

TVA OFFICIAL TO SPEAK HERE FRIDAY

Farmers and Business Men Invited To Hear Landess At Court House

W. M. Landess, administrative assistant in the agricultural division of the Tennessee Valley authority, will speak at Brevard court house Friday morning of this week at ten o'clock to what is hoped will be a large audience of farmers and business men of the county.

Mr. Landess, who is being sent out at this time by the Knoxville office of the TVA for purpose of acquainting people in general of the plans and methods of procedure under the Land Use and Conservation program instituted recently by the TVA in the territory which feeds the Tennessee valley, and what may be expected from the program by the various counties which are cooperating in the program.

Effort had been made by County Agent Glazener to have the representative here on Saturday afternoon, but pressing calls from other counties made it necessary to schedule the meeting on Friday morning so the administrator could continue on his itinerary.

Stress is laid on the fact that it is as much to the interest of the business men as it is to the farmers to attend this meeting.

MARY SUE JENNINGS WINS DAR CONTEST

Pilgrimage To Washington Is Prize Won; Competitors From N. C. Schools

Official announcement was received in Brevard Wednesday that Miss Mary Sue Jennings was winner in the National D. A. R. contest, chosen as the outstanding girl senior in North Carolina, thereby enabling her to join the patriotic pilgrimage to Washington, D. C., in April. Mrs. J. S. Silverstein, recording secretary of the North Carolina Daughters of the American Revolution, wired the message to Brevard from Goldsboro, where the State D. A. R. convention is now in session.

Competitors for the honor of being the senior girl from North Carolina to represent this state in Washington in April were chosen from each town in the state where a D. A. R. is located. The outstanding girl in the senior class of high school selected in each of the 48 states will be included as honor guests in this Washington pilgrimage.

Along with the winners in the 48 states, Miss Jennings will be given a free trip to the national capital, included in which will be many sight-seeing trips about Washington, a visit to President Roosevelt at the White House and other sights of interest, with all expenses paid by the D. A. R. organizations of the different states.

The choice of a girl from each locality was based upon strict qualifications including honor, courage, integrity, love of country, also a record of scholarship, leadership, service and a number of other requirements as set forth by the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, sponsors of the yearly pilgrimage to Washington.

Miss Jennings was, in the first place, the choice of the local student body to represent Brevard in the state competition, chosen because she met all of these qualifications, and many more in addition. She is a Golden Eaglet Girl Scout, a senior life saver of the National Red Cross, winner of a number of scholastic honors and a generally acclaimed all-around girl. She is a descendant of Lambert Clayton, of Revolutionary fame.

TOWNSEND CLUB TO BE ORGANIZED HERE

Old Age Pension Booster To Be Set Up At Meeting Here Saturday

There will be a meeting in the court house at Brevard at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, February 9th, for the purpose of forming a Townsend Old Age Pension club.

Every man and woman in Transylvania county who is interested in seeing this plan enacted into law is invited to be present and join the club.

Do not be alarmed at Secretary Perkins' shrieks of "unsound" nor the man who claims that the cost of living would increase 70 per cent, nor the man who asserts that the cost of living would increase at least 146 per cent.

Nor yet of the man who proclaims that the debt of the United States would be 245 billions of dollars as soon as this law was passed.

These statements are, one and all, "Wall Street propaganda" to keep the people whipped into line and have, in fact, no foundation.

Let us get together and form a club which will work, "tooth and nail" for the best thing which has been proposed since the Declaration of Independence.

Fire Department Offers Extinguisher

The Brevard fire department is offering for sale a new type safety for the home or business place in the form of a chemical fire-extinguishing powder which has been thoroughly tested and proven to be highly satisfactory.

The powder, when thrown at a blaze, by the handful, as one would scatter gravel or broadcast grain, causes a gas that instantly puts out the blaze. The formula for making this powder was bought by the fire department and the powder is being used as regular equipment by the fire department.

Quart containers of the extinguisher are being sold by members of the fire department for 75 cents each, any profits to be derived from sales to be used to buy needed equipment for the fire truck.

Brevard Bank Claims Must Be Filed Soon

Final notice to depositors in the Brevard Banking company to file claims is being made this week by Pat Kimzey, liquidating agent. Mr. Kimzey states that there are several hundred claims, some of them running into tidy sums, that should be filed by the depositors.

Dividend of ten per cent was paid some time ago by the bank to those who had filed claims, and it is necessary that proper proof of claims must be made before they can share in any future dividends that may be paid.

Production Loan Is Available To Farmers

Production Credit Association loans may be had immediately by making application at the Asheville office, according to E. Carl Allison, who has been active in the work for this county.

The Transylvania county association will not be set up for some time, possibly two or three weeks, Mr. Allison said, on account of the number of setups which have to be made from the Asheville office.

BOOSTER MEETING IS WELL ATTENDED

Fine Spirit Shown By Large Gathering Friday Night—Ladies In Charge

Around 125 representative people gathered in the Waltermire dining room last Friday night for the civic booster meeting which was a decided success in every way.

Mrs. Oliver H. Orr, president of the club, presided at the meeting and introduced the speakers following the impromptu luncheon that was prepared and served by a committee of ladies and their assistants.

Mrs. O. L. Erwin, former president of the club and active in women's circles, explained that purpose of the meeting was to get as many of the interested people together as possible, and work out a plan of making Brevard a bigger, better and cleaner town.

The Rev. Paul Hartsell, pastor of Brevard Baptist church, and active worker in civic affairs, spoke of civic pride and pointed out that there was a vast difference between pride and conceit. He stressed the need of a clean, appealing town to offer visitors.

C. M. Douglas, editor of The Times, stressed the fact that the town's greatest need is an active chamber of commerce as a means to bring better business and contentment to all.

Mavor J. C. Wike stated that it was the desire of the town officials to do all that is possible to help in a program that will tend to make the town more habitable.

Jerry Jerome, president of Brevard Kiwanis Club, and active in chamber of commerce work here for years, reiterated the idea that a chamber of commerce was an absolute necessity, and further declared that there was a decided need of getting

FLOWER PLANTING IS PLAN OF CIVIC CLUB

Cleaner and More Beautiful Premises Will Be Urged In Local Campaign

A movement to encourage the early planting of flowers by every housekeeper in the town was stressed at the meeting of the Women's Civic club, held Monday afternoon at the library.

The object of the movement is twofold. To assure an abundance and variety of flowers for exhibition in the flower show next summer, and also to stimulate a widespread interest in the beautification of private premises. Special emphasis is placed by the club on beautification of back yards as well as the front lawns. A general clean-up of front and rear premises is necessary, it was pointed out, before the planting of early flower seeds and bulbs can be properly done.

Cooperation of residents in the matter of cleaning up and beautifying their property and of creating a spirit of individual responsibility in the matter of keeping the streets in the business section free of trash and unsightly refuse were discussed as the two objectives to be stressed in the spring and summer campaign for a better and more beautiful town.

Bond Men Ask County To Re-issue Big Note

R. S. Dickson, of Charlotte, appeared before the county board Monday and asked that the commissioners re-issue or split up a one hundred thousand dollar past due note into denominations of one thousand dollars.

The bond man stated that his house had secured the large note at a comparatively low figure and that if the commissioners would split the note up he would be in position to either "break the bond market on Transylvania securities or give the taxpayers a very substantial saving." Dickson pointed out that people paying past due taxes and debt service portion of current taxes with county securities were victims of a high market which has become effective since passage of the bill for delinquent taxes in the present legislature. If the Charlotte bond house representative said, his house were able to place the bonds on sale in the smaller denominations, the market price would immediately fall on Transylvania paper.

The commissioners deferred action on the matter until they could have more time to investigate it. County Attorney Breese was present at the meeting and asked the bond men what concessions they would be willing to give the county in the matter provided the bond was split up. It was opinion of the county attorney that inasmuch as the bond holder was asking for aid in making the bond more saleable that the county should also benefit from the transaction by a write-off of part of the face value of the larger note.

Mr. Dickson stated that the taxpayers would get the saving when the smaller denominations were placed on the market, by reason of the fact that whereas past due bonds had been selling at from 60 to 70 cents on the dollar to taxpayers, they would be saved a considerable amount in paying their taxes under the lower cost at which his house proposed to make the paper available for paying debt service portion of current taxes or past due.

County Attorney Breese said that if the write-off were made to the county that the entire county would benefit from a reduction of the debt, whereas it is possible that only a few would benefit under the plan as submitted by the bond house, and that speculators in county paper would be the larger beneficiary.

It is expected that another meeting of the board will be held within a few days at which time the matter will again be taken up.

INTERESTING MEET IS HELD BY KIWANIS

Report Given On Fish Hatchery—Resolution Chides Senator Reynolds

A vote of thanks was given Wm. E. Breese by the Brevard Kiwanis club in meeting last Thursday for the active work the county attorney has done in the matter of furthering location of the fish hatchery in Pisgah National Forest.

Mr. Breese reported to the club that on his trip to Washington the week previous he found that Congressman Zeb Weaver was doing all he could to have the hatchery located in this section. However, Mr. Breese reported funds that had been originally intended for use in Pisgah National Forest had been diverted to another section, and that effort should now be centered on having the hatchery built from funds to be made available under the 1935 appropriation.

The Brevard man said that he felt sure either a hatchery or rearing pools would be constructed in this section, and that in either event Brevard and Transylvania county would

In an effort to keep litter off the streets of Brevard an ordinance was passed on its first reading Monday night by the town aldermen making it unlawful for promiscuous distribution of advertising in the town.

The ordinance, which will be again taken up at the next meeting of the board for second reading, provides:

"Section 1.—That it shall be unlawful for any person or persons to throw, cast or distribute except by United States mail any handbills, posters, circulars, programs, cards, placards, pamphlets or other printed, typed, stenciled or written matter or other advertising matter on any streets, avenues or public place or in any front yard or stoop in the town of Brevard, provided that this ordinance shall not apply to magazines and newspapers that are sold and distributed by carriers.

LAND USE MEETS BE HELD DURING WEEK

Community Gatherings Have Been Scheduled at Brevard, Enon and Little River

Effecting of community organizations under the Land Use and Conservation plan will get under way next week, with County Agent Glazener and Assistant Agent Maness expecting to visit three communities for this purpose during the week.

First meeting will be held in the agriculture room of Brevard high school on Monday night at 7:30; Tuesday night at Little River school house; Thursday night at Enon school house. Other community meetings will be held the following week in various communities, schedule to be announced through The Times next week.

At these community meetings, farmers will select a committee to represent their sections with a chairman and three board members to be elected by the farmers. The chairman from each of the community groups will automatically become a member of the county-wide organization, and will take active part in deciding upon a general program of agricultural extension and betterment under the TVA plan.

Selection of farms for demonstration purposes of the Tennessee Valley Authority will be made by the community groups, under guidance of the county agents.

Stress is laid on the fact that only those communities which are willing to cooperate in setting up the local groups will be able to participate in benefits from the TVA plan of work, as major portion of the work for the next year or two will center around the community or demonstration farms.

Assistant County Agent Maness, who is working directly under the Tennessee Valley Authority, is already active, being engaged this week in corn-hog contract work with Mr. Glazener. County agent offices are expected to be opened within a week.
