GASH-MOORE NUPTIALS OF WIDE INTEREST.

Of much interest in Brevard and throughout Western North Carolina is the marriage of Mr. Charles F. Moore, of Brevard, to Miss Mary Lee Gash, of West Asheville, the ceremony occurring Saturday morning, October 7, at the West Asheville Baptist church.

Following is an account of the wedding, appearing in Sunday's Asheville Citizen-Times:

Miss Mary Lee Gash, of West Asheville, and Mr. Charles Franklin Moore, of Brevard, were united in marriage yesterday morning at 11 o'clock at the Calvary Baptist church in West Asheville, with the Rev. J. B. Grice, pastor of the bride, officiating.

The church was beautifully decorated with baskets of fern and dahlias. Just preceding the ceremony, Mr. Alvin Moore, brother of the groom, sang "At Dawning," by Cadman. He was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. O. V. Himes. During the ceremony, Mrs. Himes played "Traumerlei" by Schumann.

The bride entered on the arm of her father by whom she was given in marriage. She wore a lovely gown of navy blue rough crepe. Her shoulder corsage was of pink roses.

After the ceremony, a reception was given at the home of the bride. This was attended by a few relatives and close friends. The dining room was decorated in pink and white, and on the table, the centerpiece was formed of a large wedding cake, decorated with a miniature bride and groom. Suspended over the table was a white wedding bell. Pink and white ices were served.

Following the reception, the couple left by motor for a two weeks' trip to Canada and the coast of Maine. Upon their return, they will reside at 105 Maple street, Brevard.

The bride is the attractive and only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Gash, of West Asheville. She received her education in the Asheville high school and at the Asheville Normal college, and for the past three years has taught in the Etowah high school. She is a descendant of the Gash family, well known in Western North Carolina, and of the Page family, which is well known in South Carolina.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Moore, of Brevard, and is connected with the Public Utilities company, of Brevard. He is the great-grandson of the Revolutionary battle of Moores Creek bridge, and of Abram Alexander, a signer of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence. He is also a great-grandson of Capt. John Marion Alexander, of the War Between the States, and a grandson of James Moore of the Confederate army.

MISSION STUDY CLASS IN PROGRESS THIS WEEK.

A mission study class sponsored by the Women's Missionary society of the Baptist church is being held three afternoons this week at the church. The manual on mission work, entitled, "The How and Why," is the book under discussion.

The first study class began Wednesday afternoon, and will continue through Thursday and Friday afternoons, beginning at 3 o'clock. Mrs. E. R. Pendleton is the class leader.

Decision to hold the mission study class was made at the regular meeting of the W. M. S., held Tuesday afternoon of last week in the church parlors. An interesting program at this meeting on the subject, "The Harvest of the Word in South America," was conducted by the Fannie Heck church, with Mrs. Thomas Dodsworth, Mrs. W. H. Duckworth and Mrs. A. B. Galloway taking part.

Mrs. R. H. Ramsey, president of the Women's Missionary society, presided over the meeting and led the devotionals.

Y. W. A. PICNIC IS ENJOYABLE AFFAIR.

Members of the Y. W. A. of the Baptist church enjoyed a picnic at the campfire grounds of Camp Carolina Monday evening.

After a satisfying supper cooked over the camp fire, the young people played games around the big bonfire. About 50 people, including members and invited guests, were present to enjoy the pleasures of the occasion.

The jolly group was chaperoned by their leader, Mrs. Harold Norwood, Mr. Norwood and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Ramsey.

THE PRAYER CORNER

(From the Files of Brevard News)

Formation of Character

The one thing man carries away with him when he dies is his character; all else that he may have gained he is forced to leave behind him. His eternal destiny will depend upon the nature of his character.

And throughout his life on earth this sum total of his past is the most potent factor of life. Success or failure, happiness or misery, honor or dishonor, everything in fact, is more the result of character than of brains, position, knowledge or industry.

During childhood character is forming. An eternal destiny is in the making. Good and bad tendencies are struggling for the mastery. The soul is in a state of flux.

Parents and teachers have in their hands the most delicate, the most susceptible, the most precious of all raw materials, the soul of a trustful child; that if they do not mold it the world, the flesh, and the Devil will. Let them never forget the saying of the wisest of men: "Train up a child in the way he should go and when he is old he will not depart from it." (Proverbs 22:6)

The wisest of men has said: Train up a child in the way he should go and when he is old he will not depart from it. (Proverbs 22:6)

A Prayer for the Formation of Good Character

Most Gracious and Loving God, in whom we live and move and have our being, bring home to our hearts the truth that the one thing we carry away with us when we die is our character. All else that we have gained we are forced to leave behind us. Our eternal destiny will depend upon the nature of our character.

Enable us to see that throughout our life on earth this sum total of our past is the most potent factor of our life. Success or failure, happiness or misery, honor or dishonor, everything in fact is more the result of character than of brains, position, knowledge or industry.
