

Elizabeth City, Oct. 20, '49.

Mr. V. B. PALMER is our authorized Agent for Philadelphia and New York.

We publish by request of several of our subscribers the Temperance address, recently delivered before the Pasquotank Division of the Sons of Temperance, by Mr. Geo. M. Wilder.

As the Col. has ordered a parade of the regiment, we hope our brother soldiers of the different Counties composing the same will turn out in full force.

We are inclined at all times to recommend to the notice of the people whatever tends to the general prosperity of the country, and particularly what pertains to our own community.

And we rejoice to see the growing spirit manifested here in the ship-building business.

On Thursday we were highly gratified with a visit to the Brig "Hunters," built by our enterprising citizen T. Hunter, Esq.

We are informed that she will carry about one hundred and sixty tons, which constitutes her as large, if not the largest vessel that ever sailed out of this port.

Under the management of so judicious a commander, we have no doubt but she will make a prosperous and successful voyage.

Those of our citizens who take an interest in shipping will do well to visit the "Hunters" before she leaves the wharf to-day.

Our town is beginning to assume its usual business appearance. The Merchants are now receiving their well selected stock of Fall and Winter goods.

The attention of those wishing to purchase is called to the extensive sale of Real and Personal Estate, which takes place in Virginia on the 8th of November next.

The November number of the Ladies Book is before us. We cannot speak too highly of this widely circulated periodical.

The reading matter is as usual chaste and of a most interesting kind. The engravings are superior to any we have ever seen.

We were well pleased to see that Messrs. Murray & Clark received the Premium at the late Fair in Baltimore, for the best and most improved Corn Sheller.

As will be seen from his advertisement, Dr. J. B. Gowin; has taken the room in the building of Mr. Wm. Laboyteaux, lately used as an Ice Cream Saloon.

We have on our table Sartain's Union Magazine for November. This is just such a work as we should expect from its enterprising Proprietors.

It is well executed, and composed of such matter as will interest the general reader. Its portly size is one of its noticeable qualities.

We cut the following from the Baltimore Patriot: "THE BIG SHEEP—The splendid sheep exhibited at the late Agricultural Fair, by Mr. C. B. Reynolds, of Delaware, was yesterday served up to the guests of the Eutaw House.

As the Irishman said when he first saw an Ass: "And be Jesus he was the father of all rabbits," so we should think this sheep was the father of all sheep.

SOMEBODY HAS STARTED A STORY THAT COL. FREMONT, who has been appointed the commissioner to run the boundary between the United States and Mexico, had either declined to accept the appointment, or had received the announcement of it with "cool contempt."

Somebody has started a story that Col. Fremont, who has been appointed the commissioner to run the boundary between the United States and Mexico, had either declined to accept the appointment, or had received the announcement of it with "cool contempt."

tion on this continent? The editors of the Union might as well make a clean breast of it and say, in so many words, to this administration: "Don't do as the last administration did—don't be recreant and craven, as it was—don't truckle to Lord Palmerston, as the late administration did to Lord Aberdeen—but stand your ground, as the Polk administration did not, and the American people will sustain you."

The calls of the Union for information as to just what and how much has been done officially, touching the Nicaragua, done officially, and idle. It is question, are gratuitous and idle.

There seems to be a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

The opposition journals, some time since, made themselves merry over the silly invention of some decapitated Locofooco official, to the effect that Gen. Taylor merely counted one in his Cabinet, and cast in all matters under deliberation, but a single silent vote.

We were somewhat surprised, on looking over a volume of Mr. Jefferson's published letters, a few days since, to find that the usage, in the days of his Presidency, was precisely such as that which is held up as an evidence of weakness and incapacity in the present Executive.

A RICH MAN'S FUNERAL. We take the following extract from a letter in the New Orleans Picayune, dated Tiger Island, (Attakapas, Berwick's Bay St. Mary's Parish, Sept. 22, 1849:

There seems to be a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

The Union is suddenly afflicted with a new-born sympathy for the merchants of New York. It says Gen. Taylor's foreign policy has "alarmed" them excessively, and predicts their flight for safety to the arms of the Loco Focos.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.

There is a strange inclination manifested by the Canada, and all the British Provinces bordering on the United States, to separate themselves from the mother country and become a part of this republic.