FIRST YEAR HOME ECONOMICS CLASS GIVES PROGRAM

The first year home economics class under the supervision of Miss Margaret Greene gave an entertaining chapel program entitled "The Bachelors Dilemma," Friday.

Cast of characters were: The Bachelor, Frank Chappell; an old fashioned girl, Barbara Anderson; a very untidy peasant girl, Helen Fisher; a ten-cent store type of girl, Helen Summey; a flapper, Lucy Galloway; a very neat and attractive type of girl, Hazel Moore.

The bachelor decides to advertise for a housekeeper. The old fashioned girl is ignorant of dish washing and floor cleaning. The True Story magazine with its sobby story absorbs the peasant girl who reads as she pretends to wash the dishes. More confusion and dirt is the result of the negro woman and her pickaninnyes around. While dividing her attention in flirting with the bachelor and primping the flapper loses out. The young attractive girl in a neatly made costume is the housekeeper he has been looking for so he changes his "Housekeeper Wanted" sign to "Wife Wanted" which she agrees to become.

SHRUBBERY DONATED

ROSMAN—The students and patrons of the Rosman High School and Elementary School are donating shrubbery to make the grounds more attractive, for the school campus should have flowers and shrubbery as well as the lawns of private homes.

PENROSE NEWS

(By N. L. Ponder)

The Penrose school boys engaged the Davidson River school Monday afternoon in an interesting game. Penrose boys could not swat the out curves that Pat Poore placed so well and the Davidson River boys hit Penrose hard. Penrose did some awkward fielding too. So that's it. Davidson River got the long end of a score of 23-3. The teams are expected to play at Penrose next Monday.

Penrose folks who attended the Friday evening prayer meetings find some interest in hearing Bible stories told from the Old Testament by speakers who do their parts well. The program for next Friday is a study of the Patriarchs.

AT THE CLEMSON THEATRE

Walter Huston, Francis Dee, Minna Gombell are stellar players in the red-blooded Romance, "Keep 'Em Rolling," that is scheduled at the Clemson for Friday and Saturday. Officers and enlisted men of the 16th Field Artillery are also a great part of this picture. An Out Gang comedy and a novelty subject round out the program for Friday and Saturday.

Douglas Fairbanks and Colleen Moore in "Success at Any Price" are to appear at the Clemson on Monday and Tuesday of next week, in a picture that will appeal to the young, middle-aged and the old. What is success as the world knows the word, worth?

Short subjects are also on the bill for Monday and Tuesday.

WIDELY KNOWN MAN DIED LAST TUESDAY

GREENVILLE, April 18—Charles Manning Furman, Sr., 94, professor emeritus of Clemson college, died last Thursday afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Constance F. Herbert, in Bishopville after a brief illness.

He was descended from an old and prominent South Carolina family. Mr. Furman was a Confederate veteran, serving with distinction during the four-year period of the war, entering the service as a private and emerging from that conflict with the rank of captain. He was among the oldest living graduates of Furman university, Greenville institution founded by his grandfather, Richard Furman, and he was the son of the first president of Furman, the late Dr. James C. Furman.

In 1877 Mr. Furman came to Greenville and for about 10 years engaged in the practice of law. He served for a term as assistant United States district attorney for the western district of South Carolina, under President Grover Cleveland. In 1890 he was elected to the chair of English at Clemson college, retiring from that position in 1912 with the title of Professor Emeritus. At one time Mr. Furman lived in Kentucky, when engaged in teaching at Bethel college.

Since his retirement, Mr. Furman divided his time with his children, who live in widely separated parts of the United States, enjoying to the fullest extent the long span of life allotted to him, and with it all being blessed with a remarkable vitality, until his most recent illness.

Mr. Furman was married twice. His first wife, Mrs. Fannie Garden Furman, died in 1884. To this union the following sons and daughters survive: Alester G. Furman and Charles M. Furman, Jr., of Greenville; Mrs. Constance F. Herbert of Bishopville and Mrs. Annie F. Pendleton of Brevard, N. C. His second wife was Mrs. Sallie V. Furman, who died in 1927, and his children by this marriage who survive are:

WILLIAM D. COBB IS BURIED ON TUESDAY

William David Cobb, 68, of Caesar's Head, died Sunday morning at his home at the lodge at the Head after an illness of slightly more than a month.

Mr. Cobb was a native of Alabama, having moved to Greenville county nine years ago from Greenwood, where he lived for a number of years. He conducted a business establishment and service station at Caesar's Head.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Camilla Franklin Cobb, and by two sons, Lieut. Arthur Cobb, of the 83rd Regiment of Field Artillery, United States Army, stationed at Fort Benning, Ga., and William D. Cobb, Jr., also of the army stationed in Honolulu.

He also leaves a sister, Mrs. I. B. Hill, of Mt. Meigs, Ala. Mr. Cobb was a member of the Baptist church. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 5:00 o'clock at the Mackey Mortuary, Greenville, conducted by Dr. William L. Ball, pastor of Earle Street Baptist church. The body accompanied by the family was taken to Union Springs, Ala., where funeral services and interment were held Tuesday afternoon.

James C. Furman of Jersey City N. J., Mrs. Sarah F. Pakenham of New York and Mrs. Kitty F. Coles of Chestnut Hills, Mass.

He was a member of the Baptist church at Clemson. Funeral services were held in Greenville Friday morning at 11 o'clock. The interment was made in Springwood cemetery.

The instant a man brings up the subject of thrift his wife demands that he quit smoking cigars and playing golf.
