

PRISON CAMP WORK DEFINITELY STOPPED

Workmen and Materials Transferred to Project in Jackson County

Work has been definitely stopped on the State prison camp near Calvert, according to W. Lloyd Cutting, who came here several weeks ago to supervise construction of the 100-man permanent camp.

Mr. Cutting has transferred all his supplies and materials to Jackson county where he is engaged in constructing a similar camp, his crew of prisoners who were doing preliminary work at the camp having been returned to the barracks at Hendersonville, while the foremen and skilled workmen are with Mr. Cutting at Whittier. Mrs. Cutting and daughter are remaining at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Galloway for the summer.

Mr. Cutting, when interviewed Sunday, stated that he had orders to transfer his operations to the Whittier site in Jackson county and that he could make no statement as to cause of cessation of the local project. However, it is generally understood that the work is being held up pending announcement of definite plans by the Tennessee Valley Authority in regard to proposed developments in this immediate section.

Work on the Calvert camp was stopped temporarily two weeks ago, following announcement by TVA officials that an aerial survey of the French Broad Valley was to be started at once, and after waiting several days, word was given Superintendent Cutting to transfer his activities to Whittier, several carloads of material on the Rosman side tracks of the Southern railroad being immediately re-routed to Whittier. There remains at the Calvert location two or three carloads of cement, piping and building supplies.

Red Cross Water Pageant Be Staged At Camp Carolina Thursday Night

Outstanding annual event in the Brevard vicinity will be that of the Red Cross water pageant to be staged at Camp Carolina on Thursday evening of this week at 8:15 o'clock.

For several years this production has attracted enormous crowds from the county and various sections of North and South Carolina, the pageant being given free as a part of the work of the class in pageantry and recreational swimming. This phase of the National Red Cross and Life Saving Institute being under direction of Harry A. Kenning and Jimmy McMillan.

An elaborate setting is being arranged for production of "The Fisherman's Dream." A Dutch Mill, a village, a group of Dutch boys and girls in wooden shoes, a Dutch boat in the distance will change the water front to a picturesque village in Holland. Tulips bloom everywhere. The villagers dance and sing.

An old fisherman sits mending his nets, dreaming of by-gone days of joy, but brooding too on the sadness that has been caused by the terrific loss of life that has occurred in the village year after year. He looks at the carefree boys and girls dancing, thinking that some day the sea will claim the boys as fishermen; the girls will be the unhappy widows of these same gay Dutch youths.

Suddenly a glare lights the sea! A burning ship, reflected in the water, terrifies the village. The old fisherman looks sadly but helplessly on. Figures can be seen leaping from the burning vessel, then sinking quietly beneath the waves.

Tonsil Clinics To Be Conducted By Hospital and Doctors of the County

Plans have been perfected for the tonsil clinic for children from 6 to 15 years of age, which will be held at Lyday Memorial hospital for one week beginning next Monday and continuing through Saturday, June 30.

Quite a number of applications have been made by parents for their children to take advantage of this clinic, and it is urged by the hospital staff that all children expecting to have their tonsils removed at the clinic next week see Miss Brendel at the hospital not later than Friday or Saturday of this week to make arrangements about the operation and to have their physical examination, which is required beforehand of all children undergoing operations. The price of each operation is set at $12.50, which is said to be considerably less than half the cost of the tonsil operation. The clinic is only for children of those parents who are not able to pay the full price for a tonsil operation. Doctors on the staff are giving their services free, this minimum charge being to take care of actual operating room and hospital expense.

The clinic is sponsored by the board of trustees of the hospital, and the operations will be performed by members of the hospital staff, including Dr. C. E. Cunningham, Dr. G. L. Newland and Dr. Harry Bradley. Assisting in the operations will be the nursing staff, including Miss Georgia Brendel, head nurse, Miss Elizabeth Allen and Miss Myrtice Dillard.

All at once out of the sea appears a commanding figure, King Neptune. He speaks to the fisherman words of hope or encouragement, of better days ahead. He heralds the approach of the good ship "American Red Cross" which looms out of the darkness upon the scene, a huge lighted craft, loaded with cheer and hope. Sailors dance out on the deck. Skilled swimmers appear and give a wonderful demonstration of skill and water waiting.

The Dutch boats come in laden with flowers giving a drill showing ability in the handling of water craft. Then come the recreational swimmers, forming intricate figures, showing the skills and pleasures of participation in water sports. Next comes the fancy and clown diving demonstrating the variety and perfection of skill that can be achieved in that sport. Then comes the life saving demonstration. Men and women go through a splendid drill teaching the correct and effective methods of life saving. Into the sky bursts a beautiful fireworks display lighting up the scene of the finale, bringing together the Dutch villages, the life savers, all the 180 characters in the pageant, singing together the Little Dutch Mill—showing that after all the people of the world are all "One Big Happy Family" under the guidance of the "Greatest Mother in the World—The Red Cross."

The school this year has an enrollment of over one hundred fifty, this being the largest to ever be held in the United States, according to R. Ramone S. Eaton, director in charge.

Brief talks were made by the Rev. J. H. West of Brevard, the Rev. J. N. Hall of Rosman, W. E. Breese and C. M. Douglas of Brevard, after which the heavily laden tables were lightened of approximately two-thirds of their load of good food that the Owen family housewives are noted for.

FRENCH BROAD DAM IS STILL UNDECIDED

Officials Not Ready To Give Definite Information To Men There Last Week

Transylvania county people will be given a square deal in every respect by the Tennessee Valley when and if water storage basin, basins or reservoirs are constructed on the French Broad Valley in such a way that the storage will affect property and rights here, was the gist of information given Wm. E. Breese, Ralph H. Ramsey Jr. and A. H. Harris, who were sent to Knoxville to confer with the TVA last week.

Nothing definite is ready for announcement, the men who represented the county commissioners and board of aldermen were told, other than the fact that the TVA had not contemplated building a dam 200 feet high, as rumor had it, in this section.

Official reports of the Transylvania men have not been made to the board of commissioners and the board of aldermen, but the opinion was expressed by members of the committee that the Tennessee Valley Authority would be reasonable in exacting their needs for storing water on the French Broad.

It is hoped that further surveys, as to economic conditions as well as for the purpose of using the French Broad Valley for storage will be made by the TVA before any definite work is started.

Official reports will be published as soon as they are made to the county and town.

WATER BOARD ASKS USERS COOPERATION

Plenty of Water For All—Requests That Patrons Do Not Waste

To The Water Consumers of The Town of Brevard:

At a recent meeting of the Board of Aldermen, an order was made calling to the attention of all water consumers through the press, that an unnecessary amount of water was being wasted. Certain would-be politicians have tried to create the impression that it is the intention of the board to have meters installed on all connections. Not one of the authorities has any such idea in mind, but on the contrary wants and expects all consumers to use all the water needed by them.

The Town of Brevard is well blessed with an excellent supply of water, sufficient in fact for a much larger town. There is another side to the picture however; we have a storage capacity of three hundred and sixty thousand gallons which in itself should fill our requirements for thirty to thirty-six hours. It has been definitely proven though, that with no water coming into the storage reservoirs they are being emptied in one-sixth of this time from five to six hours.

A close check is kept on the reservoirs during the day time, but this cannot be done at night. On several occasions the supply coming into the reservoir from the intake has been accidentally cut off and as stated above, due to so much water being wasted, these reservoirs have been emptied during the night. So far we have been very fortunate in having no fires at such a time. Suppose however, a fire would break out in your home or your neighbor's home—and your entire neighborhood and possibly the whole town would be wiped out by a terrible fire.

Now if so much water was not being wasted, trouble of this kind would be corrected before any great amount of water was used from the reservoirs. For this reason—be sure and see that all plumbing leaks are repaired without further delay.

Brevard Water Department.
