What About Paying Up?

FARM LOANS ARE PUT ON DIFFERENT BASIS

Under the new laws governing the work of the Farm Credit Administration, new machinery is being set up for the handling of seed and fertilizer loans beginning with the 1936 season. North Carolina farmers will handle their own credit needs with the aid of the Production Credit Corporation affiliated with the Land Bank at Columbia.

The new plan provides for farmers to secure adequate and permanent credit for producing crops, breeding, raising and fattening livestock and for the production of poultry and all livestock products. The Production Credit Corporation has a capital stock of $7,500,000 and will organize, provide the initial credit for and supervise the operation of local production credit associations in all communities where the need exists.

"It will be the duty of these associations to make loans directly to farmer-borrowers and the associations will, in turn, discount the farmers' notes directly with the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Columbia," says A. F. Lever in charge of public relations for the bank. "If ten or more farmers manifest an interest in forming an association,

REV. E. D. McMAHAN TO PREACH HERE SUNDAY

Announcement is made that the Rev. E. D. McMahan, of St. Paul, N. C., will preach at the Brevard Presbyterian church Sunday morning at eleven o'clock. All members of the church are especially urged to be present for this service.

THREE POUNDS JUNK IN MAN'S STOMACH

The practice of swallowing all sorts of articles by some lunatics is well known, but the discovery of 497 articles, weighing 3 1/4 pounds, in a man's stomach constitutes a record. An inquest was held at the County Mental Hospital, Upton, near Chester, England, on the body of a farmer, aged 28, who died in hospital following an operation. In his stomach were found 487 articles, which included 200 nails from half an inch to 4 1/2 inches long, 38 staples, 43 phonograph needles, 6 teapoons, 3 table forks, 7 coins, 6 brace buckles, 3 door keys, 3 penknives, 3 S-shaped meat hooks, 10 safety-pins, 4 sewing needles, 6 ordinary pins, 13 pieces of glass or earthen ware and 9 screws. The medical superintendent said that the man had a delusion that his stomach was too smooth. Death was due to pleurisy of the stomach and hemorrhage.—J. A. M. A.

R. L. Teague

R. L. Teague, 68, died at his home on Whitmore street Saturday night as result of a stroke suffered Saturday morning.

Funeral services were held at the residence Sunday night, with the Rev. Mr. Kellar officiating. Interment was made in Buncombe county on Monday.

Mr. Teague is survived by his widow and several children.

The Columbia Corporation will send a representative to the community to help arrange the matter. County farm agents will also help.

These associations are not to be set up to provide an easy way for farmers to go into debt but to help him get out and stay out of debt. Mr. Lever explains He says that anyone desiring definite information about how to organize one of the associations should talk over the matter with his farm agent or write directly to the Corporation at Columbia, South Carolina.

It is the belief of extension authorities at State College that his new plan will be found more satisfactory in the long run than the old seed loans of the past.

GLANCING BACK AT BREVARD

Taken from the files of The Sylvan Valley News, beginning 1895, through the courtesy of Mrs. W. B. F. Wright.

(From the file of Oct. 29, 1897)

Dr. M. M. King's new residence is nearing completion.

There seems to be a fatality among the dog species on the farm of M. J. Neely. Four dead canines were discovered near his stables Monday morning. They can well be spared—the fewer dogs the more mutton.

Dr. W. M. Horton dentist has come among our people as a permanent fixture. His office is located over Bell & Blythe store and in addition to his office work he will visit other sections of the county.

The wind rustled among the leaves Monday night in a manner to remind us forcibly of the prairie tumble weeds, leaving Main street in a similar condition. Mrs. McMinn and daughter Beulah set Brevardites a good example by sweeping the sidewalk in front of the McMinn house and making bonfires of the leaves in the gutter. Later we noticed teams hauling them away.

H. W. King of the Pinkbed valley brought in on Tuesday some fine apples which he found no trouble in selling. Samples of the Winesap, the largest we have ever seen, adorn the editor's table. Mr. King also remembered us with a dish of honey which made our rye bran fritter cakes lots better for breakfast.

It is our sad duty to record the death of Mrs. Thomas Paxton, well known and respected resident of the Greenwood section. For many years the family of Thomas Paxton have been faithful tenants on the farm of J. A. Galloway and have earned the respect of all who know them. Interment Saturday evening was at Mt. Moriah cemetery.

The first car load of lumber for use in the contemplated improvement of the Mrs. Woodbridge cottage came in Tuesday. The additions to this already commodious residence are quite extensive. We are informed that wing extensions on two sides will be constructed, a servant's house built and a new roof over all. It is also stated that the present barn will be enlarged and improved, and when completed this will be the most commodious and attractive home in Brevard, excepting only that of Mrs. Boardman. Pat McGuire, who was contractor on the Episcopal rectory, will have charge of the work.

What move is Brevard making to secure a water supply? There can be no more pressing need than this great auxiliary of cleanliness and health, and it is the duty of our people to be up and doing in this regard. Wells are nearly all dry or failing, and are supplying only enough water for culinary purposes. The laundry work is all done in the suburbs where running water abounds and any of the streams that are used as a base for laundry operations could be used in the most elevated room in Brevard by simply furnishing a pipe for it to run in. Let's make an effort to supply ourselves, even if we issue bonds and borrow money to make a beginning. Who will take the lead in this matter?

Wheat has declined 14 cents a bushel, cotton last week reached the lowest price ever known in this country yet that wave of McKinley prosperity has come "to stay." Will voters never learn that there can be no permanent prosperity on a gold basis? More redemption money is imperatively demanded and no substantial improvement can occur under present conditions. Are you not getting tired of promises which never materialize?

It is our sad duty to chronicle another bank failure in Asheville—sad because it brings that city into deeper disgrace. The National Bank of Asheville closed its doors at 11 o'clock on Friday last, making the third failure in less than 90 days. There is no doubt but this will have a damaging influence not only in the city itself but throughout the western part of the state. Asheville is the acknowledged metropolis and anything to her detriment is felt more or less by all surrounding towns. This failure is not chargeable to mismanagement or dishonesty—simply a lack of business brought on by the prosperity boom which "is here to stay."

MISS BRENDEL NEW NURSE AT HOSPITAL

Miss Georgia Brendel, of Douglas, Ga., has been secured as superintendent of Lyday Memorial hospital, and assumed her new duties the first of the week.

Miss Brendel comes to Brevard highly recommended for such work. She is a graduate of the University Hospital, Augusta, Ga., and has been engaged in post graduate work at Emory University hospital, Emory University, Georgia, for the past several months. She is ranked an outstanding post graduate student, a young woman of pleasing personality and thoroughly capable of the position for which she has been selected.

A production credit association with a capital stock of $20,000 has been organized by Carteret County farmers.

MANY STUDENTS ON TRAINING COURSE IN HONOR ROLL AT H. S. ADULT SCHOOL WORK

ORGAN RECITAL DELIGHT TO MANY PEOPLE HERE

Those in Brevard who love beautiful music were recently given an hour of real delight. On Monday evening of this week they had the privilege of hearing Mrs. Nobie Simons in an organ recital at the Methodist church.

Ever since she became a resident of Brevard this gifted woman has enriched the lives of her townsfolk with the gracious and generous gift of her music. And never was it more beautifully bestowed than on this latest occasion.

The program was made up entirely of selections from Handel's Oratorio, The Messiah.

One can not put into words the emotions stirred by Handel's music. It was pure beauty that Mrs. Simons drew from the organ—beauty amid which the sad and ugly things of life were forgotten, and one lived, for that little while, in a world where all was good and lovely.

I am sure that all who were present would wish to join in this little tribute of grateful appreciation to Mrs. Simons who has thus beautifully ushered in for us the Christmas spirit.

Thanks are also extended to Mr. Simons, who made the announcements and gave some interesting information regarding the Oratorio; also to Mrs. O. L. Erwin, at whose request—in behalf of the Music Lovers' club—Mrs. Simons consented to give the recital.

Cullowhee, Dec. 5—A one-week training course for those who will soon conduct adult schools throughout Western North Carolina under the auspices of the Civil Works Administration will begin at Western Carolina Teachers College here on December 11th.

The project that will follow the training school here will give employment to approximately 50 unemployed teachers of the mountain section. The adult schools will last over a period of four months and will be organized in the home counties of the teachers. Adults will be taught in the academic subjects as well as in vocational and homemaking courses. The teachers will be paid $13.50 a week for their work.

The teachers will also be paid $13.50 for the week that they are attending the training school at Western Carolina Teachers College. The training course here will be in methods of teaching adults and in methods to be used in teaching home economics and vocational subjects. The college has agreed to furnish room and board to the students of the training school for $1.00 per day.

President H. T. Hunter of Western Carolina Teachers College will be general director of the Cullowhee training school. Miss Pearl Weaver of Asheville is in charge of the project. Among the teachers during the training school will be Mrs. J. M. Day, Director of Buncombe County night schools, and Miss Susan M. Burson, state supervisor of home economics.

C. E. Allen is head of the faculty committee here that is making local arrangements for the training school. He is being assisted by J. S. Seymour, Mary Elizabeth Maddux, Alice Benton, and members of the music faculty. Lectures will be given during the school by faculty members.

The unemployed teachers, in order to be eligible for this work, must be selected and approved by county or city superintendents of education and by local directors of welfare. The teachers must be eligible for relief. Soon as selections for the training school have been made, school superintendents are asked to notify Mrs. Day, Asheville, or President Hunter, Cullowhee.
