WINGATE ELEVEN TO MEET COLLEGE TEAM

Brevard College football squad leaves here Thursday for Monroe where they meet the Wingate eleven Friday afternoon for the fourth game of the season.

Coach Ralph James was not very optimistic Wednesday about the outcome of the game, with one man out sick and three more on the injured list, but is hoping to be able to have a lineup that will prove interesting for the strong squad he is going up against.

Prentice, quarterback, is definitely out of the game this week with flu, while Shuford, backfield man, Albert Kilpatrick and Proffitt, linemen, are incapacitated with injuries.

Two teams will make the trip to Wingate.

Wallace Galloway Says Hunting Bill Not Intended To Set Closed Season

While County Game Warden E. R. Galloway will not definitely commit himself as to future policies in regard to arrest of hunters, it is known that he highly disfavours the local law which makes it illegal to hunt any type game before November 20.

M. W. Galloway, representative from Transylvania in the 1933 session of the legislature, states emphatically that the bill passed and now on the statute books to the effect that it is unlawful to hunt any kind of game before Nov. 20 is an error insofar as intent of the bill was concerned at the time of its passage in the legislature.

Representative Galloway states that the bill was passed during the last few hours of the last day of the session, and that intent of the measure was to outlaw foxes, and was passed with the clause as to open season on other game unbeknownst to him.

Mr. Galloway explained that the member from Cumberland county who presented the bill was a member of the game committee in the legislature, and approached him just before closing hour of the last day of the legislature and asked if the Transylvania representative would not like his county included in a bill which he was having passed for his county, making open season on foxes the year round. Foxes, the Cumberland member of the house is said to have told Mr. Galloway, are a menace to small game and birds, and for this reason no closed season should be allowed on the animals.

Mr. Galloway states that the bill as presented briefly (not read) by the Cumberland member, appeared to be in keeping with his idea for protection of game, and he readily consented to having Transylvania added to the bill. In the last minute rush, Mr. Galloway states that he did not take time to read the entire bill, taking it for granted that the bill was for the outlawing of foxes only, as the Cumberland representative had stressed only this point.

However, after the bill was passed on a suspension of rules, without reading, and sent by special messenger to the senate, it was discovered that it also contained a provision to the effect that the counties effected by the measure would have an open season only from Nov. 20 to Feb. 20, during which time it would be legal, under the provisions of the bill, to take any kind of game, including doe deer if one were so minded.

Eight men were tried before Magistrate T. T. Loftis last week on charges of hunting deer out of season, the charges being brought by County Game Warden Galloway. At this hearing, held on the Patton club property, Wallace Galloway testified as to real intent of the bill under which the charges were brought, and after hearing evidence in the case Magistrate dismissed the men without fine or costs. Judge D. L. English appeared for the defendants.

An opinion from the attorney general's office several weeks ago stated that the local law was binding, and District Game Warden Bradshaw stated that he had instructed his wardens to arrest hunters violating provisions of the local bill. As passed the bill makes the open season from Nov. 20 to Feb. 20, while the state regulations for this district open the squirrel season Oct. 1 and the deer season Oct. 15.

Large Potatoes Brought To The Times Office

Some of this and some of that found its way into The Times office last week, with twins and large potatoes being in greater evidence.

Twin walnuts were brought in by Pat Hamlin of East Main street, while twin apples were brought by Allen Smith of the Brevard Park section.

A seven-leaf clover was found by Harry Stroud, this being unusual for clover, four being least bit out of the ordinary. In the bunch where the seven-leaf was found, were also two four-leaf stems.

Two big sweet potatoes, each of them weighing over five pounds, are also on display for a few days, after which they will go the way of all good potatoes—into a pie. Sam Brown of R-three brought in a big fellow that weighed five pounds six ounces, while Carl Talley of Penrose went Mr. Brown a little better, his potato weighing five pounds eight ounces.

Two freak sweet potatoes were sent in by T. S. Williams of the Enon section, one of them having all the appearances of a turkey gobbler, and the other closely resembling a seal.

George Hayes reports a maple tree in bloom at the old Transylvania Hospital place on Broad street, the bloom appearing to be of the same nature as those seen in the springtime. Mr. Hayes says that this is the first case of this kind he has ever witnessed.

AD 2 FREAKS

A. M. White of Rosman also reports a large sweet potato, weighing four pounds, one ounce.

ELECTRIFICATION SURVEY POSSIBLE

Transylvania is one of the few counties in the state that is not receiving benefits from the rural electrification program being put on by the Emergency Relief Administration. Under plans going forward in other counties, the relief office furnishes labor for construction of lines, where right of way and patrons assist in the work.

In a letter to Ralph Waldrop of Brevard R-3, which is carried below, the statement is made that a survey will be made if there is sufficient interest shown. The letter follows: "Mr. Ralph Waldrop,

"Route 3, Brevard, N. C.
"Dear Sir:

"Your letter to Mrs. Thomas O'Berry has been referred to me for an answer. I am sorry to have to inform you that Transylvania county is not included in the 75 counties in which the Rural Electrification Survey is being conducted. This is largely due to the very few requests we have received from Transylvania county, yours being the second request received.

If there are at least five separate communities in Transylvania county which would have access to a distribution line extension and on which there would be an average of not less than six customers per mile, it is possible that we might be able to have a man from a nearby county make the survey when he finishes his own county. The proposed customers would also have to be willing and able to contribute to the building of the line. The survey is so far advanced at this time that I cannot give you a more definite promise than this.

"Very truly yours,
"C. W. BURTON,
"Asst. Director, Rural Electrification Project."
