

W. EXCHANGE WILL CLOSE IN FEW DAYS

The Women's Exchange, which has been in operation through the summer months will close for the winter on September 15, according to announcement of the chairman of this enterprise, Miss Katherine Griffin.

All of those who have articles there on sale are requested to call at the exchange rooms on or before September 14 and remove them before the rooms are closed for the winter.

The exchange has proved very popular and profitable this summer, both for the organization and for the numerous citizens and tourists who have taken advantage of this community service.

The Women's Exchange is one of the major projects of the Women's Civic club, and its re-opening in the early summer of next year will be anticipated by many.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to take this method of expressing my sincere thanks to many white friends who were so kind to me at the death of my wife, Etta Kilgore and especially for the many nice flowers.

The high school boys and girls of this section feel that they have been very much slighted since there has been no way provided for them to get to school. Wake up, Commissioners, and get us a bus so we can get started to school. Is it not as important that we children of Gloucester get to school as of other sections?

Silverstein school opened Monday to begin its year's work. Sixty children were enrolled the first day of school. N. C. Miller, the principal, made a talk to the children and laid down a few simple rules to govern their conduct while at school. He also spoke to several parents present, welcoming them, and inviting them to visit the school at any time. Miss Allison made a short talk in which she greeted the little ones and the parents present and expressed her hope for a good school for the coming year.

The Owen reunion will be held at the Silverstein school house on the ninth of September. Everybody is invited to come and bring well filled baskets.

STUDENTS MAY GET LOAN AT COLLEGE

Cullowhee, Sept 5—The Board of Trustees of Western Carolina Teachers College has authorized President H. T. Hunter to accept during the coming college session the personal note of as many as 20% of the students instead of direct cash payment as a means of taking care of the new tuition charges of $24.00 that will be made by the institution. The making of the tuition charge, which will amount to $8.00 per quarter, was made mandatory by the action of the last North Carolina General Assembly.

This arrangement to take care of tuition is a part of the rather widespread program of financial aid to students that is being adopted with the beginning of the 1933-34 session by the Cullowhee institution. President Hunter announces that far more than a hundred students are expected to be given financial aid of some kind by the college during the coming session.

Approximately 60 students will be given self-help positions on the campus. In this group will be both young men and young women. Among the types of work that will be done are: grading papers for instructors, acting as assistants to instructors, waiting on tables in dining room, washing dishes, working on college farm, caring for grounds, acting as library assistants, and doing several other types of work. Many applications for jobs have already been made and several of them have been assigned.

It is planned to aid approximately 30 students with the college loan funds. In the matter of both the loan funds and self-help positions it is the decision of the college administration to give financial aid in smaller amounts but to a large number of students.

The decision of the college to accept from 20% of the student body personal notes in the place of immediate cash payment as a means of taking care of tuition charges will give financial aid to a considerable number. Western Carolina Teachers College, which is a standard four-year college and grants the bachelor of science degree, will open its full term September 19.
