SUPPORT MUST BE GIVEN N. C. LAWS

By majority vote, people of North Carolina said Tuesday that they did not want the 18th amendment repealed, that they preferred to stay under such provisions and it is now up to the people to support the laws which they have evidenced faith in. Support of the state's prohibition laws will call for more than has been given in the past. The national law governing whiskey sale is a thing of the past now, and upon the people of the state of North Carolina, by choice of majority, was thrust yesterday a job that will require the best effort that can be put forth.

It was a great and decisive victory for the dry—for one day—greatness of the victory remains to be proven by the people themselves in the task that is ahead.

SUPPORT THE RED CROSS

The very least thing Transylvania county people can do next week is sign up without hesitation when canvassers for the Red Cross annual roll call come around.

If there is a debt really owed by any community to an organization, it is the one owed by people of this community to the Red Cross, not just because it is a great humanitarian association, but putting it on a flat basis of dollars and cents every adult in the county signing up and giving the dollar for membership will not take care of the sum spent here during the year 1933 for relief of destitution.

But repayment is not being asked.... that would be impossible. The American Red Cross does not look at things in a dollar and cents way, it is founded on the principle of service, and does not ask "What will you give in return for this help you say is so badly needed?.... but rather "Take this and use it to best advantage; your need is great; we are glad to help."

Four thousand adults in Transylvania county should take a pride and pleasure in joining the Red Cross next week.

NOT UNMINDFUL—

Saturday is November 11th. Does that mean anything to you? Can you remember fifteen years ago how happy you were on Nov. 11th?

Forget-Me-Not Day will be observed Saturday, and as the little blue flower is pinned on the lapel, try to remember these lines:

"Little pale blossom of tint sky blue
Why are you worn today?
Why is everyone buying you?
What do you stand for, pray?"

"I stand for a cross in Flanders field
And the Marne, and the Wood of Belleau;
For the khaki line that would not yield—
For the prayers from lips that Death has sealed—
I stand for wounds that have not healed,
And Hospital Beds in a row.

"I stand for horrors and wounds and scars,
For bodies shattered and torn;
For battlefields reeking beneath the stars
With sacrifices to the War-God Mars;
For an end to the reign of Kings and Czars;
And for mothers and wives that mourn.

"For the mem'ry of warriors racked with pain,
Mangled while facing the foe;
Belgian soil bears a crimson stain
Where they offered their all, unthink-
ing of gain,
(They know NOW their sacrifice was not in vain!)
In their Hospital Beds in a row!"

Now that the election is over, what say we apply ourselves to getting Highway 284 completed. Have you written Congressman Weaver or Senator Reynolds about it?

See by the papers that an eminent Britisher spoke recently on "debt worthiness" with special emphasis pointed toward Germany and several South American nations, growing because they were failing to make their promises to pay good.... suggest that he remind England of the few billions of dollars they owe the good old U. S.... sort of sweep around his own doorsteps, so to speak.

THERE IS ROOM FOR CRITICISM

Facts brought out at a hearing in Greenville, S. C., our neighbor on the south, bear out statements that have been made to the effect that cruelty, despotic and in its most inhuman form, is being used in treatment of chain gang prisoners.

Verdict rendered by a corner's jury places the death of a negro convict at the door of four prison officials, and should cause people to pay a little attention to the stories that have been going the rounds as to cruel treatment in Southern prison camps.

"That Roy Hudson came to his death as a result of a heart attack induced by exhaustion and severe corporal punishment inflicted by H. Posey Dill and B. C. Baker, assisted by Bill Forrester and Julius Hightower, they knowing at the time that the said Roy Hudson was in poor physical condition and was suffering from heart trouble,"—said the verdict.

Of course he was only a negro, and perhaps a sorry sort of negro at that, but he was human nevertheless, and the dark age treatment given him at the hands of the guards should not go unpunished.

Greenville has long been clamoring for the murderers of an officer, wonder what they'll do about this case?

Some people in Henderson county seem to have had the idea for several weeks that the Federal Relief agency ought to put out a lot of money in that county, and put it out when, where, and how these "some people" wanted it put.... sorry, folks, the Federal Government is running that end of it as near right as they know how.

One of our subscribers in another town writes in and asks "whose fault was it that football was stopped at Brevard high?" Sorry we didn't make it plain in last week's Times, and for his information we state specifically—it was no fault of the coaches or management.

Well, anyway, the election served one good purpose—it kept people's minds wondering how the vote would go Tuesday.

TO THE DOCTORS AND NURSES AT LYDAY HOSPITAL

(In appreciation of the kind, sympathetic and efficient service extended to our dear brother's wife, Mrs. Frank Wolfe, who was a patient at the Lyday Memorial hospital, Brevard, N. C., during the recent weeks, and for the kind and sympathetic treatment extended the writer and other relatives and friends who entered that institution as visitors during her illness, these lines are very respectfully dedicated.)

Your services, kind and efficient,
Rendered to our brother's wife,
Please rest assured was quite sufficient.

To make of us a friend for life.
To you she was but just "A Patient,"
But to us a loved one dear,
And for your kind consideration
While serving her we thank you here.

Your tireless efforts we observe;
Watched you hurry to and fro;
As soldiers to the end you served,
No spirit of retreat did show.

So, in this humble line or two,
We've tried to do our best,
To render thanks we feel you're due,
But it in words can't be expressed.

WE WERE "BUDDIES" OVER THERE

He may vote a different ticket to the ticket that I vote;
May take part in lots of things that I wouldn't help promote;
But you needn't try to tell me things to make me hate or doubt him,
For we were "Buddies" over there, and I know all about him.

You needn't praise the man nor curse him, and say that he is that or this.

You needn't smile at him when passing nor at the fellow hiss,
For to me he is a hero, and as such a place he'll share
In my heart, for listen, brother, we were "Buddies" over there.

He might have a lot of habits that you and others would condemn,
But how many can you mention who are free from all of them?

Think just what you please about him, praise or curse him, I don't care,
For I've seen him tried and tested, we were "Buddies" over there.

I'd like once more to meet those fellows who so squarely played the game.

Whether they have met misfortune, or have won both wealth and fame.

I'd like to thank them for the kindness shown to me while over there,

For within my heart forever an honored place those boys shall share.

GLANCING BACK AT BREVARD

Taken from the files of The Sylvan Valley News, beginning 1895, through the courtesy of Mrs. W. B. F. Wright.

(From the file of Oct. 15, 1897)

The new Episcopal rectory is completed and is a model of neatness and comfort for a resident rector. It is commodious and well arranged, especially for receptions, and is a credit to the church which planned and built it. St. Philips deserves congratulations.

The West End store of T. H. Galloway has struck "Prosperity" and is bidding for trade with a new advertisement. Look at it, and then go and look at the goods—and buy what you need.

Playing with a cider mill isn't a healthy occupation for boy's fingers. Jess Smith, the 5-year-old son of John E. Smith, who had two fingers terribly lacerated in the cogs of a cider mill last Saturday. It may yet be found necessary to amputate them.

T. L. Clark went fishing last Saturday with little Jim Morgan, and reports catching 285 mountain trout. It hadn't rained in six weeks and the streams were low and clear, so that fish wouldn't bite. He doesn't state what kind of bait he used, nor how many "sticks" it required to "catch" them.

Dr. Greenwood, the dentist who has been in Brevard the better part of two years, left with his family on the Wednesday morning train for a winter sojourn in Florida. Wherever he may locate he takes with him the kind remembrance of our citizens, among whom he has made many friends.

W. L. Hume has sold a lot on Park avenue to C. C. Kilpatrick who will proceed to build a cottage on the same at an early date.

An accident which contains some elements of mystery occurred at the mill belonging to Moxie Glazener on Whitmire mill creek in the Eastate section on Saturday last. The mystery is due to the fact that no witnesses were present and no cries of distress reached the ears of any one. Mr. Glazener, having other business to transact, employed Mr. Whitmire to run the mill during the day. He was an experienced hand and knew the machinery as well as any one could know it. A woman brought the first turn to be ground in the morning and Mr. Whitmire proceeded to start the mill. The woman left, intending to return for her grist later.

An hour and a half after this a little boy named Aiken came to the mill and found the mill running and Mr. Whitmire apparently hugging the big shaft and revolving with it. Failing to get a response to any of his inquiries he ran to a neighboring house and gave the alarm. When help reached the mill and the big wheel was stilled it was found that Mr. Whitmire had been dead for some time—how long no one can tell. It appeared that his coat had caught in the gudgeon of the wheel and that it was too strong for him to tear loose. When found one foot was entirely gone and the other terribly lacerated and torn to pieces. The theory seems to be that his feet got entangled in the machinery in some unaccountable way, that an artery was severed and he bled to death but in the absence of witnesses all is supposition.

Two death records mark this week, that of Mrs. George W. Hart, of the Little River section, who died at her home at the age of 63. The funeral was conducted by Rev. E. Allison. Ethan Wilson, of the upper French Broad valley, died Tuesday, aged 81 years. The funeral was conducted by Rev. L. A. Falls.

The beautiful home of Mrs. A. E. Floyd on North Caldwell street, near the corporate limits, has been sold to Mrs. Woodbridge, of Asheville—consideration $1,550. It is understood that Mrs. Woodbridge will make her home here in future. It is said that Mrs. Floyd will move to South Carolina in the near future, where she has valuable farm property.

The unexpected sometime happens. Emma and Maggie Brown, daughters of Mrs. Miner, have been in Pelzer factory the past year, came home on a visit yesterday, and brought happiness to their mother.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Sorrells were in from the Pinked valley Wednesday. Mr. Sorrells reported that he was a victim of the Western Carolina bank failure to the tune of $500 which was on deposit in that institution.

F. Henderson will have a supply of Bryan books on hand about the 20th, and will begin at once to deliver them to subscribers. All who have signed for this book are earnestly requested to be ready for them when he calls.

County Agent H. K. Sanders says nitrate of soda and a three year crop rotation caused an additional yield of 33 bushels of corn per acre for a grower conducting a demonstration with the soda this season.

C. L. Reynolds of Cummock Lee County, reports harvesting 600 pounds of lint cotton per acre from 25 acres of land this fall. The cotton was an improved Cleveland strain.

AT THE CLEMSON THEATRE

Laughs galore, mingled with situations that are everything out of the ordinary, but holding a continuity that makes Friday and Saturday offering at the Clemson Theatre one that is destined to drive all the cares of an average life away. Zasu Pitts, Charles Farrell, William Garzan and Wynne Gibson appear in "Aggie Appleby, Maker of Men" on these two days. An Our Gang comedy is also booked.

Another laugh maker is slated for Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 13 and 14, with the inimitable Zasu Pitts again taking a stellar role, together with Jack Pearl and Jimmy Durante. "Meet the Baron" is guaranteed as a laugh maker supreme and after seeing both the Friday-Saturday and the Monday-Tuesday pictures at the Clemson, Brevard ought to be a happier place to live.

One feature at the Clemson that many people have probably let go by unnoticed is the perfect heat of the auditorium never too hot, never too cold—just right—making any picture more enjoyable.

OAKLAND NEWS

(By Mrs. Lee F. Norton)

Mrs. Alfred Miller and Conrad Miller of Sapphire and Mrs. E. D. Reid made a combined business and pleasure trip to Greenville last week.

Mrs. S. E. Alexander spent two nights last week with her brother, E. D. Reid.

The many friends of Mrs. David Miller will be sorry to learn it became necessary to return her to the hospital.

Gus and J. B. Galloway spent two days last week visiting friends and relatives in our section.

T. E. Reid of Brevard was here on business Thursday.

Mrs. I. S. Sanders visited Mr. Frank Fisher one day last week.

Mrs. W. F. McCall and her mother visited Miss Even Sanders in Brevard Saturday.

Rev. J. K. Henderson and Alfred Hampton of Brevard were calling in our section Saturday afternoon.

Burny Robinson called at the home of Clarence Norborn Saturday.

Ray Sanders writes from Ft. Oglethorpe, Ga., that he passed all his examinations and is now just one of the boys.

J. L. Sanders of South Carolina and Lenny Sanders of Lake Toxaway were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Sanders.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Norton visited Mr. and Mrs. Cris Fisher at Lake Toxaway Sunday afternoon.

Waite Reid of Sapphire called Sunday afternoon on his sister, Mrs. Maggie Nicholson.

On our way to Brevard Saturday afternoon we picked up a lady who said she had been terribly annoyed by a crowd of drinking and reckless boys. When we asked her if she would like a lift she threw down a rock and said she certainly would. Said she was carrying the rock to defend herself if she came in contact with the boys again. Our advice to that crowd of young men is to change their way of going along the highway before they get into serious trouble. We know some of them read the Oakland news and they can repeat our advice to the rest of the guilty party.
