"Scrap of Paper"

The expression "scrap of paper" is said to have been employed as early as 1878, when on January 17 the Russian minister used it in a letter to the Rumanian foreign minister with reference to the passage of Russian troops through Rumania during the war with Turkey.

"Aviator," Composes Gender

According to a definition given by the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, the word "aviator" is a noun of common gender, meaning the pilot of a heavier-than-air craft. The word "aviatrix," therefore, is not necessary and does not appear in the list of sanctioned terms.

IN MEMORY OF GRANDMOTHER M. J. NEELY

(Contributed by her daughter, Mrs. J. E. Stover, Roy, Ga.)

A precious one from us is gone,
Her loving voice is still.
A place is vacant in our home
The world can never fill.

Oh! What pain it gives our heart
To part with those we love.
Then sweetly comes the thought
To me,
We shall meet her in heaven above.

Our grandmother was so good and kind;
How we'll miss her dear sweet face!
We must follow close behind
To meet her in that happy place.

Oh! How we long to meet her there
On that bright and happy shore,
There to dwell with her forever
Where sad partings come no more.

God doth comfort in our sorrows;
He is near us all the way;
He alone can lift our burdens;
He can drive our tears away.

Sleep on, dear grandmother,
In that narrow peaceful bed;
Sweetest thoughts will ever linger,
Mingled with the tears we shed.

Never more will home be happy;
Everything is so sad to us;
But we know the time is nearing
When your sweet face we'll see.

Yes, I'll meet her up in heaven,
Where there'll be no parting tears,
And we hope to raise our children
In sweet answer to her prayers.

So after we together have murmured,
Kneeling down in humble prayer,
Asking Him to save our children;
That we all may gather there.

Father to that home in glory,
Where there'll be no doubts or fears;
Jesus there will meet and greet us,
And will wipe away all tears.

We are so lonely here without her;
Many bitter tears we've shed.
Day by day we're growing weaker,
We'll soon be numbered with the dead.

Then by your sweet side they'll lay us,
To sweetly rest beneath the sod,
Until Jesus calls His children
Together 'round the throne of God.

Then to sing and shout forever,
No sorrows there, no grief, no pain.
Oh! How I long to meet you, grandmother,
With our Savior, Lord and King.

Yes, I know that I will meet you
When my work on earth is through,
For my Savior sweetly leads me,
And there is nothing else to do.

But to follow after Jesus,
Sweetly trusting in His grace;
For you know he keeps His promise,
Has prepared for us a place.

Where there is no sin nor sorrow,
Where there is no parting tears,
Won't that be a happy meeting,
Where one day is a thousand years.

Yes, dear ones, let's go and meet her,
For she's waiting on that clime,
Standing waiting, ever watching,
For her loved ones left behind.

So get ready, don't disappoint her.

FURMAN FRESHMEN TROUNCE BREVARD

Fighting Spirit of Jamesmen Made Contest of Affair In Spite of Defeat

Overpowered by three teams equally as good, the Brevard College Blues went down to the tune of 21 to 0 when they faced the Furman Freshmen in Greenville at Manly Field Saturday afternoon. The Furman Freshman Hurricane, with plenty of reserve man power and home grounds, did not let the outcome of the game remain in doubt many minutes after the opening kickoff.

Brevard kicked off, a short kick that covered over ten yards, and covered the ball for possession. The Furman Baptists held for downs and took the ball in midfield. Dashes good for first downs brought the ball into scoring position and Scott plunged for the touchdown. DeHart kicked for the point.

The Brevard Blues carried the ball to Furman's 15 where Smith of Furman intercepted a pass and ran 60 yards, to be hauled down from behind by Echard, who was playing a substitute halfback position. Guinn, 178 pounds and fully as fast as the speedster Echard, plowed eleven yards for the score and DeHart followed with another perfect kick. Guinn scored again in the second quarter and DeHart made the point.

Walter Clayton ran 43 yards for a touchdown in the opening minutes of play in the second half but Brother Eb Clayton was offside and the play went for naught. Remainder of the second half saw the ball go up and down the field, with Brevard holding Furman for downs on several occasions when a score seemed certain.

In spite of the fact that the cohorts of Coach James were sadly out-manned and had no fighting chance against the Furman Hurricane, several players stood out in the contest. Walter Clayton, Albert Kilpatrick, Ben Echard, Garren and Proffitt gave creditable accounts of themselves. And the whole team never did quit fighting and made a contest of the affair in the last half of the game.

Much credit for Furman's accomplishment goes to Hanney, beautiful blocking fullback, who on more than one play stepped in and assisted his mates in dazzling runs that netted the Baptists' their triumph. On the line Bill Ellis, huge Texas giant, Smoak and Traynham acquitted themselves well.

Next game is with Wingate, at Wingate.

Don't you want to see her face;
There to sing with her in glory,
Happy in her sweet embrace.

So I'll close and wait in patience,
For the message from above,
Calling me from toil and trouble,
To that land where all is love.

You never do this—

Why do THIS?

You never take a spark plug from one cylinder of your car to replace the plug of another cylinder.

Why borrow a lamp bulb from one socket to replace the lamp in another? For this not only puts one fixture out of service; it exposes you and your family to eye strain from improper, inadequate light.

Have spare lamps on hand. Get a carton of thrifty General Electric MAZDA lamps today... then you will be sure of good, economical, eye-saving light. Buying a carton of six saves you 10 per cent.

BETTER LIGHT - BETTER SIGHT

Our Annual Special Offer on Mazda Lamps is now on. If our representative has not called upon you telephone No. 116 and we will gladly deliver your lamps.
