WHITE HERON SLAIN BY RECKLESS MAN

Another "meanest of mean men" has been located.

He is charged with killing one of the beautiful white herons that have been making their home at the small lake on the Country Club golf course for several years.

Dr. Hugh R. Murchison reported the incident to The Times, and seemed all wrought up over the fact that a man could be so thoughtless as to wantonly kill such a beautiful bird as the white heron.

Aside from being a violation of a moral code, killing of a heron is a misdemeanor and punishable by a stiff fine. People of the Country Club section and players on the local course are requested to keep an eye on poachers who are so thoughtless as to kill one of the birds.

TIMES READERS ARE ON THE HONOR ROLL

Price of Paper Will Have To Be Raised Soon—Present
Rate This Month

Fine response is being shown by Times subscribers to the card-statements mailed out of this office during the past several days, with each day bringing in renewals, some by mail, while others are calling at the office.

As stated on the cards mailed to those subscribers whose time expired the first of August or previous, it looks as if price of The Times will have to be increased to $1.50 in the county and $2.00 outside. This raise is being forced on the paper by the increased cost of white paper, ink, and supplies, plus increased cost of labor, the last named item being made necessary in order to keep step with other concerns, while general conditions have caused supplies to increase, some of them nearly double.

However, all those who wish to take advantage of the present prices have two more weeks in which to do so. Since last Thursday the following have renewed their subscriptions:

Mrs. J. R. Smith, Atlanta; John Ashworth, Brevard; Mrs. L. M. Watkins, Rosman; J. W. Duckworth, Brevard; L. V. Sigmon, Rosman; L. E. Lewis, Raleigh; Mrs. L. W. ### Property Owner Will Pay Less Than Half of Last Year's Levy

Transylvania county tax rate was set by the board of county commissioners in their meeting Saturday at $1.55 on the hundred dollars, setting a new low level of taxation in Transylvania county.

This new rate was made in face of a reduction of fifty per cent in real estate values effective with last listing, which cut the total valuation of county property from approximately eight million dollars to around four.

As a concrete example of the saving effected: A taxpayer who had real property valued last year at $1,000 was required to pay $16.50. With the new rate in effect, together with the slice of fifty per cent in valuation, the same taxpayer will, for 1933, pay $7.75, or over 52 per cent saving.

Under the new rate adopted by the commissioners, personal property owners will also realize a saving of one dollar on the thousand. All departments of the county government have been cut to the minimum in the budget as made up by the commissioners, the debt service fund requirement being largest of all expenditures to be levied for.

BREVARD BOY WINS TOP TENNIS HONORS

Duncan MacDougald is Now
Champion of Western North Carolina

Duncan MacDougald II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan MacDougald of near Brevard, who has been playing tennis since he was a small lad and has been winning matches for almost as many years, won the singles championship of the second annual Western North Carolina open tennis tournament by default August 13, when Dr. Charles Padgett, of Waynesville, was unable to play after a strenuous series of matches prior to the finals match.

The tournament was held at Waynesville where MacDougald and Miss Betty Ricau rapidly moved into final play winning the W. N. C. mixed doubles title with a 6-3, 6-1 victory over May Crawford and C. E. Weatherby.

MacDougald is a Princeton University sophomore and has gained recognition for his prowess on the tennis court at that institution and also at Woodberry School, Woodberry Forest, Virginia where he studied prior to entering Princeton. He plans to enter a tournament which will be held in Charlotte at an early date.

He recently won the Hendersonville city open tournament by defeating George Fain in the finals match 6-3, 6-3, 8-6. He has also seen action on the Asheville courts.

DRY FORCES NAME TOWNSHIP LEADERS

Active Organization Will Be Set Up In Each Community In County

For the purpose of launching its fight into the stronghold of each township in the county, Transylvania's unit of the United Dry Forces of North Carolina in a meeting of the executive committee at Little River Wednesday appointed township chairman for the work.

The executive committee headed by Rev. J. K. Henderson, chairman of the local unit, includes Oliver H. Orr, vice chairman and J. W. Glazener.

Township chairmen appointed Wednesday were: Boyd, W. L. Talley; Brevard, Mrs. Frank Jenkins; Cateys Creek, J. W. Glazener; Dunn's Rock, Clyde Pittman; Eastatoe, A. M. Paxton; Gloucester, C. A. McCall; Hogback, Mrs. Lee F. Norton and Little River, W. P. Holtzclaw.

MUST SIGN NRA TO GET FEDERAL FUNDS

Welfare Department Not Allowed To Issue Orders
To Non-Members

Only those stores and places of business in Transylvania that have signed up with the NRA will, after Saturday, August 19, be given any business of any nature through or by the Federal Government.

This notice was received in Brevard Wednesday morning a letter coming to W. A. Wilson, superintendent of welfare, who has charge of relief employment here, and he was instructed to notify all merchants that after August 19, the ruling would go into effect and be strictly adhered to.

Permission has been granted the local board of welfare to hire labor at the prevailing county wage scale for work in community gardens and at the cannery in Brevard where the vegetables raised in the community gardens are being canned. A previous order was taken to mean that thirty cents per hour must be paid all workers on relief projects, but this leeway is being allowed due to the fact that the garden program has been in effect for several months.

While no concerted boycott has been started in Brevard, it is expected that an organization will be set up in a few days to keep in step with others of like nature the country over, a canvass to be made to ascertain who is not in sympathy with the National Recovery Administration, and procure pledges from consumers that they will purchase supplies only from those firms displaying the NRA sign.

CITY BOARD TO ASK COMMISSION'S COST

Necessary To Levy Debt Service Fund Until Agreement Is Reached

Decision was made by the board of aldermen of the town of Brevard in their meeting last Thursday evening to take the matter of cost of bringing the Debt Readjustment commission here, when such commission is appointed by the governor.

Several citizens were present at the board meeting and asked that the town take the same steps that have been taken by the county commissioners, which body several weeks ago asked that the Debt Readjustment commission be sent here to help out in financial matters.

Representative Wallace Galloway called attention of the board to the debt readjustment commission, and a general discussion was entered into by members of the board and other citizens present, with stress being laid on the fact that inasmuch as the town was a part of the Transylvania county unit, that expense incurred by the debt readjustment commission would be far less if al-

CORBIN TO TEACH IN BUNCOMBE COUNTY

Has Been Great Factor During Past Five Years In Farm Progress

ROSMAN, Aug. 16—Professor John F. Corbin, for the past five years teacher of vocational agriculture at Rosman High school, and leader in farm improvement circles in this section of the county, is leaving next week to assume work in the Leicester High school in Buncombe county.

Professor Corbin has made many friends in the county during his stay here, who regret to see him leave the community. He has been instrumental in bringing state-wide recognition to the Rosman school, boys from his class leading the entire section of Western North Carolina on several occasions in vocational agriculture work, and at one time leading the state in cattle judging, which is a part of the work taught in the vocational agriculture room, both in theory and in practice.

Increased yields at lowered cost have been results of the practical farming that Professor Corbin has taught in the five years that he has been in the community, and favorable comment has been given his work here by state and district leaders in farm work.

As a citizen and neighbor, Professor Corbin has built up a circle of friends that extends throughout the county. His work, carried on during and after school months, and his willingness to assist the farmers of this section in solving their problems in a practical way, has meant much to the entire community.

The following letter is enclosed from Mr. Corbin to his friends—

"To my friends and former students of Rosman Community:—

"It has been a pleasure for me to work with you during these past years. I trust we have both been benefited by the association. I am sure that I am more capable and that life will mean more to me for having been with you.

"I hope that I have been of some service to all whom I came in contact with. It was my aim to serve everyone who wished assistance, and it is with deep regret that I leave you.

"Sincerely,
"JOHN F. CORBIN."

FISHER'S DOG ATTRACTS MUCH ATTENTION HERE

Ralph Fisher has been creating quite a stir among the ergophobes of the city with the peculiar antics and performances of his little heinz (57 varieties) pup in recent days.

The educated canine at a signal from Mr. Fisher goes from the ground to the fender, to the hood of the auto and onto the top of the car where he lies down to await further orders. Any signs of a struggle on the street in which his master is a participant brings the k-9 to the rescue in a series of leaps, fangs bared for action. The dog, unlike many people, will speak when spoken to and only then.

All School Children Must Walk Two Miles Under N. C. Bus Regulations

If the rain and sleet be falling so thick and fast that a child can only see ten feet in front, it will have the privilege of walking to school this winter, whether or no a half-filled school bus passes it by and is going to the same destination.

This is taken by the Transylvania county board of education as the meaning of the new school law as set up by the 1933 legislature, and inasmuch as the schools are operated by, and strictly under the state regulations, the rule will have to be adhered to, Chairman J. M. Galloway is of the opinion.

The law in this particular instance is taken by the board to mean that "no child who lives within two miles of the school which it attends will not be allowed, under any circumstances, to ride a school bus." This rule has a single exception of a maimed or deformed child, who will be given preference.

Be Entered—Camps To

The show will open at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon and continue throughout the afternoon and evening. A silver offering will be taken at the door.

It is requested by the garden committee, in direct charge of the flower show, that all exhibits be brought to the show rooms not later than Friday noon, and that potted plants be brought Thursday afternoon if possible or definite notice given Mrs. J. M. Gaines so that space may be allotted. The exhibits are open to every one in the county as well as to all townspeople, it is stressed by the committee, and it is hoped that many throughout the county will make entries of home grown flowers or plants.

HOME COMING TO BE ROCKY HILL EVENT

Annual Home Coming day will be held at Rocky Hill Baptist church, Cedar Mountain, on Sunday, August 27, according to announcement made by Mrs. Jennie L. Bishop, of Greenville, secretary to the home coming organization.

An interesting program is being arranged by Mrs. Nellie Jones, Miss Sadie Jones and Miss Vera Jones, committee in charge, with a picnic dinner, group and special music, short speeches and other entertaining features.

A cordial invitation is extended to all former pastors, members and friends of the Rocky Hill church to attend the event, which attracts hundreds of people from many sections annually.

The matter was thoroughly gone into at a meeting of the school board, principals and interested citizens held in the county court house Saturday morning, when O. J. Holer, state school commissioner for this section of the state explained to those present some of the points in the new school law.

Patrons who live one mile and one-tenth from the school to which their children are to attend this year will either haul their children or let them walk, the law specifically setting out that a two-mile radius shall be established, and only such children as live out of this two mile zone shall be provided transportation.

But drivers will be required to start at the end of their route farthest from the school under the new ruling, it was brought out at the meeting, and in no instance will a
