Married.

At seven o'clock last Friday evening, the parlor of Mrs. E. B. Leary, on Main street, was the scene of a very interesting and happy marriage of her daughter. In the presence of the family and a few friends, Rev. J. E. White, of Edenton, tied the knot and Miss Willie Leary became Mrs. Henry Keaton. After the congratulations of those present cake and wine were served. The bride was attired in cream cashmere, with gold ornaments, while the groom was becomingly dressed in an evening suit. Miss Bettie Parrish and D. C. Jackson acted as waiters. The happy couple were the recipients of many valuable presents, which we mention below: J. G. Granberry, one dozen tea plates; C. W. Morgan & Co., one crayon picture; Mrs. J. Q. A. Wood, pair linen towels; D. C. Jackson, cream set; Annie Parrish, berry bowl; Mary Parrish, cake stand; Bettie Parrish berry bowl; Mrs. E. B. Leary, cream set; Mrs. C. H. Horton, cake stand, celery dish and vinegar stand; Mrs. Ida V. Keaton, one counterpane; B. D. Kramer, set of cream bowls; Mr. Vernon, French clock. There were several other valuable presents from their relatives which we do not mention. We wish them a bon voyage over the sea of life, without a wave of trouble, and that at last they may anchor in the haven of rest.

SAM JONESISMS.

There is nothing the devil brags on more than a woman going around organizing progressive euche parties.

If every child does not turn out to be a gambler it will not be the fault of the parent who permits card playing.

Folks who were not willing to contribute their share towards expenses were small potatoes and stringy at that.

His objection to a saloon-keeper was the same as to a louse. The way they get their living is from the heads of families.

There is no quarrel between Sam Jones and any consecrated Christian, whether he be young or old, high or low, wite or black.

What's the use of sending missionaries to darkest Africa, when you have got them right in your midst that need saving?

If the hair of folks that didn't give anything turned to bristles, hair mattresses would go down to 5cts apiece.

A fellow that wouldn't help pay expenses, was a stingy dog, commonest kind; and, if he had four legs and a tail he would suck eggs.
