County Asks Debt Adjustment Commission's Help In Finances

Necessary steps have been taken by the Board of County Commissioners to bring the Debt Readjustment Commission here as soon as it is appointed by the state to go into the local debt situation and effect a settlement, or rather establish a basis for settlement with bond holders.

This fact was made public at the meeting of the board Monday morning after a group of citizens had called on the commissioners asking that the debt service levy for the year 1933 be lowered, and suggested that the Debt Readjustment Commission be called in so as to make levying of any debt service unnecessary at this time.

County Attorney Breese read a letter to the citizens from Chas. M. Johnson of Raleigh, head of the Local Government, which was in reply to one sent from the county officials, in which the head of the commission stated that he would advise the county immediately upon appointment being made of such a commission.

The commissioners passed the following resolution in regard to the matter:

"Resolved, That whereas, the commissioners were advised by Chas. M. Johnson, chairman of the Local Government Commission on July 24th that he would advise the commissioners when the County Debt Readjustment Commission was appointed so that the county commissioners would apply to said debt commission for advice as to relieving the financial condition of Transylvania county. On motion made and carried the county attorney was directed to make application to said debt Readjustment Commission immediately."

Argument presented by the group asking for a debt service levy of less than the dollar rate on the hundred put in the summary of budget estimate was to the effect that the levy was unnecessary, inasmuch as a bill had been passed in the last session of the legislature which eliminated the board from any criminal liability for failure to levy sufficient tax to take care of all outstanding indebtedness due during the year.

The commissioners said they were in accord with wishes of the people as expressed at the meeting by the group in the matter of levying the very least possible cent for debt service or any other expense, but that in their opinion a levy sufficient should be made so that those who were holding the county's paper would not start litigation, and for this reason the board had deemed it advisable several weeks ago to ask for the Debt Readjustment Commission to come here and advise as to a basis that would be satisfactory, or at least be one that would have the sanction of the state Local Government Commission. In the meantime, the commissioners feel that, under the law, the budget is required to be made up. However, if a debt service levy of one dollar is made, Attorney Breese stated in answer to question, and the Debt Commission which is asked to take a hand in county affairs, fixes a lower rate of value, then the rate will be lowered.

The Debt Readjustment Commission is expected to be appointed shortly, and the commissioners state that through this commission they hope to get an extension in time of payment, lower rate of interest and reduction in amount of indebtedness outstanding.

EDUCATION BOARD IS TO CONSIDER ROUTES

School Children Living More Than Two Miles Will Be Transported

The county board of education is announcing a meeting for Saturday morning at ten o'clock to be held in the court house, at which time routes for school busses will be fixed.

Principals of schools to which children are transported are required to be present, and any citizen of the county who wishes to be present is cordially invited, Professor G. C. Bush states. A representative of the State School commission will be present.

Under the state regulations, all children living more than two miles from the school which they will be required to attend are to be transported by the state busses; and unless road conditions or other reasons make it inadvisable busses shall be routed so as to get within one and one-half miles of all children entitled to transportation in such districts.

Authority for selecting and employing the drivers of the school busses is vested in the principal or superintendent of the school at the termination of the route, subject to the approval of the school committee, and the county superintendent of schools. Each of the drivers will be selected, according to the code of school laws, with a view to having him located as near the beginning of the truck route as possible. Students may be employed for this work where it is deemed advisable.

POLICEMAN MORRIS SHOWS GOOD-SPEED

Policeman Church Morris "got his man" Tuesday afternoon, although he left several large pieces of skin somewhere in the neighborhood of the jail in doing so.

It seems that Mr. Morris, who patrols the town at night and spends the days sleeping, was awakened about two o'clock Tuesday afternoon by a resident of the cotton mill section and requested to take care of a rucus in the neighborhood. After bringing the man to the vicinity of the jail, Mr. Morris stopped the car in which he was riding and started to get out, this being a cue to the gentleman who was on a spree to take to his heels... down across the steep incline at the rear of the courthouse went Mr. Lawbreaker, with Church in hot pursuit. Failing to properly negotiate the step embankment, the fugitive fell, and Mr. Morris, in applying the brakes of his "pedal carry-alls," spread out in a rather "unladylike" posture as he went on past his man in a way that would have put Ty Cobb to shame. But he got his man on the next jump... and after all, what is a little hide when a man's official pride is at stake, says Mr. Morris.

JIM HAYES RAISES FINE TOMATOES IN BREVARD

To Jim Hayes of Brevard goes honor for being High-mogo in the tomato raising racket, Mr. Hayes having displayed a purple beauty here last week that measured 14 and three-quarter inches by twelve and seven-eighth inches, and tipped the scales at a pound and a half.

Bought for an early tomato, Mr. Hayes is uncertain as to the kind of tomato he has, but he is certain of one thing, unless some unforeseen catastrophe happens before this time next year, he will have a second crop.

KIMZEY AND JEROME ARE KIWANIS HEADS

Threlkeld Gives Interesting
Talk On Highway Work
In North Carolina

Pat Kimzey was unanimously elected president of the Brevard Kiwanis club at the meeting held last week, to fill the unexpired term of F. Brown Carr, with Jerry Jerome being selected to take the place of vice president made vacant by the elevation of Mr. Kimzey.

Both men are active in Kiwanis, Pat having served several terms as director, and selected as vice president at the election last December. Jerry was a charter member of the club, and was for years secretary and member of the board of directors.

Polk L. Threlkeld, district manager for the State Highway Commission, with headquarters in Brevard, had charge of the program at the meeting and gave some interesting data on highway work and highway problems in North Carolina. In his timely talk before the club Mr. Threlkeld said in part:

In an incredibly short time the highway engineers of this country have built an extraordinary new transportation system. State highways were not cut of the dust nor out of the mud at our entry into the Great War. In the 16 years that have elapsed we have improved state systems with a total of 373,000 miles of which 116,000 miles are paved. Over these roads and the secondary systems allied with them travel annually 24 million automobiles, buses and motor trucks rolling up yearly the astonishing total of 100 billion vehicle miles.

Our railroad system is nothing to be ashamed of; in fact, the largest, most highly perfected in the world. Yet it required something like 70 years to bring it to the state of perfection which highway transportation attained in less than 20 years of intensive development.

By reason of that development we have brought transportation down to the common man, we have greatly widened his radius with all that means for broadening of his sympathies and the breaking down of pro-

ANOTHER TRAIN PUT ON LOCAL RAILROAD

Freight Crew Began Duties On Monday—Increased Business In County

Effective the past Monday morning, the Southern Railway put on an extra train on the Toxaway division, running from Hendersonville to Rosman six days per week.

Increase in business on the Toxaway division is given as the reason for the extra train and crew, the mixed train that has been taking care of the business here being unable to cope with the increased freight. The local passenger train is now hauling freight only from Rosman to Lake Toxaway.

COMMISSIONERS ASK HELP FROM R. F. C. IN FINANCING NOTES

Hope To Be Able To Accept
Bonds In Payment Of Collateral Held

Transylvania county commissioners are endeavoring to get help from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in order to assist citizens of the county in paying claims the county holds against them.

This fact was brought out in the county commissioners meeting Monday, when a plea was presented to the board by a citizen of the county against whom the county holds notes in excess of $15,000, the notes having been given the Brevard Bank and turned over to the county as collateral for deposits of county funds. With closing of the Brevard bank the county became owner of the notes in question.

The citizen requested that he be allowed to purchase county bonds that are to mature several years hence and trade them to the county for his notes. The commissioners felt that this could not be done outright, inasmuch as there is a dire need for cash with which to operate on, but the fact was brought out by County Attorney W. E. Breese that application has already been made to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to loan the county money on any such bonds that might be procured, and in this way enable a taxpayer to pay off collateral now held by the county at a great saving.

Attorney Breese stated that in his opinion, notes and bonds of the county maturing at a future date, especially those maturing ten to fifteen years hence, could be purchased at around twenty-five cents on the dollar on the market today. These bonds will be accepted by the county at their face value in payment of collateral notes held, he stated, provided the R. F. C. can be induced to finance the transaction.

The board is working on the idea that the Finance Corporation will take the bonds, allowing the county two-thirds or three-fourths of their face value, advancing this money to the county immediately, which will enable the taxpayer who is indebted to the county by reason of the collateral notes, to pay his indebtedness off at a very nominal sum and at the same time enable the county to reduce its present bonded indebtedness by reason of the fact that the county can take the money advanced by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and purchase other bonds at a reduced rate. A ruling on the matter is expected shortly from the R. F. C. Pending arrangement with the R. F. C. collateral notes held by the county will not be traded for bonds at face value.
