

New Officials Take Charge Of County Affairs Next Monday

Alexander, Galloway, Wood
In Office For Another
Term Each

AIKEN AND HENDERSON
COMMISSIONERS AGAIN

W. L. Mull New Board Member—Lem Brooks in Tax
Collector's Office

Newly elected and re-elected county officials will assume their duties in the Transylvania county governmental unit Monday morning, for terms of two years each with exception of the clerk of court who is elected for four years.

Otto Alexander will continue in his office as clerk of the court; Jess A. Galloway is beginning on his third term as register of deeds; T. S. Wood is beginning his second term as sheriff; W. B. Henderson is starting his third term as county commissioner, while W. L. Aiken is starting on his second term.

Lem Brooks is new tax collector, taking place of O. L. Erwin who has served the past two years in that capacity and prior to that was chairman of the board of county commissioners. W. L. Mull is starting his first term as county commissioner, with L. V. Sigmon, four years member of the board and for the past two years county accountant, retiring.

Considerable switching of duties is mandatory under act of the 1933 legislature in several of the county offices, the bill as introduced and passed by Representative M. W. Galloway, abolishing the office of county accountant, and placing duties that have been performed in this office on shoulders of other county officials. Likewise, with passage of the bill, offices in the court house go on a fee basis instead of salary.

LICENSE TAGS WILL BE SOLD IN BREVARD

McCrary Auto Service Named Authorized Agent For This County

License tags for 1935 will go on sale Saturday, according to Carl McCrary manager of the McCrary Auto Service, local Chevrolet and Firestone dealer.

The plates will be made available at the office of Mrs. Carl McCrary on Caldwell street, Mrs. McCrary being assistant in the issuance of license. Until the McCrary concern took over the sale of plates for Transylvania a little over a year ago, local autoists were forced to either go to Hendersonville or Asheville for their tags or order them from Raleigh.

It is very probable that the Transylvania office will also be agent for Hendersonville vehicles, that territory not having been assigned Monday.

To Present Play At Church
A sacred play, entitled "The Ten Virgins," will be given at Cedar Mountain church Sunday night at 8 o'clock. The public is invited to be present.

Chestnut poles and cross arm timbers are in demand by the relief organization in this section of the state, W. A. Wilson having received notice to ascertain how many poles can be obtained here and at what price. The poles must be 30 feet in length and seven inches in diameter at the small end.

Curiosity Of People Causes Beavers To Leave Water Home Near Rosman

Added to the old age saying that "curiosity killed the cat" can now be the sad fact that curiosity destroyed a perfect home—Rosman's celebrated beaver colony having been either frightened away from their beautifully planned water palace, or have assumed a superiority complex and started building where the race of common men will not be so apt to pry.

Transylvania's first beaver group—no one has yet been able to find out just how many are in the family—started erection of an abiding place in mid-summer on the old Rosman in what was at one time Zachary place two miles north of the bed of the French Broad river and now fed by several small springs. Children of Charlie Lance, who is caretaker of the Zachary place, found first evidence of the beavers in August of this year. The youngsters, unaware of the fact that beavers were starting a home, tore the 20 foot stick and mud dam down.

Two months later the children found the dam again perfected and water impounded for several hundred feet at a depth of two to four feet. Father of the boys was called in and he found unmistakable signs of beaver work.

YOUNG PEOPLE HOLD MEETING IN BREVARD

Christian Endeavor Convention Met With Presbyterian Church

An inspirational consecration service brought to a close Sunday night the two-day annual convention of the Southwest District Christian Endeavor, which was held at the Brevard Presbyterian church Saturday and Sunday.

The convention, which was generally pronounced unusually successful, was presided over by the district president, Miss Nelle Gray, of Asheville.

Addresses of welcome at the first session Saturday morning were given by the Rev. J. P. Simmons, pastor of the local church; Miss Betty McLeod, president of the local Christian Endeavor; and Ralph H. Ramsey, for the town of Brevard. Response was given by Miss Anna Lindsay Goode, of Hendersonville. The main address of the morning was given by Miss Cornelia Taylor, of Asheville, on the "Tenth Legion."

Luncheon served at the church at noon was followed by a short afternoon service, which included reports from the various societies represented, and an address by Miss Hester Steele, state superintendent of young people, on "Training Efficient Christian Endeavor Officers."

At 3 o'clock the convention ad-

OLD AGE PENSION TO BE DISCUSSED HERE

Meeting To Be Held Saturday
at County Court House in Plan's Interest

There will be a meeting held in the court house in Brevard on Saturday afternoon, December 1st, at 2:00 o'clock, for the purpose of explaining and discussing the old age pension and giving information concerning it.

All parties interested in this plan are urged to be present. Tell your neighbors and friends and bring them along. There will be petitions there, which those favoring the plan may sign.

This movement is "sweeping the country" as no movement of ANY kind ever has done before. When people understand its provisions, and what it really means to all of us, they are more than 95 per cent in favor of it.

More than seven million signatures to these petitions are now on file at headquarters, ready to be used when Congress convenes, and we confidently expect to have more than twenty million signatures before December 15th, as more than five thousand men and women are now actively circulating these petitions and asking those who favor the plan to sign them.

Transylvania county would be benefitted approximately one and one-half million dollars per year, if this plan is enacted into law. Let us see to it that our county sends in her full share of signatures to the petitions.

ROSMAN BOYS GIVE BANQUET FOR DADS

Father-Son Event Regarded As Outstanding Program
Given By Class

In one of the best planned and executed programs ever to be given at Rosman high school, the vocational agriculture class entertained their dads and a number of invited guests in the high school building Thursday evening.

A dinner that was complete in every detail to edible foods, a program that was an eye opener to most of those present, perfect service by girls of the home makers class, and music by the Fisher String band, all combined to make the event a successful one.

Victor Sigmon, president of the Future Farmers of America organization, presided at the banquet and introduced the class members who took part. Outstanding on the program was the welcome address by Lawrence Banther, and a short talk by J. R. Breedlove on "soil erosion," which is a study the boys are taking this school term under Professor Randall Lyday, agriculture teacher.

Around 125 members of the class, school officials and visitors were present.

Program as rendered was as follows: Welcome address, Lawrence Banther; response, L. V. Sigmon; invocation, Rev. G. A. Hovis; music by Fisher String band; program of work, Ted Harbin; summer trips, Augustus Norris; new deal for the farmer, Leo Reid; soil erosion, J. R. GALLOWAY SEEKING TVA CANNERY HERE

Transylvania county may be in line for a cannery under the Tennessee Valley Authority, according to information received here this week by M. W. Galloway from John E. Barr, cannery supervisor for the TVA.

In his letter to Mr. Galloway, Supervisor Barr states that he will notify Mr. Galloway on a date in the near future when he can come to Brevard and wishes to meet with a representative group of Transylvania county citizens at that time. It is quite probable that Mr. Barr will be in Brevard the latter part of this week to go into details of the project.

SMOKING BANNED IN LOCAL SCOUT TROOP

Editor The Times:

In the local Boy Scout troop there is a heated controversy in regard to the smoking law—that is, there was until the troop meeting Friday night when the assistant scoutmaster, C. M. Douglas, announced that he and the scoutmaster, J. E. Ruffy, had assumed complete dictatorial power in this question. Although Mr. Ruffy and Mr. Douglas have full backing of the Scout committee and the Kiwanis club, troop sponsors, several of the older scouts are determined to argue their point to the end and put the matter to a vote in the troop. Mr. Douglas asserted that the boys would get no vote on the matter until March there will be a question. Until March there will be no legal smoking in the troop. At that time the boys will be able to change the troop committee to men who will, perhaps, allow smoking under certain conditions.

Several good points were brought out on each side, those favoring repeal of the law being far overbalanced by those not favoring this move.

A large number of Brevard fans are expected to be on hand at the Hendersonville gridiron when the starting whistle blows at three-thirty.

The Hendersonville boosters are making a home-coming and loyalty day out of the event, and Brevard is expected to be well represented on their side of the field.

PREFERRED CLAIMS BEEN PAID IN FULL

Many Claims Settled by Transfer of Real Estate Held
By Defunct Bank

FUTURE PAYMENTS ARE
HINTED BY LIQUIDATOR

Rents and Interest On Holdings Have Paid Costs of Liquidation

In addition to the preferred claims in the approximate amount of $18,000 paid last week, Gurney P. Hood, commissioner of banks, is mailing checks this week in the amount of approximately $25,000.00 in payment of a ten per cent dividend to the remaining depositors and creditors of the Brevard Banking Co.

Pat Kimzey, local attorney of the commissioner of banks and liquidating agent of the Brevard Banking company states that the payment of this dividend has been made possible by those parties who have paid their obligations to the closed Brevard Banking company, and to the public spirited cooperation of the Commissioners of Transylvania county and their attorney, the Hon. W. E. Breese; the board of aldermen of the town of Brevard, and its attorney, Senator Ralph H. Ramsey Jr.; The Brevard Building and Loan Association, and other owners of large claims against the Brevard Banking company, who have accepted real estate in full payment of their claims.

Mr. Kimzey states that the amount and date of the payment of any future dividends to the depositors depends entirely upon the payment of obligations by those people who now owe the Brevard Banking company. Mr. Kimzey further states that he will appreciate any help or suggestions given him by the depositors of the bank which will assist him in making collections from those people who still have their money borrowed.

The liquidating agent further stated that, in his opinion, there are a lot of honest people who still owe the bank and who are trying to pay their debts, but who have found it impossible to do so. On the other hand according to the liquidating agent, there is a considerable number who have the depositors' money borrowed and who are not trying to pay their obligations, but instead are trying to take advantage of every subterfuge possible to avoid the legal collection of them. Mr. Kimzey said.

For the information of the depositors and creditors of the bank, it was stated that during the past two years the income of the bank, consisting of rents and interest, had more than paid all of the expenses of the liquidation, including salaries, attorney fees, taxes, insurance, etc.

The commissioner of banks is very anxious to pay the depositors what he can and close out the liquidation of the closed Brevard Banking company as quickly as possible, therefore the liquidating agent requests that those who owe the Brevard Banking company make an immediate settlement.

College Plays At Mars Hill Thursday Afternoon In Championship Tilt

Brevard College football squad will go into its last game of the season Thursday afternoon at three o'clock when it meets the Mars Hill college outfit on the latter's field.

Without ballyhoo or excuses, the local group, playing its first year has made the grade of winning each of the conference games played this season, lacking only the final push of the Mars Hill victory to have the conference championship come to Ralph James and his college in the first season.

Mars Hill is by no means a mediocre opponent, this school having been organized a number of years and playing football for many years. Mars Hill has also come through the season with a record of winning all its conference games, hence the Thanksgiving Day go will mean the title for either Brevard or Mars Hill.

With business houses in Brevard closed for the day, it is expected that a record attendance of Brevard and Transylvania fans will be on the ground to cheer their favorites on to a plunging, fighting victory. The boys themselves, as well as fans of the community, are looking forward eagerly to the game, and—the championship.

Starting lineup has not been announced by Coach James.
