To His Honor, Wilson Warlick, Judge Presiding.

Sir: We the grand jury, having finished our labors for the present term of Transylvania County Superior Court, submit the following report:

We wish to thank Youf Honor for your charge and to thank all the officers of the court for their assistance to us.

We have examined all bills submitted to us by the Solicitor and returned the same into court.

We have examined the court house and the offices therein. The offices are apparently well kept and in good order. We find the bonds of all the newly installed officers apparently in good form, all duly approved and in our opinion good solvent bonds. We find the building in good condition except the following repairs needed: The heating system needs overhauling, especially the valves. Many of the window panes need to be re-putted. The woodwork needs repainting on the outside. We recommend complete new modern plumbing in the ladies' rest room and in the public division, also a new floor in the ladies' rest room. The various spigots need overhauling. There is no state flag in the court room.

We have examined the jail and find same well kept and in good order, except that we recommend the following: minor adjustments to plumbing and heating. Repairs to various windows. We recommend a wire netting to be placed over the jail windows close enough and strong enough to prevent articles being passed in and out. We also recommend a fence around the jail ample to keep outsiders at ample distance.

We examined the county home and find things in good condition, well kept, inmates satisfied, and the institution well supplied with furniture and provisions.

We examined the prison camp at Calvert and found the construction work being rushed to completion, and the work appears to be substantial, secure and well planned. The superintendent expects to move the force to it within the next two weeks.

RELIEF CATTLE ARE BEING SHIPPED OUT

Over Two Thousand Head To Be Moved From Transylvania County

All relief cattle in Transylvania county are to be shipped out before December 31, according to orders received here several days ago.

Around twenty-four hundred head of cattle from the drouth stricken areas of the west were sent here during the summer and distributed in various size lots on farms and boundaries throughout the county.

Assumption was, when the cattle were placed, that they would be left here during the winter months, the government to pay up to three dollars per head per month for keep of the cattle with part of the feed to be furnished by the government.

Contract as recently signed by majority of the farmers who had cattle for feeding and care, set out specifically that the cattle were to be kept until such time or times as the governmental agencies would deem suitable for taking them. Misunderstanding has been reported in several instances, some farmers asserting that they would not give up the cattle until May of 1935, this date being termination of their contract with the relief agencies for keeping the cattle, and the assumption being that the cattle would not be taken away until that time.

All cattle in the state are to be moved before the first of January, with exception of a small number that will be left in the counties for the rehabilitation program.

BASKETBALL STARTS IN NEW GYMNASIUM

College and High School To Use Uptown Auditorium —Many Are Out

Intramural basketball for both boys and girls will occupy the sports program at Brevard College for the next three months. A gymnasium with seating capacity of 250 is now being placed in condition and active play will begin within the week.

According to Coach James of Brevard College the basketball season at the college will consist largely of games within the league which is to be formed in the college. Eight conference games have been arranged with four North Carolina junior colleges, playing a home- and -home game with each of the four teams.

Sixty-five players have signified their intention of entering the college league competition. Plan of the league is to divide the available players into squads of six men each and form a league with as many teams as is necessary. Regularly scheduled games will be played and a winner produced by the round-robin tournament. Present indications are that it will be necessary to form two leagues, each league naming its champion and the two champions will play to win the school title.

Only two lettermen from Weaver College have reported for practice and Coach James can not at present give a fair estimate of the material from which he will mould a varsity team. Woodrow Griffin and Harry Whisenant are the two Weaver lettermen.

The gymnasium being prepared is being constructed in the Erwin building in the business section of Brevard and is in charge of the Brevard College-Brevard High School Athletic association. The high school and college will use the floor at stated hours for practice and play.

There is every indication that basketball will be well received in Brevard this season and Coach James is pleased with prospects for the intramural competition.
