SCHOOL KIDS MAY RIDE SCHOOL BUSES WHEN NOT LOADED

Ruling Made By State Board Modifies School Bus Law To Some Degree

Ruling by the state board of education to the effect that school children residing within the two mile limit may be permitted to ride buses when same are not crowded, will effect this county but little, according to Professor G. C. Bush, county superintendent. Mr. Bush stated Monday that very few children in the county residing within the two-mile limit had asked for the privilege of riding to school, and further, that buses were for the most part already overcrowded when they reached the two mile zone, hence there would be little, if any change in this county.

The following rules were passed by the state school commission in meeting Friday at Raleigh in regard to the two mile law:

"Now, therefore, be it resolved, that the state school commission hereby authorizes county boards of education to permit the transportation of children living within two miles of school under the following conditions:

"1 That the truck is not loaded to capacity by those children living more than two miles from the school; provided that the county board of education in each county shall be charged with the duty of ascertaining and determining when a truck is loaded to capacity.

"2 That in permitting transportation for children living within two miles of school, preference shall be given to children under 10 years of age or declared physically unable to walk to school.

"3 That in permitting the transportation of children living within two miles of school the operating costs to the state shall not be increased by the addition of busses or mileage."

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS HOLD MEETING MONDAY

It was impossible for Mrs. Martin to visit each of the schools in the county due to the fact that she could only spend one week here. She was assisted in her work in the county by Mrs. Oliver H. Orr, county chairman.

The following schools organized and elected officers:

At Pisgah Forest Miss Annie Mae Patton, principal, is calling a meeting on Thursday night, Oct. 12, for organization purposes.

N. L. Ponder, principal of the Enon school, announces that a meeting will be held there on Friday night, Oct. 13 at which time the organization there will be re-instated and officers selected.

A county council was set up at the meeting held Saturday in Brevard with representatives from several of the communities present, together with principals and teachers.
