

TEACHERS TO MEET HERE ON SATURDAY

Study To Be Made of Teaching Methods Best Suited To Students

A county-wide teachers' meeting will be held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at the court house, according to announcement of county superintendent, G. C. Bush, who will act as chairman for the organization of the teachers for professional study.

A recording secretary will be elected by the teachers, while a material chairman, a program committee and a curriculum course of study secretary will be appointed by the county superintendent.

Superintendent Bush in an open letter to teachers and citizens goes into the matter as follows:

North Carolina is engaged in a comprehensive study of the curriculum for elementary and secondary schools. Active participation from the entire citizenship of the county is desired and confidently expected. Superintendent Bush states:

The teachers of Transylvania county for 1934-35 are going to study curriculum construction. The job to be done is the working out of a course of study that will be understandable to the friends and supporters of public education in North Carolina, as well as usable by the teachers in the schools.

Each subject field there will be a chairman, who, under the direction of the superintendent, will be responsible to the teachers working on her particular subject. Individual units are to be encouraged to concentrate upon a particular activity, as reading, geography, history, health etc. Even here opportunities will be given to each individual to work in the field of her special interest, where naturally she would be expected to do her best work.

It is the aim of the Transylvania county teachers to do their part in the construction of the curriculum and it is expected that our teachers will give the state valuable aid in this task.

Teachers should study the Handbook, Superintendent Bush urges, pages 87, 19, 20, 61, 62, 75, 76, 77, 78, 74, 83, 84. Also the teacher should read the Course of Study, pages 259 through 271, 38, 39, 40, 276, 277, 289, 390, 345, 346 and 383.

All education of the right sort is character education. By the proper use of curricular and allied activities the pupil forms habits of the right sort, and habits are the stuff out of which character is made. Patterns of conduct are made and the child learns how to behave appropriately, how to conduct himself in his relationship with other people. Since the welfare of the child is the end or aim or objective of education, the curriculum should promote the welfare of the child and develop him into the sort of citizen that the state needs now and will need in the future. The good citizen is the need and hope of democracy. Our institutions must develop good citizens. The teacher's function is to direct the activities of boys and girls, to teach them how to work and study and supply the inspirations leadership and direct the children along the road that leads to the good life.

WESTERN STEER SAID TO BE ON "RAMPAGE"

ROSMAN, Sept. 6—Quite a bit of excitement was caused here Sunday when one of the western growth area steers was reported to be mauling all comers, charging autos as well as pedestrians who chanced along highway 28 near Rosman.

E. M. Collins and Paul Stroup report that the steer blocked the highway, and when Mr. Stroup attempted to drive him from the highway was forced to take to his heels. Chief of Police W. N. Stroup was next in line with the excited animal, the policeman firing four shots at the steer as he charged him.

W. A. Wilson, with the assistance of two other men, caught the animal and had him removed to the barns at Davidson River where he is being treated by a veterinarian. Three of the pistol shots fired by Policeman Stroup struck the steer in the head and legs.

TRANSYLVANIA NATIVE BURIED AT CANDLER

CANDLER, Sept. 5—Funeral services for Mrs. Annie Clayton Candler, 76, well known resident of the Candler section, who died at her home at 10:10 o'clock Tuesday morning were held at the Hominy Baptist Church Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Rev. Nane Starnes, pastor, officiated, assisted by the Rev. T. A. Groce. Burial was in the Guggen family cemetery.

Mrs. Candler was a native of Transylvania county, but had lived at Candler for the past 49 years. Her husband, Otto B. Candler, who died several years ago, was a son of W. G. Candler, Candler centenarian.

Surviving are two sons, W. W. Candler, attorney of Asheville and Candler, and Lane G. Candler, of Fontana; one daughter, Mrs. A. P. Willis, wife of a Candler physician, and five grandchildren.

Pallbearers were P. Lane Gaston, Charles Rice, J. G. Rice, Percy Jones, Frank King and Jay Gudge. Flower bearers were Mrs. Clara Wright, Miss Lucinda Candler, Mrs. B. E. Brenton, Miss Mildred Candler, Miss Josephine Clayton, Miss Agnes Clayton and Miss Emily Maloney.

CULLOWHEE STUDENTS FIND WORK THIS YEAR

CULLOWHEE, Sept. 5—Transylvania county is one of twenty counties in which Western Carolina Teachers College recent graduates will teach this year.

Of the 84 students who graduated at Western Carolina Teachers College the past year, 59 are already placed in teaching positions, according to the announcement by Miss Camp, director of the placement bureau.

Three others are known to be employed in other than teaching positions, including Mrs. C. C. Buchanan, who is librarian of the college. Four of the two-year graduates have made reservations and will return for more college work. This makes nearly 80 per cent of the class definitely accounted for. Not all members of the class have been heard from. It is thought that others not heard from have been placed while a few others of the two-year class are expected to return to the college in September.

American Indian's Health

The American full-blood Indian was entirely immune to rickets, largely so to cretinism and cancer, and somewhat more so than the white man to diphtheria, typhoid fever, mental and nervous diseases (excepting epilepsy), and various skin diseases; but he was much less immune than the white to smallpox, measles, tuberculosis, and influenza.—Literary Digest.
