W. M. Hinton as associate editor, will hereafter conduct the Elizabeth City Fisherman and Farmer, and an able faithful, North Carolina paper they will make of it. The Post wishes it an abundant success.—Raleigh Post.

MAGNIFICENT WORK.

Never in the history of our county has there been more thorough, systematic work than during the recent political campaign. It was truly magnificent. It was simply superb. Every precinct and ward was organized with the consummate skill of the master. Every part of the county was thoroughly canvassed. Every argument that would lend potency to our cause was artfully brought forward. No effort was spared to confirm the wavering. No light held back that would disperse the clouds of ignorance or scatter the mists of honest doubt. A glorious victory, therefore, was the natural result.

Under the masterful leadership of Hon. J. B. Leigh, our County Chairman, the following gentlemen threw themselves into the canvass with commendable zeal and eminent ability: Hon. Geo. W. Ward, J. Heywood Sawyer, E. F. Aydtlett, P. H. Williams, Hon. E. F. Lamb, Roscoe W. Turner, Percy W. McMullan, Walter L. Cohoon, S. S. Lamb and W. M. Hinton. We would not forget the virile, trenchant, Damascus blade wielded by the skillful hand and directed by the massive brain of Col. R. E. Creecy. From the tripod he dealt the enemy blows that a Richard might have envied.

But all this public work would have gone for naught had it not been nobly seconded by the sturdy men who compose the rank and file of the great Democracy.

It was the "Men behind the guns" as well as the leaders, that did the work. Let all rejoice together. Let equal honor be meted out to all.

"My baby was terribly sick with the diarrhoea," says J. H. Doak, of Williams, Oregon. "We were unable to cure him with the doctor's assistance, and as a last resort we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I am happy to say it gave immediate relief and a complete cure." For sale by J. E. Wood.

Victory! Victory! Glorious Victory!

North Carolina goes Democratic by 60,000 majority. The Amendment falls a little behind the ticket but is secure. The Old North State is gloriously redeemed White Supremacy to be permanent, despite the unholy Combination. Butler dies hard. The Canvassing Board of Pasquotank met at the Court House last Saturday and officially gave the result of the election. Complete returns will be found below. They go far beyond any expectation entertained by the most sanguine. It was a perfect land-slide. A veritable Waterloo. The status of thirty years was reversed. Old Pasquotank covered herself all over with glory.

N. G. Grandy led the ticket with a majority of 907. W. A. Foster "busted" the Banks with a majority of 834. T. P. Nash with a majority of 792 tore off the rigging and left the old ship compassless and rudderless on a storm-tossed sea. "Cully" was knocked out of the ring by J. C. Spence with a majority of 685. The county gives a majority of 650 in favor of the Amendment. Rejoice, Rejoice! Again we say rejoice and give thanks.

The Health Problem

Is much simpler than is sometimes supposed. Health depends chiefly upon perfect digestion and pure blood, and the problem is solved very readily by Hood's Sarsaparilla. You may keep well by taking it promptly for any stomach or blood disorder. Its cures of scrofula, salt rhum, catarrh, dyspepsia, rheumatism and other diseases are numbered by the thousands.

The favorite family cathartic is Hood's Pills.

The Passing of Butler.

The election of last week puts an end to the political career of Marion Butler. He had staked everything on the result and must read in the election returns, "Thou art weighed in the balance and found wanting."

Ordinarily defeat of his party does not mean political destruction for a public official, for if he fails when his party is defeated he succeeds again when it is victorious. It is annihilation for Butler because he forced his party machinery into an unholy alliance for selfish ends by which he has destroyed his party in North Carolina in the unsuccessful attempt to obtain an office at the hands of the Republican party. The same unscrupulous men and the same corrupt methods that were used to elect McKinley were used to secure a Legislature to keep Butler in the Senate, and he was in the very front employing the agencies of corruption that every true Democrat and every true Populist denounced in 1896. Against the will of those populists who care more for reform than for office, Butler committed his party against the Amendment and amalgamated it with the gold and negro party. If the contest had been merely one over offices, this prostitution of the Populist party might not have been fatal, but as it was a question that went to the very mud sill of Southern civilization, the failure to put the Populist party in line with Southern thought and the preservation of intelligent rule was a crime from which no man and no party can recover in the life of this generation.—News & Observer.

A Happy Co incident.

The first issue of the FISHERMAN AND FARMER under its new management made its appearance on the eventful Second day of August.

We esteem this a happy co incident. It is evidently a good omen. Our subscription list is growing. Our Job Work Department is kept busy. Arrangements for advertising space is being made. Altogether the outlook is very encouraging.

Let this good work go on and we will be able to give the public a paper of which it will be proud. We are grateful for such general recognition.

A Minister's Good Work.

"I had a severe attack of bilious colic, got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, took two doses and was entirely cured," says Rev. A. A. Power, of Emporia, Kan. "My neighbor across the street was sick for over a week, had two or three bottles of medicine from the doctor. He used them for three or four days without relief, then called in another doctor who treated him for some days and gave him no relief, so discharged him. I went over to see him the next morning. He said his bowels were in a terrible fix, that they had been running off so long that it was almost bloody flux. I asked him if he had tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and he said, 'No.' I went home and brought him my bottle and gave him one dose; told him to take another dose in fifteen or twenty minutes if he did not find relief, but he took no more and was entirely cured." (Charlotte Observer.)

Mr. J. P. Leak, of Rockingham, has been selected as the third member of the committee of three that will visit the Southern yarn mills and secure their co-operation to the selling agency plan. The committee now stands: W. C. Heath, of Monroe, chairman; R. S. Reinhardt, of Lincolnton, and J. P. Leak, of Rockingham. All are mill men of experience and ability, and are capable of carrying out the plans of the board of governors, with which they are thoroughly familiar.

While we regret the retirement of the late editor of this paper, and feel as though we have lost a dear friend, we wish for the new firm every success.

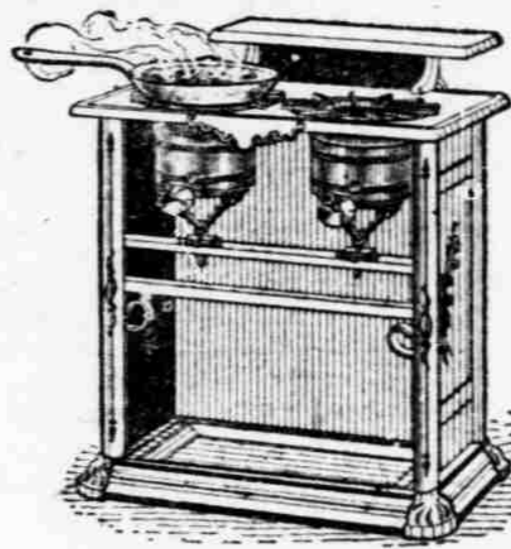

The E. City District Conference of the M. E. church recently held here was much enjoyed by the people of this community, and we cannot help thinking that both church and people have been much benefited by their meeting here, and we hope they will meet here again in the near future.

Died August 1st, Laura, youngest child of Mr. T. L. Jarvis and wife, aged about seven years. She died calling for Mamma and Papa as though she had lost or was being separated from them and wished to find them. She had been sick with measles but was getting better, when she was taken worse and died quite suddenly. Her funeral was preached by Rev. J. Y. Old, and she was laid to rest in the family burying ground Friday morning. We extend our sympathy to the bereaved ones.

His Life was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with Typhoid Fever, that ran into Pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of Consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvellous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all Throat and Lung Trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Standard Pharmacy. Every bottle guaranteed.

Hot meals and cool cooks

You'll not need to regulate your cooking by the thermometer when you get a Wickless Blue Flame Oil Stove. On the hottest days you can cook whatever you choose, in whatever way you wish, without suffering any additional discomfort while cooking. The comfort you'll gain is only one of the advantages of using a

Wickless Blue Flame Oil Stove

It is handier than a coal stove and cleaner and cheaper. The Wickless Blue Flame Oil Stove is absolutely safe; it burns ordinary kerosene, without wicks and causes neither smoke, smell nor soot.

Made in various sizes for various-sized families; sold at prices to suit any sized pocketbooks—wherever stoves are sold. If the dealer does not have them, write to the STANDARD OIL COMPANY.
