GLANCING BACK AT BREVARD

(From the file of Oct. 8, 1897)

Our fellow townsman, M. D. Cooper, who was thrown from his wagon last Saturday morning and sustained a severe injury on the shoulder, is up and able to be on the streets again.

Maj. T. G. Fisher and family of Charleston, S. C., who spent the season at the home of Hen. T. S. Word, left for home last Monday. They were accompanied by Miss Agnes Wood who will spend a month with them.

The Davidson River school opened Monday with Miss Lila Brice, of Shelby, as teacher. This school has been slow in opening its fall term on account of securing a teacher to satisfy all parties, but have at last succeeded.

Misses Lizzie and Chester Bell left this week for Greensboro where they will enter that excellent institution of learning, the State Normal and Industrial college.

W. S. Ashworth exhibits a new variety of lace leather, the product of his tannery at Grange, which he calls Rawhide Lace. What Gordon Williams doesn't know about tanning isn't worth reaching for. This new product seems to fill a long felt want by all who have beiting to lace or shoes to tie.

Erwin Brooks has accepted a position with W. L. Carmichael.

Roscoe Nicholson is clerking in Brevard's Greatest Store.

The report which reached here some two weeks since that Mrs. R. L. McMinn had been shot and was thought to be fatally wounded by her brother at their home in Asheville in mistake for a burglar, was somewhat overdrawn. In a conversation with her father Wednesday morning it developed that the wound was slight and she has suffered little except for the loss of two teeth. She was in the act of speaking when the bullet entered her mouth and is supposed to be imbedded in the inner side of the jaws as it has not been extracted. There will be no seat to show that she ran so narrow an escape of her life.

Susan Whitmore youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Whitmore, died at her home near Greenwood cemetery Saturday evening, and was buried at Mount Moriah Sunday. The funeral was conducted by Rev. I. T. Newton and Rev. E. Allison and a large gathering of friends and relatives were present to perform the last sad rites for the departed. It is sad to record the death of one whose life was just budding into womanhood, and to whom all the attractions of earth are sweet. "Sue" had been gradually failing for several months with that dread disease consumption, and the end was not unexpected.

A double wedding occurred at the Connettee Methodist church Wednesday evening and was an event of much importance to the rural society in that section. Miss Laura Mull and R. F. Hunt of Dacusville, S. C. were united in matrimony, and Miss Rosa Mull and W. T. Foster, of Asheville, Rev. L. A. Falls, of the Brevard Methodist church, officiated. Another recent wedding which deserves more than passing notice occurred Tuesday night, that of Miss Hattie Justus and W. S. Lankford. Rev. L. A. Falls officiated.

Probably no enterprise which has been established in Brevard during the past year and none which may be introduced in the immediate future will have the wide-spread influence for good that attaches to the Brevard Epworth School. Nothing of any importance can exist without friction, and this movement in the cause of education is not without opposition, although it is gradually breaking down all barriers, and bids fair to be an enduring monument to the christian charity and human love which exists in the ranks of the Epworth League in this state. The price of $50 a year, including board, tuition and expenses which can largely be paid in farm products, ought to put at least one child from every family in the upper French Broad valley in this institution for a year at least. The great object and aim of the school is to educate at least one from each family so that they may become missionaries to teach others. The mission of the school is a useful one, and Brevard ought to feel honored by the selection of its borders as the permanent home of the school. The News takes pleasure in endorsing and commending this school to the people of Brevard and the county, believing that it will yet be the means of great good to this beautiful and favored section. We are surely in need of education, and the liberal terms granted by Prof. Taylor and his assistants places it within the reach of all.

POISONING THE CHILD MIND

I wish to share with you some thoughts for parents by a writer whom I esteem very highly. He says:

One of the recent discoveries in the art of healing is the Therapeutic value of suggestion. That is to say, the physician by suggesting to the patient suffering from nervous disorder, sane and helpful thoughts about himself, can work a cure better oftentimes than by the use of drugs. The force of mental suggestion is so great that many fads, and even new religions have arisen which are based upon it. If the influence of good suggestion be so great, the influence of bad suggestion is even greater.

I wish to call attention to one form of character poisoning of which parents are frequently guilty:

Perhaps the worst misfortune that can happen to a person is to be infected with GERMS OF FEAR, to lack decision and self confidence, to be a prey to the terrors of morbidity and doubt of self. Who can tell the mortal pain, shame and self torture of the innumerable victims of chronic fear? Frequently parents are responsible for this. A boy, for instance, develops some inborn trait of waywardness; he is untruthful, will not apply himself, is careless, disobedient, or persists in keeping bad company; the parent naturally tells him of his fault, and as it seems to do no good, drops into a constant practice of scolding. Over and over the boy is reminded that he is "bad" and so on. This finally fits in the child's subconsciousness and then the irremediable damage, for when he comes to believe in his submind that he is bad, he is bad.

Why not try to find the cause of your child's defects, and remove it? When you KNOW that blame and reproof do no good, why go on?

We do not realize that it is a crime to say to any child under any circumstances that he is BAD, WEAK or VISCIOUS. When you do that you are planting a seed of damage in his mind.

Many a woman has been wrecked because her life was poisoned when she was a child by unceasing mental suggestions from her mother that she was naughty, wicked, unreliable or untruthful.

Many a man is a weak failure in the struggles of mature life simply because the cult of failure was carefully instilled into his childish mind by his thoughtless parents.

Dwell upon and encourage the good that is in your child. Ignore his defects as far as possible. Learn how to shut your eyes. Above all, do not tell him he is wicked. Show him his faults, but never in public, not in sacred intimacy. Show him the consequences of wrong doing, but enlist his aid in opposing his bad traits. Persistently suggest to him that he is good, brave, strong and truthful. In after life this belief of yours in him will tone up his self respects and give him strength in his hours of crisis.

A PRAYER

Blessed God, give us wisdom and grace as parents to be such teachers of our children as Thou wouldst have us be. Guard us from the danger of character poisoning of which parents are frequently guilty. Help us to find the cause of our child's defects and remove them with Thy help, well knowing that blame and reproof do no good. Bring home to our hearts the fact that it is a crime to say to any child under any circumstances that he is bad, weak or vicious for when we do this we are planting a seed of damage in the child's mind.

O, give us grace to dwell upon and encourage the good that is in our child, to ignore his defects as far as possible, and learn to shut our eyes.

And the praise and glory shall be thine, O Blessed God, Father, Son and Spirit, forever and ever. Amen. —C. D. C.

Produce merchants in thirteen states have sent trucks into the Hamburg section of Jackson county this year to buy cabbages. Growers are getting fair prices for their product and the demand is heavy, says County Agent G. R. Lackey.
