

PENSION MEETING DRAWS THROUG

ploy, the merchants, material men and farmers from whom they would purchase their requirements.

Third—The benefits to the people to whom these people would pay the money received for such requirements.

And so on in a never ending cycle. Money once released into the channels of trade will turn over from five to ten times per month and often much more.

But call it five times to be conservative, and the money released in Transylvania county, with its multiplied turnover would amount to at least six hundred thousand dollars per month—more than twenty thousand dollars per day.

Imagine, if you can, what that amount of money released in Transylvania county would do for everybody in the county.

What would it do for the honest, hard working laboring man, who really wants to work and provide for his family, but has no job?

What it would mean to the farmers and business interests of the county?

What it would mean to the real estate business of the county?

What it would mean to the bank clearings, and building and loan business and to the insurance business.

What it would mean to the merchants?

What it would mean to the general prosperity of the county when our summer visitors come?

Bear in mind that they will come, as they have never come before—in far greater numbers than we have ever known, and, last but not least, they will have money to spend as they have never had before.

There will be a demand for cottages and home sites such as we have never known, and the buyers will be able to pay for what they want.

Similar benefits will come to the whole of Western North Carolina, and in a measure to every farm home, hamlet, village, town and city in the entire United States.

Think it over. It's a great big proposition.

Now as to the source from which the money with which to pay this pension is to be derived.

It is proposed to levy a transaction tax for this purpose, large enough to furnish the money.

This does not mean merely a retail tax on such articles as you purchase from your neighborhood store, such as food, clothing and so forth.

But a tax on big transactions, as well, such as the sale of stocks, bonds, securities, real estate and so forth.

I believe a great portion of it would be collected from stock, bond and security sales from and through such institutions as the New York Stock Exchange, the Chicago grain pit, the cotton exchange of New Orleans and many other such institutions which might be named throughout the length and breadth of our land.

Real estate sales, which would increase at a wonderful rate, would bear their share of it.

Insurance policies would, no doubt, come in for their share of it.

When such transactions come in for their share of the tax, and the unneeded processing taxes have been taken off, as there would be no further need for them, it is my conviction that the cost of living would not be materially increased and in fact might be decreased.

Think it over and add your names to the long list of those who have thought it over and have signed the petitions.

J. M. CLARK.

FOOD PRICES DOWN SLIGHTLY PAST MONTH

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 — Retail food prices continued to decline slightly during the two weeks ended November 20.

A labor department survey covering 51 cities showed that it would have taken $1.14 during those two weeks to buy the same amount of food that would have cost $1.15 two weeks before.

Bear And Deer Killed By Brevard Sportsman

Walter Welt, Brevard sportsman, has credit for killing the largest bear to be taken in Transylvania county in many years. The animal weighed over four hundred pounds and was killed with a .30 '06 Springfield rifle from a distance of 180 yards, only one shot being fired to bring the large male down.

Mr. Welt was secreted in a large tree where signs of bear had been seen in the Wolf Branch section of Cathey's Creek township, taking his stand about five o'clock in the morning. Just at daybreak the large bear ambled forth. After shooting the bear Mr. Welt remained motionless in the tree for 40 minutes, and with another single shot killed a one-spoke buck, this kill being made at 50 yards.

Shown in the picture is the bear. Mr. Welt, the one-spoke buck and Bob Burnett of Greenville, who was a member of the hunting party.—Cut courtesy The Asheville Citizen.

AIKEN RE-ELECTED BOARD CHAIRMAN

ative M. Wallace Galloway, all offices are now on a fee basis, with the office of county accountant abolished and the duties of this office placed in the office of register of deeds.

Much dissatisfaction over the new setup, as affecting the office of the county accountant has been expressed by people who have studied the local government act under which all counties now operate, it being expressed opinion of many citizens throughout the county that the office of county accountant should be maintained separate from other offices in the court house.

The bill as passed, pertaining to offices and salaries of same is as follows:

1.—H. B. 1019
AN ACT TO REGULATE THE SALARIES OF PUBLIC OFFICIALS IN TRANSYLVANIA COUNTY AND FOR OTHER PURPOSES.

The General Assembly of North Carolina do enact:

Section 1. That the office of County Treasurer of Transylvania county is hereby abolished.

Section 2. That the office of sheriff and tax collector for Transylvania county be and the same are hereby separated and there shall hereafter be a sheriff and a tax collector for said county both of whom shall be elected by the vote of the people as other county officers are elected.

Section 3. The salary of the sheriff of said county shall be twenty-seven hundred and fifty dollars per year.

Section 4. The Tax Collector for Transylvania county shall serve on a commission basis of not exceeding two per centum per annum of the amount collected; that such commission shall not exceed the aggregate sum of $1,500.00 per annum, the said Tax Collector to collect all taxes, current, delinquent and special.

Section 5. That the salary of the Clerk of the Superior Court and the Register of Deeds shall be fifteen hundred and sixty-five dollars per year each, and all salaries and commissions on tax collections hereinafter provided shall be due and payable in twelve equal monthly installments, and shall be in full and complete payment for all services of said officers.

Section 6. That any and all fees collected by any of the aforesaid officers, either directly or indirectly, shall be immediately turned over to the County Commissioners and proper receipt taken therefor.

Section 7. That the County Accountant shall receive a salary of $1000.00 per year for the years 1933 and 1934; and that the said office of said County Accountant shall be, and the same is hereby abolished on the first Monday in December, 1934; and the duties of said office are hereby transferred to and consolidated with the office of Register of Deeds for Transylvania county, to become effective on or after the aforesaid date; Provided, that L. V. Sigmon, the present county accountant, shall be allowed to charge full fees for his duties as county commissioner, in addition to his salary as county accountant; Provided, further, that said county accountant shall not be required to perform any duty or duties required by statute to be performed by other officer or officers.

Section 8. The Board of Commission-

Securities Bought

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5—Nearly a billion in new securities offered by the federal government to obtain funds to finance the recovery program over the next three months were eagerly snapped up by investors Monday.

ers of Transylvania county may employ a janitor for the court house and county jail, such janitor to take care of the court house, court house grounds and the heating plant in the jail from seven A. M. to five P. M.; Provided, however, that the county commissioners may, in their discretion, use any prisoners serving jail sentences and entitled to jail bounds in performing the duties herein described of the janitor.

Section 9. That no county official or employee shall be entitled to receive more than the county commissioners pay any such official or employ any money other than his salary, commissions or wages as provided by law for or in consideration of the services such officer or employ may render, and no bonus, fee nor reward shall hereafter be paid by the county commissioners for the destruction of illicit distilleries destroyed by sheriffs, deputy sheriffs or constables; nor shall these officers be required to "bring in" any part of such outfits but may destroy same where found; Provided, that any officer capturing any such whiskey making outfit may, so far as the county commissioners are concerned, sell all copper or other metals used in connection therewith after same have been analyzed unless for making whiskey, and shall be entitled to the proceeds derived therefrom.

Section 10. That from and after the first Monday in December, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four, the sheriff, the clerk of the superior court and the register of deeds of Transylvania county shall each operate on a fee basis and shall be governed by the official fee bill as set out in the Consolidated Statutes, such fees to be collected by said officers which shall be in lieu of all salary theretofore received by any of said officers. This on or after the first Monday in December, 1934, the commissioners of Transylvania county may, in their discretion, require that all bonds given by county officials shall be made through a bonding company, said company to be approved by the Commissioner of Insurance of North Carolina.

Section 11. In cases of extreme emergencies or crises the Board of County Commissioners shall have power, in conjunction with the local government commission, to make such further reduction in the operating expenses of the county as conditions may warrant or which the exercise of reasonable and proper discretion may justify, to the end that the taxpayers may receive just and proper consideration and protection.

Section 12. That any and all laws or clauses of laws contrary to or in conflict with any of the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

Section 13. That this act shall be in force and effect on and after the first day of April, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three.

In the General Assembly, read three times, and ratified, this the 26th day of April, 1933.

A. H. GRAHAM,
President of the Senate.
R. L. HARRIS,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.

County ERE Setup Rated Very Highly

A letter from Supervisor Mrs. J. M. Day, of Asheville, to the county ERE chairman here says: "I am delighted with the splendid progress you are making and I want to assure you of my continued interest and support. Transylvania county is certainly going over the top this year. I think it highly probable that our progress will continue through the school year. Of course, we may have to drop a few teachers or put some on half time but I will make an effort to help you."

The fact is, Transylvania with 22 teachers and an enrollment of 522 students in adult work alone, rivals Buncombe, and stands at the top of the list in Western North Carolina.

All these teachers in Transylvania are asked to meet next Saturday, December 8th at the court house with reports, and hear important announcements.

OKLAHOMA AVIATOR IN RECORD ATTEMPT

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., Dec. 5—Wiley Post was jubilant tonight, convinced that he had spiraled his round-the-world monoplane Winnie Mae higher into the air than any heavier-than-air craft hitherto had gone. He said he believed he reached 48,000 feet or more.
