AT THE CLEMSON THEATRE

Wallace Beery and Jackie "Skipper" Cooper, who won the hearts of millions of moviegoers in "The Champ" and more recently in "The Bowery," are again re-united in "Treasure Island." Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's ambitious film version of the famed Robert Louis Stevenson classic. Beery portrays the dreaded pirate, Long John Silver, while Cooper plays young Jim Hawkins, who accompanies the mysterious expedition in search of buried treasure, and shares the thrills and adventures of his disreputable but kindly cronies. Treasure Island is showing at the Clemson Thursday and Friday, August 23 and 24. Lionel Barrymore, Otto Kruger, Lewis Stone, Nigel Bruce and Charles "Chic" Sale play interesting roles in the world-famed story.

Saturday, August 25th, Rex Bell reveals his versatility when he may be seen as a sailor-cowboy at the Clemson. He is urgently called from the navy to his home ranch where he proceeds to use the fistic ability he acquired as a sailor to clean up the bad men of the west.

Franchot Tone plays the part Monday and Tuesday, August 27 and 28, of a boy out of prison who returns home to feel the urge of old life and the pull of underworld flame against the love of a girl who loves him more than he loves her. A strange conflict, "Straight Is the Way," is adapted from the play "Four Walls." Supporting Tone are May Robson and Kares Morley.

"La Cucaracha," an amazing melody drama in Technicolor is to be a special added attraction for Monday and Tuesday's offering. Produced by Pioneer Pictures, Inc., the film is the first to be shown that reproduces every tint and color, as against the limited number heretofore transferred to the screen. Also it is said to eliminate the eyestrain that was common to the old types of color films. The effect is enhanced by special color compositions by Robert Edmond Jones.

Steffi Duna, successful European dancer and actress, has the heroine role, with Don Alvarado and Paul Porcasi. The locale is Old Mexico, and it presents a whirl of drama, comedy, and the exhilarating "La Cucaracha" dance and song.

Haunted by her own life, hounded by all men and hunted by the boy who loved her with a love she had never known before, Rosemary Ames, a dance girl in a land of jungles and malaria, rubber plantations, and wild game, thousands of white men and only a scattering of white women has a difficult problem to solve. "Pursued," filmed in Borneo, is being played at the Clemson Wednesday, August 29.
