

MRS. GOULD BURIED IN SAVANNAH, GA.

Mrs. Annie B. Gould, 78, a former resident of Brevard, died Saturday afternoon, November 17, at the home of her daughter in Wheeling, W. Va. Funeral services and interment were in Savannah, Ga., her former home.

DISEASE HITS RELIEF CATTLE

Raleigh, Nov. 27—Scabbies or scab, a dangerous disease that has never affected North Carolina's native cattle, has developed in a herd of 750 animals sent to Hyde county for pasturage by the relief administration according to Commissioner of Agriculture William A. Graun.

A positive report on the type of disease has been received from the United States bureau of animal husbandry in Washington, Dr. William Moore, state veterinarian, said. Dr. Moore with assistants went to Hyde county to inspect the cattle when the report was received that the animals were suffering from some skin infection. Specimens of the skin were taken and sent to Washington for analysis.

STATEMENT OF THE OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT, CIRCULATION, ETC., REQUIRED BY THE ACTS OF CONGRESS OF AUGUST 24, 1912, AND MARCH 3, 1933

Of The Transylvania Times published weekly at Brevard, North Carolina, for Nov. 29, 1934. State of North Carolina, County of Transylvania, SS. Before me, a notary public, in and for the state and county aforesaid, personally appeared C. M. Douglas, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the editor and owner of The Transylvania Times and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management (and if a daily paper the circulation), etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, as amended by the Act of March 3, 1933, embodied in section 537, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse side of this form, to wit:

1. That the names and addresses of the owner, publisher, editor, managing editor, and business manager is C. M. Douglas, Brevard, N. C.

2. That the known bondholders, mortgages, and all other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are: C. W. Pickelsimer, Brevard, N. C.

3. That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders if they appear upon the books of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds or other securities than as so stated by him.

C. M. DOUGLAS.

CORN-HOG CASH TO BE OFFERED HERE

Corn-hog contract payments will again be offered to farmers of North Carolina, according to advices from State College received here last week. Transylvania county had 24 contracts last year, and from the reduction the farmers are supposed to receive $3,163.50. However, there are a number of charges that will have to be paid by the farmers, which will amount to nearly 10 per cent.

Following is statement from the State College:

Benefit payments will be offered to North Carolina farmers who wish to adjust their corn or hog production in 1935. W. W. Shay, swine specialist at State College, has announced.

The maximum reduction to be required by the 1935 contracts will be 10 per cent under the base average for 1932 and 1933. However, corn growers may reduce as much as 30 per cent and get benefit payments in proportion with their reductions.

The payments will be $15 a head on the hogs by which the 1935 production will be cut under the base average and 35 cents a bushel on the average corn production of the land withdrawn from corn cultivation.

The 1935 contracts will be simpler than those for this year and will permit land retired from corn to be used in the production of any other crop, save basic commodities, for use as the farmer sees fit.

There will be no limitation of feeder pigs bought by one contract signer from another, but the number of feeder pigs bought from a non-signer will be limited to the average number bought by the signer in 1932 and 1933.

North Carolina is not confronting a menace of corn-hog over-production, Shay said, and growers will not be urged to sign the contracts. But if they desire to get the liberal benefit payments, they will be given full opportunity to sign.

GLANCING BACK AT BREVARD

Taken from the files of The Sylvan Valley News, beginning 1895, through the courtesy of Mrs. W. B. F. Wright.

(From the file of July 8, 1898)

J. W. Pless, our worthy mayor, is the proud parent of a bouncing baby boy. In this connection it might be well to state that public opinion has pronounced the child's complexion the "red" itary.

Miss Alice Justus, who returned in May from a year of instruction at the Cullowhee high school, has been secured by the directors as teacher at Cathey's Creek district. Her course of instruction may, we sincerely hope, prove a paying investment.

Miss Ella Glazener has been secured as teacher for the school at Rocky Hill in Cathey's Creek township.

The front of the Pickelsimer block is undergoing a change at the hands of Trantham's painters. We learn it will be green and gold when finished.

Miss Jennie Glazener will teach the fall term of school at the East Fork district, if we are correctly informed.

B. T. Edgerton, who has had a month's outing, is once more at the throttle of his engine on the H & B. He has become almost a necessity to the people along the line.

A party of prominent visitors from Asheville and Biltmore spent several days sight seeing in the vicinity of Brevard beginning with Friday last. The party was composed of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Harding, present manager of the Biltmore estate; Misses H. and F. Underwood, prominent society ladies of Chicago, and Dr. Edwin Fisher of Asheville. They seemed to enjoy our various attractions. They were guests of the McMinn house.

John Wagner, the hustling baggage "smasher" on the H & B, met with a serious and painful accident while coupling cars on Thursday last. His attention became diverted from his business and he permitted his right hand to get between the bumpers. The index finger was badly mashed, while the flesh on the remainder of his fingers and hand was painfully lacerated. However, with his hand in a sling, John is still at his post.

MORE AND BETTER FARM STOCK NEEDED

Horses and mules are not listed among North Carolina's surplus commodities, says C. D. Grinnells, associate professor of animal husbandry at State College.

In fact, he says, the shortage in work stock, felt for years, reached significant proportions during the depression and is still one of the state's agricultural problems.

Grinnells says it would take at least four years to appreciably remedy the shortage, but a program started now would, in a few years, place North Carolina in a good position insofar as work stock is concerned.

Prices of good, sound animals will continue high, he says, and owners of good stock will find it well worth while to breed and raise high grade animals.

Meanwhile, he urges farmers to take care of the stock they have. Too many farmers have drifted into the custom of letting their horses and mules shift for themselves. The rations are limited and the quality of the feed, especially during the off season, is usually bad, indigestible, damaged or mouldy.

This condition is aggravated by advanced age, poor teeth and less efficient digestive tracts, found in many animals. Improper feed is a serious matter for old horses and mules. Abrupt changes of feed, over-eating and careless treatment often prove fatal. Horses are less able than cattle to withstand the effects of bad feed.

The horse or mule fills an important place on the farm, especially in these days of crop adjustments. Grinnells says, and it will pay farmers to take better care of their work stock.

AT LYDAY HOSPITAL

Patients reported at Lyday Memorial hospital the past week include Lyndon Galloway, Eddie Holden, Mrs. Frank Raines, Mrs. Will Hunt, Killian Jarrett, Mrs. Bill Jordan.

Counterfeiting Ring Caught
New York, Nov. 22.—Nine men and one woman, rounded up by federal agents in one of the most sweeping counterfeiting raids in years, were under heavy guard tonight in prisons here and in Newark, N. J., in default of high bail.

The seven arrests in New York, two of whom said they were living on home relief, were arraigned before Commissioner Garrett W. Cotter, charged with conspiracy in making counterfeiting plates, photographing real bills for counterfeiting purposes and with printing spurious money.

They all denied connection with any counterfeit ring.

To Our Savings Depositors:

Effective January 1, 1935, the Board of Directors of Transylvania Trust Company has fixed a maximum interest rate of 2% on savings accounts.

It has always been the policy of The Transylvania Trust Company to pay savings depositors the best possible rate of interest consistent with safety. In recent years the yield on high-grade investments has declined rapidly and the opportunities for profitable employment of funds have greatly decreased. It is necessary, therefore, to adjust interest rates on savings deposits to conform with prevailing conditions.

Interest will be compounded quarterly instead of semi-annually as heretofore, and deposits made during the first ten days of each quarter will draw interest from the first of the quarter.

We appreciate all our accounts and it will always be our first aim to safeguard our depositors' funds and make them available whenever needed.

AT THE CLEMON THEATRE

Showing Wednesday and Thursday of this week at Clemon Theatre will be "The White Parade," with Loretta Young and John Boles in leading roles. It's a love story that ends differently, in a way that leaves the film fan with a deeper regard for the young girl nurses who dedicate their lives to the service of suffering.

On Friday and Saturday Bob Steele will appear in "A Demon for Trouble." This is a picture with a plot of originality, clever acting and high speed action completely outclassing the average tale of adventure in the wide open spaces.

Monday and Tuesday, December 3 and 4, Gene Stratton Porter's "A Girl of the Limberlost" will be shown, starring Louise Dressler, Marian Marsh and Ralph Morgan. The re-creation of this great human story and real human characters on the screen will be welcomed by millions of readers of this popular story, depicting the life of a girl who struggled until she reached the thing she craved, of a woman who suffered many deaths for sins that she never committed.

Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy will star in "Babes in Toyland" a feature length comedy, on Wednesday and Thursday, December 5 and 6.
