

FARM MEETINGS TO BE HELD IN COUNTY

Brevard, Little River, Enon and Rosman Groups Are Scheduled for Week

Farmers of the Brevard and Round Top sections will meet at the court house Saturday afternoon for organization of the Land Use and Conservation or TVA group for the community. The meeting scheduled for Monday night was not very well attended on account of the heavy rain, and it was thought best that a meeting be held Saturday, called for 2:00 o'clock.

Likewise, the meeting that was scheduled for Little River school house on Tuesday night of this week was postponed on account of the weather. This meeting will be held on Tuesday night of next week at the school building, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

The meeting will be held Thursday (tonight) night at Enon school house at 7:30 o'clock. Farmers are urged to attend this meeting. Arrangements have been made to have lights and heat.

On Tuesday night of next week farmers of the Cherryfield, Calvert and Rosman sections are called to meet in the vocational agriculture room at Rosman high school. While there will be a demonstration farm selected in the Cherryfield-Calvert section, and a community group organized there, no available place can be had right now for a meeting place.

County Agent Glazener states that he and Assistant Agent Maness are finding considerable interest in the program among the ladies of the county and that all ladies are cordially invited to attend the meetings and take part in setting up whatever program is best suited for their immediate communities.

After all, Mr. Glazener states, the ladies are vitally interested in the home and better conditions as much or more so than the men, and it will be to the interest of all if the ladies will take an active part in the work that is to be planned and carried on.

Stolen Car Recovered; Hat and Tools Missing

The Chevrolet coach belonging to Oliver H. Orr which was stolen in Brevard on the evening of March first was recovered Tuesday, very little the worse for wear.

It seems that highway patrolmen had located the car on the Hendersonville-Asheville highway the same night it was stolen and had it towed in to a storage place in Asheville. Tools, gas and a hat were missing from the car when Mr. Orr went for it Tuesday. An overcoat belonging to Mr. Orr was left in the car.

Hiram King Buried In Henderson Wednesday

Funeral services were held Wednesday in Henderson county for Hiram King, 94 year old Western North Carolina pioneer, who died Monday. Burial was made in the King cemetery near Dana.

Mr. King was known to many people of this county where he has a number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Surviving are three sons, Gordon King of Boylston section; Polk King and Ben King of Henderson county. He was father of the late A. H. King.

Mr. King was a Confederate veteran and following the close of the War Between the States, devoted his time to farming and fruit growing. He was a great fancier of fruits and was instrumental in the planting and culture of some of the best orchards in Henderson county.

Tennessee Valley Official Seeking To Assist Transylvania To 'Assist Itself'

W. W. Landess, administrative assistant in the agricultural division of the Tennessee Valley Authority, spoke here Friday morning to about two hundred farmers and business men, explaining some phases of the land use and conservation projects that are being started in Transylvania and other counties in the Tennessee Valley watershed.

An added feature of the meeting was music by the string band known as the FFA Ramblers, members of the band being vocational agriculture students at Brevard high school.

No set program is being undertaken by the TVA, the speaker said; rather the farmers are being urged to work together in community groups to bring out the best from the available natural assets.

Mr. Landess, who has served a number of years as county agent in Shelby county, Tennessee, has made a close study of farming in European countries as well as in the agricultural regions of the United States, and stressed the vital importance of conservation of the nature given fertility of soils.

He called for extreme care in checking soil erosion which he credited with robbing the farmer of thousands of dollars worth of production each year. He cited authori-

Will Arrest People For Chasing Fire Truck and Other Violations

People who follow the Brevard fire truck in the future are very apt to get a fine or sentence on the streets if plans go through that were discussed at a meeting of the fire department held Tuesday night at the England Home.

Not only is work of the firemen hindered by people crowding around the truck when there is a fire, it was pointed out by some of the volunteer firemen, but the practice of many of the Brevard residents is becoming dangerous for both firemen and citizens.

The firemen plan to have arrested any persons speeding in cars behind the truck when it is answering an alarm, and those who come within the block where a building is burning are to be arrested by the firemen themselves, several of the firemen being special policemen and vested with authority to make arrests and appear as witnesses in court against violators.

There is an ordinance on the town books to the effect that any person hindering in any way, any fireman getting to a fire after the alarm has been sounded, by operating a vehicle or crowding into the streets, or any person "chasing" the truck is liable to heavy fine.

It is also a violation of the town ordinances to park within the block in which firemen are engaged in fighting a fire, or to crowd close to the truck or building on foot.

Report was also made at the meeting that in a recent fire numerous people who had no interest other than one of curiosity entered the home that had been damaged, and to prevent any possible theft or damage to property the special officers who are members of the department plan to arrest such people.

The local department has a good record for efficiency, and it is for further protection of the public, both in property and safety from accidents that cause the firemen to take this stand.

Those attending the dinner meeting Tuesday night were: Chief J. S. Bromfield, Assistant Chief John W. Smith, Verne Clement, Dan Merrill, Phillip Price, Harold Kilpatrick, Robert Kilpatrick, George Bromfield, C. F. Misenheimer, Freeman Hayes and Bill Erwin. Harry Patton and C. M. Douglas were invited guests. Jerry Jerome, Winston Ashworth and Guthrie Kilpatrick could not attend.

Summey Is Pastor Zion Baptist Church

ROSMAN, March 13—The Rev. M. E. Summey was elected pastor of Zion Baptist church Sunday and will assume his duties at once.

The Rev. Mr. Summey is a native of this section, residing in South Carolina for several years. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Summey. He moved with his family here last week. He is quite well known as an evangelist, having held revivals in a large number of sections.

Services will be held the first and third Sundays.

Warm Meeting Will Be Held Friday Evening

ROSMAN, March 13—Discussion of farm ideas and practices will be held in the vocational agriculture room of Rosman high school on Friday night of this week at 7:30. Professor Randall Lyday invites all farmers of the upper end of the county to attend and take part in the discussions. Swapping ideas of practices found to be of value, plus new reports of methods that have been proven under the state extension work will be gone into at the meeting. It is hope of Mr. Lyday that there will be sufficient interest in the Friday night meeting to warrant continuation.

There will be an all-day singing at the East Fork Baptist church on the fifth Sunday in March. Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Lewis will have charge of the musical program, using choirs, quartets and other numbers.

We also want to have a service in honor of the birthday of the oldest merchant in Transylvania, whom most folk know is O. L. Erwin of Brevard. He and I were school boys together and most of our companions have gone on before. We extend to him an invitation to attend and ask that Mrs. Erwin help out in the music.

The public is invited to attend, and all are urged to bring well filled lunch baskets.

Funeral For Miss Carrie Trowbridge

Funeral services for Miss Carrie Trowbridge, 33, were held Saturday afternoon at St. Philip's Episcopal church in Brevard. Death occurred Friday morning at the home of her nephew, C. H. Trowbridge, in Brevard, following an illness of 10 days of heart trouble. The Rev. Harry Perry, rector of St. Philip's church, officiated, assisted by the Rev. J. H. Brendall, pastor of the Brevard Methodist church, and the Rev. J. P. Simmons, pastor of the Brevard Presbyterian church. Interment was in Gillespie cemetery.

Miss Trowbridge was a native of Danbury, Conn. She had made her home in Brevard and Weaverville for the past 25 years or more, having been a member of the faculty of Brevard Institute for quite a number of years. She lived in Weaverville for the past 12 years, making her home with C. H. Trowbridge, former president of Weaver college, and his family. When the family moved again to Brevard in the early fall of last year, she returned with them. She had been a member of the Brevard Episcopal church for 25 years, and was a member at the time of her death. She was a sweet and lovable character, with a winning personality, and had a host of friends scattered throughout this state and in other sections of the country.

Surviving are a sister-in-law, Mrs. Julia Trowbridge, nephew, C. H. Trowbridge, two nieces, Miss Alma Trowbridge and Miss Eleanor Trowbridge, all of Brevard, and three other nephews and their children living in the Midwest.

Active pallbearers were: O. H. Orr, Harold Newwood, William Wallis, J. S. Silverstein, Frank Jenkins and J. M. Allison.

Honorary pallbearers included members of the Brevard Wednesday club, of which Miss Trowbridge was a former member.

In charge of flowers were Mrs. E. J. Coltrane, Miss Lucile Smith, Miss Dulcie Hayes and Miss Earlene Poindexter, all of the Brevard College faculty.

Moore & Osborne, funeral directors, had charge of arrangements.

All-Day Singing To Be Held at East Fork 31st

(By W. N. GILLESPIE)

There will be an all-day singing at the East Fork Baptist church on the fifth Sunday in March. Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Lewis will have charge of the musical program, using choirs, quartets and other numbers.

We also want to have a service in honor of the birthday of the oldest merchant in Transylvania, whom most folk know is O. L. Erwin of Brevard. He and I were school boys together and most of our companions have gone on before. We extend to him an invitation to attend and ask that Mrs. Erwin help out in the music.

The public is invited to attend, and all are urged to bring well filled lunch baskets.

BUCK FOREST MEN IN BAD FOR MOONSHINE

Jim and Milas Perry of the Buck Forest section were placed in jail last week by Sheriff Tom Wood on a charge of operation of a moonshine outfit.

Sheriff Wood reports that the outfit found within a quarter mile of the Buck Forest road and close to the Perrys' homes, was evidently meant to be a permanent business venture, inasmuch as a shed had been erected over the plant.

The still was of the steamer type, all the apparatus going with such plants being confiscated along with two hundred gallons of beer just ready for manufacture.

TOWN BOARD VOTES TO STAY TAX SUITS

Resolution was adopted by the board of aldermen of the town of Brevard in meeting Monday night which makes it possible to postpone foreclosure proceedings against 1932 unpaid taxes on real property to December first of this year instead of April, as the law passed by the 1933 legislature sets out.

The order passed by the board is in conformity with a bill passed recently in the general assembly of a state-wide nature, which however, has to be taken advantage of by the official board of tax units to become effective. The county was put into the measure by Representative Henry through amendment.

Fashion Store Putting On Anniversary Sale

"We've been here a year and we are more than glad that we located in Brevard," states Edward J. Boger, owner of the Fashion Department store, who is celebrating his first anniversary with a special value-giving sale.

Since coming to Brevard a year ago, Mr. and Mrs. Bogen have taken an active part in community affairs, and their large store has proven to be a decided asset to the community. Complete details of the anniversary sale will be found in the second section of The Times this week, along with the special premiums that the Fashion is giving away as an added attraction of the anniversary sale.

J. C. Whitmore of Cherryfield is assisting the Fashion in putting on the sale.

Plea Made For Nursery School Operation Cash

The Brevard nursery school has two more months to run and has increased in attendance and therefore in expenses. Last week we were given more relief children, and included was an infant. Our personnel is busier than ever, and doing this with good will.

We acknowledge with gratitude the help on expenses given us by the clubs and individuals. The last we are glad to acknowledge are: Civic club $2.00 and a "Friend" whose name we are asked not to give, $2.00.

With all the help we have had we are still behind. We have two more months rent to pay, and more coal to buy.

The acute thing is that we have been obliged to put up some yard equipment, swings and acting bars, for mild weather, as we are in a private residence, which has none, and we owe for actual material the sum of $8.00.

These cannot be paid except from community contributions or by the teachers themselves, and we feel sure the people, when they know this, will want to at least divide it with us. We are yours to serve these tots.

Cordially,
MRS. JOHN McLEAN,
MRS. CONSTANCE BANKS.

AT LYDAY HOSPITAL

Patients reported at Lyday Memorial hospital on Wednesday were: W. L. Owen, Mary Frances Plummer, Wilton Arrowood, Lucien English, little Hester Fowler and W. M. Corn.

Eastern Star Meeting

Worthy Matron Mrs. E. S. English requests all officers of the Eastern Star to meet Monday night at 7:30 o'clock at the lodge hall for rehearsal, preparatory to the public installation of officers to take place at the regular chapter meeting on Tuesday night.

OWEN SEVERELY CUT BY ALB. KILPATRICK

Leonard Owen of Brevard is reported to be improving at Lyday Memorial hospital where he was carried last Saturday night for knife wound treatment.

Owen was cut about the head, neck and on the shoulder by a knife alleged to have been wielded by Albert Kilpatrick of the East Fork section. Condition of the wounded man has been such that a preliminary hearing has not been held and details of the affair are not available.

Following the wounding of Owen, M. A. Lance and his wife of Brevard were placed in jail, and Kilpatrick was placed in jail Sunday night after having been sought Saturday night and Sunday by the sheriff's department. Kilpatrick came in just after dark Sunday night and surrendered to Chief of Police Freeman. He is being held without bond for a preliminary hearing, and the Lances are being held by the sheriff as material witnesses.

The affair took place just opposite the court house on Main street, and Owen lost considerable blood before he was given treatment at the hospital, his worst wound being a slash on the neck from near center of the back to the front, barely missing the jugular vein.

BIG EGG SENT TO TIMES OFFICE BY MRS. MULL

The year 1935 will be a bumper crop year if the measuring stick is an egg that was sent to The Times office this week by Mrs. J. A. Mull of the Selma section.

The large egg measures seven and three fourths inches by six inches and looks to be plenty large to furnish the egg for ham an.

SEEKS GOVERNMENT CATTLE IN COUNTY

Reward Offered by FERA Officials For Return of Strayed Animals

The Transylvania emergency relief office is endeavoring to rid the county of a remnant of government cattle brought here last summer.

Several cattle wandered from the open pastures and have drifted from place to place. A few have been taken up by farmers and others are still at large.

Dr. M. M. Leonard, veterinary inspector, is here working with the relief office in an effort to remove these cattle from the county.

The government is very anxious for their removal because of the danger of spreading scabies from government cattle to those of the farmers. For this reason the cooperation of the public is invited.

Farmers are asked to report to the relief office the location of cattle, whether on their premises or the property of others.

A reward of one dollar each will be paid for the cattle which have been placed in a lot or pasture where they can be reached by government officials. Reasonable feeding fees will also be allowed.
