Township meetings are to be held on Friday prior to the Brevard meeting, at which time township chairmen and committees will be selected and delegates chosen to represent the townships at the county convention.

Business to come before the convention will be naming of a county ticket, selection of executive committees and other matters.

Charlotte, April 11.—The North Carolina Republican "old guard" surrendered to the demand of insurgents for "new leadership" at the state convention here on Wednesday of last week and William C. Meekins, of Hendersonville, was elected chairman of the state executive committee upon the withdrawal of State Chairman James S. Duncan, of Greensboro, as a candidate.

Duncan's decision to abandon his bid here is seeing things different now. He was told that people in the

People In Brevard Didn't Like Money Making Scheme Presented By Outsider

Brevard was paid a visit on Wednesday by an enterprising young man who wanted to help "some worthy organization" make money by putting on a "home talent play" in which all the characters would be local, the expense borne by local people, the gate receipts paid by local people, and if there should happen to be any money left after the director got her cut for royalty fees, costume charges, board for director, traveling expense from the last town, and a hundred and one other items, if there should happen to be any of the gate receipts left, local organization would get that.

Several people the enterprising young man talked to told him very frankly that Brevard has no money to send to Atlanta to pay for a director when there are plenty of people in the community very able to direct a play, and further that the last such event that happened in Brevard netted the local organization the princely sum of $11 after the various whack-ups were taken out by the director, and that people in general here don't like to do that kind of business.

It was pointed out by some of the people who talked to the enterprising and altogether pleasing young man

FISHING SEASON OPENS IN THE COUNTY MONDAY

With the fishing season officially scheduled to open on Monday morning of next week, many sportsmen in the county are oiling and cleaning the trusty reel, looking over last year's tackle and making plans to "hit the water" bright and early Monday morning.

Reports are to the effect that several people have been unable to stand the strain of wishing for the season to open and have already been wetting their flies before time, regardless of the fact that the law governing seasons explicitly sets forth stiff penalty for such violation.

OPENING CONNESTEE BIG STEP FORWARD

Hendersonville Leader Congratulates Brevard For Added Attraction

Many people from various sections were visitors at Conneestee Falls last Sunday, they having learned through newspapers of the fact that no charges are to be made for entering the grounds. The following letter from E. W. Ewbank, of Hendersonville attorney and leader, is expressive of the general sentiment in regard to opening of the falls to the public:

"I noticed in the press that your club has interested itself in Conneestee Falls; that these falls will be opened for public enjoyment this summer; that certain work is to be done, etc., etc. I just want to say that I think this an excellent move. I have personally visited all the waterfalls worthy of that name in your county. I visit many of them each year. I do not think there is any one spot, easily accessible, comparable to the Conneestee Falls in its appeal to the visitor of other climes. With proper trails and appeal for keeping the place clean Brevard has in these falls a unique pleasure spot not easily matched. It has been a great pity that the commercialization spirit has encroached upon so many of the mountains. I am glad to see Conneestee come from under its spell.

"Very truly yours,
"John Ewbank"

"Welcome To Brevard" Organization Takes Over Chamber Commerce Work

"Welcome to Brevard," a community organization through which people will be brought to this section, located, and made to feel that Transylvania county is a place where their presence is appreciated, was organized in a meeting held at the county court house Monday night.

The "Welcome to Brevard" group plans to begin immediately on an advertising campaign in several sections of the county, and lay plans for entertaining the large host of visitors expected to be here for the summer season.

Officers elected at the meeting Monday night include: Harry H. Patton, president; Dr. C. L. Newland, vice president; Jerry Jerome, secretary; Oliver H. Orr, treasurer; S. M. Macfie, Edward J. A membership committee of ten people was appointed by President Patton to begin work at once in canvassing the entire section for memberships in the "Welcome to Brevard" movement, special stress being laid on the fact that it is everybody's interests that are being looked to, and therefore, everybody is expected to assist in the work and expense of operation.

Membership fees were set at a minimum of five dollars per mem-

Patton Appointed To Head Control Unit In North and South Carolina

T. Ed Patton, former Transylvania sheriff, received his official notice last Friday from Washington to the effect that his appointment as chief of the alcoholic beverage control unit for North and South Carolina was a fact.

Senators Reynolds and Bailey had made the appointment several months ago, final o. k. being held up on account of a stiff fight being waged by South Carolinians for appointment as chief of a man from that state, inasmuch as Herbert Guley of Raleigh, North Carolina, had already received appointment as chief inspector. The position pays $3,800 per year.

Mr. Patton left here Tuesday for Charlotte where he was given the oath of office and assumed charge.

Mr. Patton is regarded as an able man for the office, his experience as an executive and law enforcement officer ranging over a long period.

For 10 years he served Transylvania in official capacities, six years as county treasurer and four as sheriff and tax collector. A strong party man, Mr. Patton has been a mainstay of the Democratic party in this section of the State. In this he followed in the footsteps of his father Captain T. T. Patton, who, in his younger days, served as county official in various positions of trust.

Mr. Patton was born in Buncombe county in 1884. He is a direct descendant of James Patton who emigrated from Ireland to this section in 1798. Captain T. T. Patton, his father, served as a member of the Home Guards during the War Between the States, beginning service at the age of 16. His mother, before her marriage, was Miss Emma Weaver of Polk county.

Moving from the old Patton homestead just east of Asheville at a place now known as Ambler heights, the Patton family settled here when Thomas Edward was 10 years old. Later he became active in his father's mercantile and livestock business. While still in his teens he went into business for himself. He later became superintendent of the Brevard Tannin company at Pisgah Forest, serving in the capacity for 15 years.

In 1907, Mr. Patton was married to Miss Janie Davis, daughter of the Rev. W. H. Davis, a Presbyterian minister. They have one daughter, Rebecca.

DUCKWORTH OUT FOR GENERAL ASSEMBLY

W. H. Duckworth, representative from this county in the General Assembly of 1933, makes announcement that he is again seeking nomination on the Democratic ticket for the post.

Mr. Duckworth is well known in the county, having served three terms as county treasurer, member of the board of education and member of the Brevard school board for 15 years, during which time the first brick school building was erected here. He has been actively connected with public affairs and farming interests in the county during his lifetime.

An exponent of the sales tax, he is of the opinion that while there should be every economy practiced in state governmental units, no more fair tax has been levied than the sales tax, which he points out, has placed at least a part of the state tax for schools and other purposes on every person, instead of a great amount of tax upon the home and farm owner.

BANK SHOWS PROFIT DURING PAST YEAR

Liquidation of the Brevard Banking company for the year 1933 was carried on at a profit, according to report of the commissioner of banks filed with the Superior court here during the present term and passed upon by Judge Finley.

Income from interest on notes, rents, and miscellaneous as listed in the report prepared by Pat Kimzey, liquidating agent, showed a total of $6,833.77 for the year.

Expenses of liquidation, including salaries, fees, court costs, insurance, taxes and supervision amounted to $4,802.14 making an operation profit of $2,031.63.

Headed under expenses, which amounts were taken from the earnings of the bank without tapping the resources are: Attorney's fees—$315.95; salary Pat Kimzey—$309.87; salary Miss Laura Clayton—$705.00; salary Mrs. Hazel Owen—$46.67; insurance and taxes—$1,178.71.

NEW RELIEF SETUP WILL BE EFFECTIVE

Case Load Will Be Materially Reduced—Only Relief Work Be Done

Records in the local relief office are being transferred from the CWA setup to that of Farm Rehabilitation and Works Division, according to W. A. Wilson, director, and work on projects approved by the state board will have work resumed on them within a few days.

Work to be done, however, Mr. Wilson said, will be strictly on a relief basis, and not as the former CWA method.

Farm rehabilitation work is being mapped out for the various communities, and it is expected that need for the more needy families will be procured through the federal government. Announcement of arrival of seed will be made in the various communities by supervisors who are being appointed by the local office.

It is very probable that the local office of the re-employment will be closed within a few days.

One of the major projects in the county is the swimming pool and park in Brevard.

Fish and Game Protective Association Is Organized For Transylvania County

Another meeting of the organization is called for Tuesday night, April 17, at which time it is hoped that at least 150 people from all sections of the county will be present.

protection of fish and game, and a water-tight organization whose membership would see to it that fish and game laws were strictly adhered to, that more advantages would be given small fish to raise, and that every person interested in the welfare of the county from a financial standpoint if not from that of a sportsman would join in restocking the forests, fields and streams.

Tom Cushing, of Asheville, recognized as one of the leading sportsmen of the section, and who is regularly heard over station WWNC each Wednesday night at 9:15 o'clock on some phase of fishing and hunting, stressed the fact that protecting and propagating of fish in Western North Carolina was not to be looked at from the standpoint of sport alone, but from a money-making view.

Mr. Cushing, who is a retired business man, said that this section could be made one that would need no advertising whatever in order to get a class of people to come here regularly, a class of people who can afford to, and do, spend money—fishermen and hunters. These peo-
