A Blackberry Story. Edward Morris, of Burlington, New Jersey, writes to Tillot's Journal for October.

The blackberry, having lately taken its place among horticultural staples, is attracting the attention of hundreds of acute and persevering seekers after fresh novelties.

The old woman and the crow. A certain cross-bill in the State of Maine, stood a short time for his share in the provisions of the war.

CLIPPINGS.

The New York Evening Express says: That $25,000,000 is the estimate for carrying on the Military Government in the Southern States during the next fiscal year.

The London Letter mentions a curious instance of deception under an operation. A woman had fractured her leg slipping over the hoofs of her crinolins.

The official reports on the awful famine in India tell a truly heartrending story. The disaster has affected a population of 20,000,000, and the deaths have been as many as 1,500,000.

Suppose these unhappy people had been negroes, don't you think the English abolitionists would have raised a great outcry before this?

The Black Hills of Dakota, which are an outlying group of the hills belonging to the Rocky Mountain range, are believed to abound in gold, silver, copper, coal and other minerals.

One of the French papers, calculates the income of a marshal of France, who is also a minister. As a marshal he gets 40,000 francs; as a minister, 100,000 francs; as a grand officer of the crown, 48,000 francs; as grand cross of the legion of honor, 3,000 francs; total, 221,000 francs per annum, or upwards of $71,000.
