

HUNTING SEASON IS OPENED BY HUNTERS DISREGARDING LAW

State License Says October First—Magistrates Release Two Cases

"We've got state hunting licenses that say the squirrel season opens October first and deer October fifteenth and we're going hunting," said a group of Brevard sportsmen Monday morning, and a-hunting they did go.

While the state law says the season begins in this western district on the dates mentioned, a public-law local law passed by the 1933 legislature says November, and state game officials have made public statement to the effect that anyone caught violating the local law shall be arrested and tried on the charge.

The attorney-general has held in an opinion published several weeks ago in The Times, that the local law supercedes the state-wide law, and some interesting affairs in regard to hunting "in season" according to the state law and "out of season" according to the local law is looked forward to.

Two arrests were made for violation of the local game law by County Game Warden E. R. Galloway last Friday. One case was tried before Magistrate J. R. Mahoney at Rosman and one before W. H. Summey in Eastatoe township, both cases being released without paying fine or cost.

TAX SUITS STARTED BY TOWN & COUNTY

Complaints in the tax foreclosure suits for Transylvania County and the Town of Brevard are being filed this week with the clerk of the court, instituting proceedings for foreclosure of sales certificates dated prior to 1932.

Both the town and county are acting under a statewide law that was passed in the 1933 legislature making it compulsory that all counties and towns in the state institute the proceedings before October 1st, this year. However, time for filing the complaints was extended, under the law, where application was made, for twenty days.

Altogether in both the town and county, around 1,400 suits are being started, practically the same ratio being reported in other counties in this section of the state.

OLD AGE PENSION IS HOLDING ATTENTION

Additional petitions will be placed as soon as received from headquarters, Mr. Clark states, and due notice will be given as to the places where they may be found.

According to latest advices signatures to the old age pension act have been made throughout the county to the number of 4,200,000.

Deputy Wood In Hospital

Deputy Sheriff Tommy Wood was carried to Biltmore hospital, Asheville, last Saturday, where he underwent an operation for acute appendicitis. His condition is reported as favorable and he is expected to return home during the coming week.

RELIEF EDUCATION WILL BENEFIT MANY

Do not despise this Emergency Relief Education. Very few realize how many grown people cannot write their own names. What happens when these adult illiterates marry and have families? Mothers who cannot read labels on bottles and cans jeopardize all their households. Young husbands who cannot sign their names have a poor prospect for supporting their offspring.

Illiteracy's big percentage is South. In North Carolina there are 240,328, or 10 per cent of the population. It is estimated that in a lifetime the total loss to the state from ignorance is the huge sum of $8,644,000,000! The percentage for the United States is 4.3 per cent.

The cost to the parents of educating, feeding and clothing a child to 15 is $3,210. To the state the cost is $420. Compared with the actual cost to both of ignorance this sum is trivial.

The average college graduate earns in a life-time $136,000. A high school graduate $60,000. Elementary (under 7th grade) $30,000. Below that it is a great big "??—day laborer," uncertain income. Does education pay? And money is not the only cost. There are juvenile and criminal courts and what not.

Transylvania is not the worst off, but some of these uneducated are in it. These Emergency teachers have enrolled perhaps most of these, and with public encouragement and stimulation can do their bit toward "wiping out illiteracy in this generation." There are 25 teachers approved for this work, some of them already teaching large classes. They also give instruction on health, citizenship, and kindred subjects. Uncle Sam is in earnest about this, for it is bound up with the unemployment situation. The public is asked to back it one hundred per cent.

The price is based on each head, monthly:

Yearlings and calves weaned, $1.50 per month per head; two years olds, $2.00; three year olds, $2.50; cows and matured stock, $3.00 per month.

All grain, cotton seed meal and salt will be furnished by the relief department, Mr. Wilson said, requirements for those wintering the cattle being to water and care for the stock, provide adequate shelter and roughage feed of such nature that the cattle will show they are being taken care of in approved manner.

Contracts for signing with the relief department are expected this week. These contracts will set out that unless conditions are met to satisfaction of the local supervisors that the cattle will be moved to other farms. There are now about two thousand head of the drouth area cattle in the county.

EFFORT TO HOLD UP FORECLOSURE SUITS

Effort is being made by the board of county commissioners to hold up on foreclosure suits for back taxes that have been started in accordance with the 1933 legislative act. The following order was made at the meeting of the board Tuesday:

Sigmon, the county attorney was directed to continue for such times allowed by law, any and all foreclosures of land for taxes for the years 1928, 1929, 1930 and 1931 and if possible, to so hold up and continue said actions for foreclosure until proper appeal could be made to the next session of the State Legislature asking for relief."

CUTTING IN CHARGE OF CALVERT PRISON

A-Grade Prisoners and Local Labor Being Used On Construction Job

W. Lloyd Cutting, of Statesville, is again in charge of construction work on the state prison camp near Calvert and has 35 men at work under him, with John Hewitt of Newton, as foreman.

Mr. Cutting started work on the Calvert camp last summer, only to be stopped by state prison and public works officials after announcement by TVA officials that the French Broad river valley was being considered as probable reservoir. However, later statement from headquarters of the TVA at Knoxville were to the effect that this valley was not to be used at this time, and orders were again issued to start the construction. Mr. Cutting, in the meantime, had been transferred to another state construction job in Jackson county and the work was held up pending his completion there.

Twenty-five A-grade or B or C prisoners, all white men, are working at the camp, together with half dozen or more mechanics that have been hired.

Water for the camp is being procured from a deep well near the site, with lights being furnished by the Rosman Tanning Extract company.

OAK GROVE HOME COMING OBSERVED

LAKE TOXAWAY, Oct. 17—The celebration of home coming day at Oak Grove Baptist church last Sunday was in almost every respect the greatest home coming occasion the church has ever had. Former pastors were present, former members long scattered to other communities were mingling with the crowd with faces beaming with the joy of the occasion as well as pleasant memories of the past, and former citizens of the community who are living in other communities and other states, were in evidence, smiling in a way that manifested geniality of spirit and giving a hearty hand shake to many old acquaintances from whom they had long been separated. All the present members and citizens of the community who were present were sharing in the visitors in the joys of the occasion. Some one said that this home coming day is typical of the home coming day toward which we are traveling; that "In the Sweet Here and Now" is only a crystal dew drop as compared with the great ocean of "In the Sweet By and By" that awaits us just a short while in the future.

Because of the unavoidable absence of the pastor, Rev. J. E. Burt, the welcome address was delivered by T. C. Henderson. The response was made by Rev. E. R. Pendleton of Brevard. In a forceful, instructive and soul inspiring manner, Hon. Ralph H. Ramsey of Brevard delivered the principal address of the day. For this church home coming occasion, he had selected as his theme "The Church and Its Influence on the Social and Spiritual Uplift of Our Communities." Appropriate for the occasion was his theme and exceedingly well did he present it.

The great throng of people present enjoyed to the full the excellent music of the day, which was furnished by Frank Raines and family of Middle Fork, the Polly Phonic Quartet and the Fowler Quartet of Greenville, and the Burns Quartet of Cedar Mountain. It was the general opinion of the congregation that finer music could not be furnished this side of heaven.

At the noon hour the tables out in the grove were loaded almost to the breaking point with nearly every conceivable variety of good things to eat. One could imagine that it surpassed the feast of Belshazzar, because it had all the excellencies of his feast without the curse of his wine. While the crowd was apparently the largest that has ever assembled on the grounds of Oak Grove Baptist church for an occasion of this kind, there was no occasion for any one to leave the table without having fully satisfied his physical needs and desires for the day.

Some who were invited to be present and participate in this home coming occasion had to decline because of previous engagements. They are being notified now that the next home coming day at Oak Grove Baptist church is to be on the second Sunday in October, 1935, and they are being asked to make their plans to be present next year.

SEVENTEEN STILLS SEIZED BY PATTON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17—The North Carolina alcohol tax unit with headquarters in Charlotte had a busy week in putting down demon rum for the period ended September 29, the report of the treasury department just issued reveals. For the last week in September, Chief Agent T. E. Patton's men seized 17 stills, or more than two daily. These receptacles had a capacity of 2,595 gallons, and in taking them into the minions of the law, 316 gallons of corn whiskey were also seized.

The biggest haul was in mash which had been prepared for processing into liquor without payment of the proverbial processing tax that is now required by the government on so many articles for food and drink. Moreover, Patton's men reported that they had seized four trucks in their week's work, the total number of arrests being 15.

Nolle Robinson, chief of the South Carolina unit, with headquarters at Charleston, did not have as good luck during the week in question as heretofore in the same period since the new South Carolina unit has been set up by the treasury department, as only seven stills were seized and 10 arrests made.

North Carolina is now a part of the fifth district of the alcohol tax unit, and Chief Patton's corps leads all other states and the District of Columbia therein in the number of stills seized, only one being seized in the District of Columbia, nine in Maryland, two in Virginia and one in West Virginia. The tax unit minions of the law in the national capital, however, made 29 arrests, 20 took place in Maryland, 10 in West Virginia, with only two made in Virginia.

The report says that east of the Mississippi river 158 stills were seized, the greatest gains in world during the week over previous periods being in Alabama, Florida and Georgia.

GRAND OPERA SINGER TO GIVE CONCERT AT COLLEGE FRIDAY EVE

Madame Elda Vettori of Metropolitan Company Bringing Treat Here

Madame Elda Vettori, of the Metropolitan Opera company, will give a concert at Brevard college on Friday night of this week at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Marguerite Smathers Jones will accompany Madame Vettori.

Madame Vettori is one of the outstanding sopranos of this country. She has appeared in opera with eminent success, and duplicates these performances in concert. She is the true Italian type of artist, but because her training was all American, she proudly calls herself an American.

She has sung in concert from coast to coast, and wherever she appears she is re-engaged. She has had leading roles in Aida and Cavalleria Rusticana during the recent opera season in Asheville. She was given an ovation, and it was the consensus of opinion among music critics that she is the greatest soprano ever appearing in Asheville.

An admission of twenty-five and fifty cents will be charged.

P. T. A. MEETING IS ATTENDED BY MANY

A program of unusual interest featured the October meeting of the Parent-Teacher association, held Friday afternoon in the elementary school auditorium. A large number of patrons of the school and teachers was present at the meeting.

A doll display, comprising about 25 dolls dressed to represent the different periods from 53 B. C. to the present time, proved especially interesting. This display was presented by the home economics department of the Brevard high school, of which Miss Lucy Slagle is head. A history of the style of the various periods was read by Miss Mildred McIntosh. The costumed dolls were exhibited to the audience by Misses Emma Lou Liffis and Annie Neill.

Other enjoyable features of the program included the singing of several vocal selections by Professor Homer Compton, voice teacher at Brevard College, and several readings by Miss Ruth Rich, expression teacher at Brevard College.

The business session held following the program was in charge of the president, Mrs. J. B. Picklesimer.
