RAMSEY ADDRESSES ROSMAN SCHOOL

Mr. R. H. Ramsey, North Carolina's new senator, delivered a very interesting talk on certain phases of education to the Rosman schools Friday, November 9th, of National Education week. Mr. Ramsey brought out several good points concerning the educational system of today and the changes that might be made by the next legislature. The points of highest interest were as follows: Health and safety, worthy home membership, master of tools technique and spirit of learning, citizenship and world good will, vocational and economical effectiveness, wise use of leisure time and ethical character.

These points were highly stressed by Mr. Ramsey and the good we might do by keeping these seven rules.

Spy Fever Gripping Europe

Paris—Another epidemic of "spy fever" is sweeping through the continent. There is unusual animation among those underworld entry who swarm cosmopolitan capitals and resorts in Europe, making their living by spying on national military and industrial secrets.

Police nerves are jumpy and throughout Europe scores of men and women are arrested each week on charges of espionage.

CONNECTEE NEWS

We are having some real windy weather at this time. We ought to be grateful for the pleasant days we have had and just put on another shirt and build a bigger fire instead of shivering.

Edgar Glazener, Arthur and Elva Gillespie, who left two weeks ago for Florida, returned Sunday morning to their respective homes.

Those calling on Mrs. Willie Timley, who is still on the sick list, Sunday were Mrs. W. H. Hagedorn, Mrs. A. C. Landreth, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Whitmire, Dr. C. L. Newland, W. J. Baker, Rev. W. S. Price Jr. and S. P. Verner.

About 30 immediate relatives and friends of Jake Baker gathered at his home after church Sunday morning to celebrate his 59th birthday with him. It being a surprise to Mr. Baker made it enjoyable to all present. A bountiful dinner was spread at 1 o'clock and a pleasant time was spent conversing with kith and kin. Here's wishing for him many more happy birthdays.

Miss Bortha Masters of Brevard spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Masters.

Lambert Baker of Highlands spent Sunday and Monday in this section.

News has been received from Teddy Jennings and Mildred Whitmire of Sarasota, Fla., to this effect: "We landed safely and are having a good time. While you are having apples and such like, we are having beans, oranges and tomatoes. It is about like June down here." There was plenty more interesting news but we have no space for all of it now.

Warrior Mull, who had the misfortune of being caught by a tree during the high wind last Monday, was improving nicely at the home of his father Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Brown of Lyman, S. C., visited Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Gravelly Sunday.

Among those on the sick list are Mrs. C. C. Reese, Mrs. Coy Crompton, P. P. Tinsley and small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louie Raines.

The Connectee string band made music for a play by some of the school children last Friday night. It was announced that the club would meet again on November 23 and it is hoped that more of the officers and members will be present.

Kile Whitmire and children of Lyman, S. C., spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Gravelly.

Crippled Eyes Handicap Children Now and Hereafter

Largely as a result of inadequate and improper lighting in homes and in schools, 25 per cent of children develop defects of vision before they finish high school. An additional 15 per cent are added to these before college days are finished.

Crippled eyes not only handicap your children while they are in school, but, in most instances, handicap them for the balance of their lives. You don't want YOUR child handicapped, do you? You don't want your child hobbling through life with crippled eyes. Illuminating engineers have recently designed certain lamps for SEEING. If your home is not already equipped with an I. E. S. specification floor or table lamp you should investigate the advantages of these lamps at once. These lamps are not expensive. They are attractive, and they do the job for which they were designed.

WE ARE OFFERING

The I. E. S. specification floor lamp at $12.95—95 cents down and $1.00 per month. The I. E. S. specification study and reading lamp at $7.50—50 cents down and $1.00 per month.

The I. E. S. specification floor lamp has a three-light bulb, so that you may use 100 watts, 200 watts, or 300 watts, depending upon your need at any given time. The study and reading lamp may be had with a 100-watt or a 200-watt bulb.

- And here is how ridiculously cheap it is to operate these lamps: After the use of 30 kw. of electricity,
- You can burn a 300-watt lamp three and one-third hours for 3 cents.
- You can burn a 100-watt lamp three and one-third hours for one cent.

In other words you can use a 300-watt lamp three and one-third hours every night for 30 cents a month; and the 100-watt lamp three and one-third hours each night for 30 cents a month.
