

We have saved many doctor bills since we began the using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in our home. We keep a bottle open all the time and whenever any of my family or myself began to catch cold we begin to use the Cough Remedy, and as a result we never have to send away for a doctor and incur a large doctor bill, for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy never fails to cure. It is certainly a medicine of great merit and worth.—D. S. Meakle, General Merchant and Farmer, Mattie Bedford county, Pa. For sale by W. A. Leggett, Druggist.

SAYINGS OF BRYAN.

We are not trying to array one class against another; we are trying to teach each class its relation to every other. The person who warms by the fire must not forget the hand that brings the coal from the mine. The person who eats at the table must not forget the man whose toil loads the table with bounties. The person who can clothe himself with the best that the looms produce must not forget those whose muscle and brain create the cloths. Shall the bud, blooming in beauty and shedding its fragrance upon the air, despise the roots of the rose-bush because they came into actual contact with the soil? You may pluck the bud and other buds as beautiful will grow, but destroy the roots and all the buds will die.

Men have expressed many ideas of heaven, but no one has yet pictured a heaven for the rich and another for the poor. If the rich and the poor must mingle together forever in the world to come. I want to help them to get acquainted here so that they will not have to be introduced when they cross the river.

The cultivation which does not embrace within its benefits every worthy member of society is a fraudulent civilization. We must have civilization which gives hope and inspiration to those who work in the kitchen as well as to those who eat in the dining room and to those who sit in the parlor—a civilization which will care for the man who drives the carriage as well as for the man who rides within it.

Victor Hugo has described the mob as the human race in misery. Beware how you make people miserable. Withdraw hope and despair will fill the heart, and with despair comes desperation. Life and property are most secure when every citizen feels that the world has some good in it for him.

Favoritism to a few breeds discontent. Injustice practiced by government cannot but make the victims hostile toward the beneficiaries. Class animosities will disappear when each class treats the other with justice and demands from society only that for which it gives an adequate return.

The Republican party is not what it was in the days of Lincoln. The shell is the same but the contents of the egg have undergone a change.

Captain Ed. Parker, of the London, Ky., militia company, a Taylor supporter, stated here tonight that 2,400 guns, two cannon and two Gatling guns are stored in London, and that he will hold them at all hazards against any attempt to take them. He will hold the guns until the courts decide the gubernatorial contest.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work. Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries. It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail. Home of Swamp-Root, free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

A HOPE OF ESCAPE.

Another! The flour trusts has gone into bankruptcy, and the reason stated for it that no flour trusts could be formed big enough to prevent competition. The sugar trust, as we told a few days ago, has found the profits gone of its business. It turns out to be not so bad—or rather not so good—as this, but it has been forced to reduce its 12 per cent dividends one half. Taking the failure of the flour trusts—which is only one of the many which has come one of the many which has come to grief—for its text, The Philadelphia Times points out the best hope we have yet seen for believing that the country is not to be dominated entirely by the trusts. Invention it says, has introduced and is still introducing new economies into the refining of sugar, the making of steel, flour and other articles of trust manipulation. It follows that of any given time there is a large amount of dead capital in each of these industries invested in out of date and useless construction. A trust combination in either of these industries means the issue of shares to cover all of this non-productive capital, and in many instances a liberal addition of water besides. The moment a new concern, capitalized on a sound basis and employing only the newest and most productive methods, takes the field the trust aggregation is at a disadvantage, and sooner or later must absorb its new rival or go to the wall.

There is hope in this view of the matter. The progress of invention must keep the trust tearing out old machinery, at enormous expense, and replacing it with new, or put it at a disadvantage in the presence of ever-present now competition, even though of smaller capital, which starts with the new appliances.—Charlotte Observer.

THE ABSURDITY OF WAR.

War is an expensive luxury, as we have found in the United States in the past two years and as the British tax-payers have discovered. The expenditures in this country amount to hundreds of millions of dollars, and the end is not yet in sight, nor is there any probability that the burden of war taxes will be reduced for many years. In Great Britain the government has submitted estimates which show that the conflict in South Africa will cost the United Kingdom a "pretty penny," and a large part of this burden will fall upon the shoulders of the workingmen. In the United States, as in Great Britain, the profits of the war will go to privileged class, and the masses will pay the "butcher bill," as well as the cost in treasure. Our army contractors, shipbuilders and owners and a few manufacturers will gain all that is to be had in the way of profits from our blunder in the Philippines, while the gold miners and diamond miners will derive the only substantial benefits from the war in South Africa. War is a one-sided business in which those who do not jeopardize their precious lives carry off the lion's share of the booty. It is strange that the people are so blind to their own interests—so willing to fight others' battles and to burden themselves with taxes that others may be made rich at their expense.—Baltimore Sun.

A well known merchant says: "I would as soon think of doing business without clerks as without advertising." The facts is that if he should not advertise he would not need the army of clerks which he now employs; for there would be nothing for them to do. Advertising, therefore, not only helps in the selling of goods, but in providing employment for work people.—Philadelphia Record.

A Washington hen has recently laid an egg with W. J. B. in bold relief on the shell. But North Carolina hens got the start of this Washington hen on this. They have been laying that sort of ornamented eggs for some time.—Wil. Star.

A walnut log was last week shipped from Burke county to Germany which was six feet in diameter at the butt. It was 70 feet from the ground to the first limb on this noble tree. The farmer who owned it got $100 for it, but it was worth $800 at least, experts say.

Secretary T. B. Parker, of the State Farmers' Alliance, says there are now 50 counties organized, and that on an average there are about seven sub-Alliances to a county. In one or two counties there are as many as 20. The shoe factory is shut down. The State Alliance will in August decide whether it will resume work.

"Sampson will return to the Democratic fold this year," said Mr. John D. Kerr, county chair man, who is in Raleigh attending the Supreme Court. Ex-State Senator F. R. Cooper, who is also attending the Supreme Court, says that after its wanderings Sampson will give a majority for the amendment this year.

BUTLER DENIES AGAIN.

Senator Butler is becoming a famous denier. He has such poor control of his mouth that he seldom makes a speech on an important occasion that he doesn't get himself into some predicament that it requires a large amount of denying or explaining to get him out of, and he generally makes the case worse for himself, because he does his denying and explaining in the face of the record and the cold print against him. He has several times denied or said he was misrepresented in reports of speeches made by him in this State, when the proof of such utterances was shown by the language written as it was spoken. The fact is that he has become such a habitual denier that nobody pays much attention to his denials now.

His latest performance on that line was in the Senate Tuesday when he said that he had been misrepresented in the colloquy with Senator Aldrich, in which he refused to say whether he still favored the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1, and finally when pressed for an answer gave an evasive reply the substance of which was that he was not in favor of it under present conditions and would be only under conditions that may never exist. His language was taken down by the stenographic reporter, substantiated by Senator Aldrich, and he didn't think of denying it until he saw it in print, saw how he had flopped, and thought of the effect of such a flop on the people of his State who thought he was an uncompromising free silver man. This denial was intended for home consumption, but unfortunately for Butler his repudiation of free silver is a matter of record, as other of his speeches which he has denied have been. But that doesn't make any difference with Marion he denies all the same.—Wil. Star.

It is very hard to stand idly by and see our dear ones suffer while awaiting the arrival of the doctor. An Albany (N. Y.) dairy man called at a drug store there for a doctor to come and see his child, then very sick with croup. Not finding the doctor in, he left word for him to come at once on his return. He also bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which he hoped would give some relief until the doctor should arrive. In a few hours he returned, saying the doctor need not come, as the child was much better. The druggist, Mr. Otto Scholz, says the family has since recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to their neighbors and friends until he has a constant demand for it from that part of the country. THE INNER LIFE.
Purer than the purest fountain, Wider than the widest sea, Sweeter than the sweetest music, Is God's love in Christ to me. Who loves me so? I do not know; I only know That nothing less than love divine Could save this sinful soul of mine.

"Some time ago I spoke in the prison of a fort where a large number of boys are confined, the greater majority of them for getting drunk in the beer hall and then deserting. After I was through speaking, others followed, and then about thirty boys knelt on that bare floor with the stone walls around them, seeking their soul's salvation. One boy, in whom I am intensely interested, was converted. A poor homesick lad who had deserted after he had gotten drunk in the government canteen. He wanted to see his mother; his step father had just died and his mother was left almost a helpless invalid, alone, to battle with the world, so he had had gone to see her; but said he would not have deserted had he not been drunk. He was captured and sent to this government prison where saw him and became interested in him. He signed my pledge never to drink anything intoxicating again. A splendid commandant but the canteen out of this fort last spring after the bill passed Congress and became a law, and while he was stationed here no canteen was back but the room was used for gospel services and temperance meetings. Later the major was ordered to other quarters and a new commandant came in; the first thing he did was to put back the canteen, and there being no empty room, it was put in the room in the prison, where God's praises were wont to be sung. The Bible went on the beer went in, and now my prison soldier boy who has been so faithful to God is compelled to scrub the floor of the beer saloon and wash the tanks where the beer glasses are washed, and the temptation from many who want to treat could be more than he could withstand and did he not trust in God and in the prayers of the women of the W. C. T. U."

What a shame, what a blot on America's history! What a responsibility on all as Christians! How difficult it is to do right amid such surroundings, kept by women's prayers; yes the united prayers of the women of the W. C. T. U., all around the world, arise to God at the noon-tide hour for those who are striving to keep the pledge, to do right. It is a stultant and help and is saving thousands of precious souls for whom Christ died. Remember the "Moon-tide Hour."

Dr. Temple Dead.
Last week we told our readers about the shooting of Dr. W. H. Temple by the Rev. J. R. Riddick. On the 17th inst. Dr. Temple died from the wounds inflicted. The charge against the Rev. Mr. Riddick has now changed to murder. Insanity it was first thought would be the plea, but the friends of Mr. Riddick have said they would plead justification. Riddick is still in jail at Lawrenceville, Va. What will be end of this awful tragedy we shall have to wait and see further developments, but this we know that many hearts are torn and bleeding all on account of an angry passion. If Dr. Temple insulted the wife of Mr. Riddick there was another way to settle it without the shedding of blood and the taking of that he could not give, and that to which he had been brought to live.

At the Capitol.
I am in my seventy-third year, and for fifty years I have been a great sufferer from indigestion, constipation and biliousness. I have tried all the remedies advertised for these diseases, and got no permanent relief. At one year ago, the disease assuming a more severe and dangerous form, I became very weak, and lost weight rapidly. I commenced using Dr. Mozley's Lemon Exlixir. I gained twelve pounds in three months. My strength and health perfectly restored, and I feel as young and vigorous as I ever did in my life.

A Woman Only Knows
what suffering from falling of the womb, whites, painful or irregular menses, or any disease of the distinctly feminine organs. A man may sympathize or pity but he can not know the agonies she goes through—the terrible suffering, so patiently borne, which robs her of beauty, hope and happiness. Yet this suffering really is needless.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui
will banish it. This medicine cures all "female diseases" quickly and permanently. It does away with humiliating physical examinations. The treatment may be taken at home. There is not continual expense and trouble. The sufferer is cured and stays cured. Wine of Cardui is becoming the leading remedy for all troubles of this class. It costs but $1 from any druggist.
