

AUTO WRECK FATAL TO DR. D. D. CARROLL

Dr. Delia Dixon Carroll, 62, first practicing woman physician in the state, received fatal injuries Wednesday of last week in an automobile wreck at Raleigh. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at Raleigh, where she had made her home for several years.

A member of a distinguished pioneer family, Dr. Carroll was a sister of Thomas Dixon, author of "The Clansman" and other widely read books. Another of her brothers was the late Clarence Dixon, a noted Baptist minister of London, England.

Survivors are her husband, Dr. Norwood G. Carroll, one brother, Thomas Dixon of New York and one sister, Mrs. Mae Dixon Thacker of Norfolk, Va.

For nearly two years Mrs. John Brown of Brevard nursed Dr. Carroll's mother, and has spent a good deal of time at the Carrolls', "Norwood Hill," in Raleigh.

OBITUARY

The Angel of Death has visited our community and brought sadness to many hearts. John G. Neill departed this life May 15, 1934, after an illness of two weeks.

He was born March 8, 1853, age 81 years, two months and eight days. "Grandpa" as he was commonly known to everyone, professed faith in God early in life and joined English Chapel M. E. church, of which he lived a faithful member until God called him home.

He was united in marriage to Lydia S. English February 20, 1876. To this union was born five children, three girls and two boys. Two girls preceded him to the heavenly home several years ago.

The living are Mrs. W. R. West and Vernon L. Neill of Pisgah Forest and Avery C. Neill of New Mexico, also a half-sister, Mrs. Sid Cox of Hendersonville. Grandpa will be greatly missed by all who knew him.

In his declining years he was unable to attend church but he enjoyed having services in his home and welcomed everyone with a smile. People would visit him and go away feeling nearer to God just to hear him express his faith in the Heavenly Father. In his sickness he was patient and submissive to the Father's will until he became unconscious three days before the end came.

Funeral services were conducted at English Chapel by Rev. H. L. Southers and the pastor, Rev. Will Warren. The remains were laid to rest in Davidson River cemetery.

Pall bearers were composed of grandsons. Flower girls were granddaughters. "A precious one from us is gone, A voice we loved is still. A place is vacant in our home Which never can be filled."

A GRANDDAUGHTER.

SELICA NEWS

(By Ward Breedlove)

The spiritual trend of our community seems to be on the upgrade at this writing. Four sermons were delivered in the center of the locality Sunday. Rev. Price of Brevard, Rev. Hall of Rosman, Rev. Corn of Gladly Branch and Rev. Southers of Johns Rock CCC delivered splendid sermons. Reasonable numbers attended the services yet at least half of our community did not hear a word that was preached. (Oh, Zion, how long wilt thou sleep!)

The community club met again Monday night and was well attended and much interest was manifested. We were encouraged by the attendance. Many of the ladies, it is hoped, as soon as the garden program is carried out, will arrange other entertainment which will also be of great worth to the community.

A number of our folks went to Brevard last Saturday in the interest of the county fair which will be held in September. Much interest was expressed in this work. We hope the fair grounds at the county home will be completed by this date.

There was much excitement in our community Saturday night and Sunday when it was announced that a Robison of near Lake Toxaway and taken right out of the yard of one of citizens while the owner was attending a dance in a nearby home. We are not saying that the dance caused the theft but if all parties concerned knew what could be revealed there might be a difference.

Folks come out to our community club next Monday night.

Mrs. George McKinna is still on the sick list.

Dewey McCall and son James visited Mr. and Mrs. Preston Galloway Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Barnes have moved to the Preston Galloway cottage here.

Miss Altice Barton of Brevard visited parents and friends here the past week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McDowell of Anderson, S. C., and Herbert Eugene Dickson were visiting J. W. Dickson.

W. W. Galloway will give a lecture at the union Sunday school next Sunday. The subject will be "The wrong end of the road to success." All who hear Mr. Galloway will appreciate his good expressions.

Mrs. Tom McKinna is visiting her parents at Dacusville during the serious illness of her father, Pink Galloway.

Mrs. J. P. Hogsd and son Fulton and nephew G. D. McCall were visitors of Mrs. Ward Breedlove Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Crate McCall of Cashiers were visiting here Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Burton of Lake Alfred, Fla., announce the birth of a daughter. Mrs. Burton will be remembered as Miss Ruth Johnson, formerly of this place.

Wesley McCall and J. P. Hogsd visited the Wolf Mountain section recently.

Mrs. Bill Williams will have as her guests Mr. and Mrs. Lovis Hensley, who it is announced will spend the summer here. We are sure this will add much to the contentment of Mother Williams, as her husband is away from home much of the time.

R. W. Breedlove has re-purchased his farm here through a federal loan and hopes to begin improvements soon.

Fred Whitmire and Elzie Barton were Brevard visitors Saturday.

J. P. Whitmire is recovering from a broken hand and other injuries received recently in a fall.

It is announced that Rev. Harvey Southers will preach at the Methodist church next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. All are invited to attend.

We are proud of the many improvements being done on the farm of J. N. Whitmire in lower Selica section and hope to see others do likewise.

Veterans Stage Parade Urging Bonus

Washington—Washington's annual parade of veterans surged past the White House and Capitol Saturday with urgent pleas for payment of the bonus. In the ragged ranks—650 strong—were many who followed the fruitless path last year and the year before. Once again on eridely painted banners and in lusty throated chants they demanded the bonus in cash.

Miss Eliza Henry, of Brevard, whose marriage to Mr. Oscar Vaughn of Gastonia, will take place in June, was the inspiration of a pretty and shower given Wednesday afternoon at the Armstrong apartments in Gastonia by Misses Doris Martin, Ruth Finley, Mary Elizabeth Hunter and Mary Virginia Howard.

Summer flowers in pastel shades were used in arranging the rooms, where four tables of contract were in play. Miss Henry's place was marked by a shoulder bouquet of Claudius Pernet roses.

The hostesses' gift to the honor guest was a lovely set of breakfast china, and later in the afternoon she was presented with a shower of

BENEFIT PLAY WILL PROVE GOOD SHOW

(Contributed)

Some persons have expressed doubt as to our ability to produce successfully in Brevard George S. Kaufman's play, "The Butter and Egg Man." This play was chosen because certain people who are in position to know thought it would be a hit in Brevard. Professor Frederick H. Koch, director of the Carolina Playmakers, writes: "I think you would have no difficulty in doing the 'Butter and Egg Man' there." This play was put on very successfully at Chapel Hill and with a cast that was no better than a cast we have gotten together here.

Hendersonville has an excellent Little Theatre group and we wish to make this play the foundation of the same kind of a group. The play is a smart, funny, sentimental, satirical comedy that played for two hundred and fifty consecutive performances on Broadway.

"It is the wittiest and liveliest jam-boree ever distilled from the atmosphere of Broadway."—New York Sun. "Full of surprises and entertainment. Highly charged with humor."—New York Times. "Richly and continuously amusing."—Alexander Wolcott, World.

We have what it takes to put the play over and we will guarantee all who attend a great evening. There will be two performances, Friday and Saturday nights, June 8th and 9th, at the high school auditorium.

There is a nice senatorial battle yet to come over the nomination of an anti-Huey Long to be collector of port at New Orleans. The committee laughed off Long's objections and recommended confirmation.

kitchen utensils from the guests of the occasion.

A delicious salad course was served and French pastries were passed.

CUT TAXES IN HALF

If money were nationalized, with a circulating tax placed on it, forcibly keeping it in active circulation; all business and industry would revive, and unemployment would disappear.

I firmly believe that the above two measures would solve the problem of "Poverty in the midst of Plenty," by removing the poverty and fairly distributing the plenty for all to enjoy.

I will gladly make a fight for these ideas if you will give me the chance, by you and your friends signing this petition on the dotted lines.
