wards Waynesville. Last winter Mr. Marsh and his crew surveyed the road from Wagon road Gap to Brevard, a distance of 13 miles. The new location does not follow the old road, but turns off on Discobe and goes to the head of Look-Pisgah and goes to the head of Look-ing Glass Creek and follows that gorge down to Davidson River.

Mr. Marsh stated that when the new road is built it will afford one of the most scenic sights in Western North Carolina. The road, he says, surpasses the beauty of the Soco Gap

Within sight of the road for about twn miles there are countless water-falls, rapids and pools, he continued. The road from Waynesville to the top of the mountain which is the Haywood-Transylvania line is about s. The entire route 284 is not the federal system and it is cause of that change that a prompt survey has been ordered.

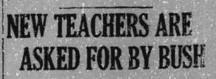

The read from Wagon Road Gap The read from Wagon Road Gap to Brevard is ready to be let to the contractors now. It is expected that the surveying of the route in Hay-wood county will consume approxi-mately five or six months. Present plans are to re-located the road from Wagon Road Gap to Waynesville.— Waynesville Mountainier.
