Double Indemnity Taken From Stock

In the interest of relieving the stockholders in the Transylvania Trust Co. of double liability on their stock holdings in that institution, J. D. Murray from the examining staff of the state banking department was in Brevard on March 22.

The legislature recently passed the Lindsay bill (H. B. 155) and it was immediately ratified. It makes the following provisions for relieving stockholders in state banking institutions of double liability:

1. Publication by the bank in a newspaper having general circulation in the community where the bank is located, once each week for four consecutive weeks prior to May 1st, 1935, of the bank's intent to seek such relief.

2. Mailing written notice to each depositor and to each other creditor prior to May 1st, 1935.

3. Sworn affidavits from a bank officer that such notices have been mailed and sworn affidavits from the publisher on each insertion of the advertisement, that such publication has been made.

On the completion of these proceedings and the forwarding of such affidavits to the commissioner of banks, state banking institutions can accomplish this relief to their stockholders by July 1st, 1935.

HOSPITAL REPORT VERY SATISFACTORY

Duke Foundation Institution In Brevard Fills Need In Community

A highly satisfactory report of operation of the Lyday Memorial hospital was made at a meeting of the board of directors of the Duke Foundation institution last Saturday, showing that the hospital was in very good financial standing, and further, that it had been of great benefit to this county during the past year.

A total of 1,672 hospital days were used by patients during the past year the report showed, this being an average of 140 per month or more than twice the number of hospital days for the eight months the hospital was under the Duke Foundation management during 1933.

Seven hundred sixty-six full pay patient days were shown in the report, with 156 part pay and 750 totally free days. The latter number of 750 free days was cared for in part by the Duke Foundation.

Operated as a community institution for the past 21 months, the hospital has been of material value not only in the matter of taking care of indigent patients through help of the Duke Foundation, but as a regular and emergency hospital as well.

The Rev. Paul Hartsell was elected to the board of directors, which is now composed of Ralph H. Ramsey, Jr., Thorvald Berg, Miss Florence Kern, Miss Jeanette Talley, Mrs. S. P. Verner and the Rev. Mr. Hartsell. Dr. C. L. Newland and Dr. Harold J. Bradley are members of the staff. Miss Myrtice Dillard is superintendent.

BREVARD TEAM SET FOR TODAY'S GAME

Collegians On Edge After Several Days Of Strenuous
Training

By JAZZY MOORE

Brimming over with confidence after several days of strenuous training, the Brevard College Tornados are on edge for their opening baseball game of the season, which will be played at Spartanburg, S. C., this afternoon (Thursday) with the Wofford College varsity nine.

Coach Ralph James seems to be well pleased with the showing the squad has made during the training period. He has had a good looking bunch of men out for the team and prospects for a winning club are unusually bright. Everything has gone fine so far and observers believe the team that takes the field today will be one of the best to represent a junior college in Western North Carolina in several years.

Coach James has not announced anything about the lineup that will start the opening game. He in all probability will give everybody a chance to show his wares before the season terminates.

There is, however, a strong probability of John Wahonick, sturdy righthander from the sandlots of Alabama, being called to the mound in the opener, though James has not announced anything along that line. Wahonick will be reinforced this season by Tom Graham, Pckelsimer, Kilpatrick, Williams, Patton and other capable twirlers.

Friday, the locals will clash with the Textile Institute team at Spartanburg. They will open the home season on April 20th with the Davidson Frosh furnishing the opposition.

Texaco Station To Be Built on Brevard Lot

J. H. Reaben of Hendersonville was in Brevard Wednesday and announced that he expects to start work within the next few days on a suitable structure for a service station on the lot on North Broad street which is known as the "town lot."

Mr. Reaben said that the super-Texaco style station of latest design would be erected.

TO OPERATE SCHOOL ON QUARTER BASIS

New Plan at Brevard College To Go Into Effect This Year, It Is Said

By JAZZY MOORE

A change in the plan of operation at Brevard College whereby the college year will be divided into three quarters of twelve weeks each has been announced by President E. J. Coltrane.

This new plan replaces the old semester system which has been in effect since the organization of the college last September. It is to be put into operation this year, according to announcements.

In addition to the regular college year of three quarters, there will be a summer quarter of twelve weeks, enabling the college plant to be utilized throughout the entire year.

Courses of study are now being arranged to accommodate those who desire to enter at the beginning of any quarter. Particular emphasis, it is said, will be placed on the entrance of a freshman class on June 11th of this year.

The summer session will also be opened for students who may wish to make up work or to pursue advanced subjects. Under the direction of Rev. R. D. McNeer, head of the department of religious education, several short courses in the field of religion will be offered to young people who may want to come to the college for special work. Practically all members of the regular college faculty will be on the summer school staff.

It is the opinion of President Coltrane that it will be possible under the new arrangement to have approximately 600 students in the college during the year. There will be decided advantages to high school graduates who may be unemployed and ready to enter college in June.

Six quarters of twelve weeks each will be required for the completion of a general college course, the courses to be taken in consecutive order if the student elects. A student entering in June of this year could graduate from the college in December 1935. Students entering in September may complete their courses in six consecutive quarters or they may drop out in any particular quarter and return to the college at a time suitable for re-entering their chosen courses.

The principle of self-help which is the basis of the Brevard College plan, will receive special attention during the summer quarter.

Tannery Baseball Nine Starting Working Out

The Transylvania Tanners held their first practice Monday afternoon in preparation for the coming baseball season.

While several of last year's regulars have reported, Red Misenheimer, manager of the nine, has not designated any positions. The team had a successful season last year and furnished quite a bit of entertainment for the home folk and tourists.

R. L. Cansler Injured

Robert L. Cansler, member of the Pisgah National Forest forestry division, was seriously injured last Thursday when he was struck by a car. The accident happened near Johnson City, Tenn., and Mr. Cansler was carried to a hospital in that city where his condition is reported to be rather serious. The local man suffered body bruises and a fractured skull.

Burns Prove Fatal To Mrs. G. Galloway

ROSMAN, March 27—Funeral services were conducted at Old Toxaway Baptist church Sunday afternoon by the Rev. Judson Corn and the Rev. M. E. Summey for Mrs. Glenn Galloway, 17, who died Saturday night from burns received at her home on the previous Wednesday in the Old Toxaway section.

Mrs. Galloway was said to have been attempting to re-ignite a fire in a stove and poured kerosene on live coals, causing an explosion of the oil can in the young woman's hands, the flames enveloping her, and catching the house on fire. She was rushed to the Lyday Memorial hospital at Brevard, but was so badly burned that only temporary relief could be given her.

Mrs. Galloway was, before her marriage about a year ago, Miss Reathie Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim H. Morgan of the Old Toxaway section, who with the husband and several brothers and sisters, survive.

The following teachers are notified that they will be expected to sponsor the clinic:

Miss Faye Glazener, Mrs. Ruby Hubbard, W. B. Henderson, Miss Susie Jordan are to report to Rosman.

This clinic has nothing to do with the regular pre-school clinic, which will be held at a later date.

Balsam Grove Camp Interesting Place; Outstanding Work Being Done By Boys

Camp F-14 is not only a decided asset to Transylvania county in a material way but it also a great place for royal entertainment, according to expressions from several Brevard business men who were guests of the CCC officers and boys Tuesday evening.

Aside from the fine dinner that was prepared and served by the boys enrolled at the camp, the trip from Rosman to the Beech Island campsite up the Gloucester road was a revelation to some of the fellows who had not been over this, one of the most beautiful scenic drives of the entire western section of the state.

Arriving at camp around 5:30 the party was met by Captain O'Neal and his efficient and courteous staff and shown over the camp grounds.

The camp occupies what is said to be the largest "island" in this section, being completely circled by a freak flow of North Fork of the French Broad river. Capitalizing upon the unique location in the island cove that is surrounded by towering hills, the camp personnel has made a beauty spot out of the parade grounds and the camp property.

Carefully laid out walks, graveled, and bordered by white stones, connecting all cabins and main buildings and merging into a common center about the mast from which floats the American flag, an orderliness of the first rank prevails that was overwhelming to members of the party who were at the camp for their first time.

Cabins, "neat as a pin" and comfortably arranged, were inspected. In the center of the four-man dwellings grouped about the parade grounds in one-two style, were unique heaters that looked like an inverted funnel, with no grate or fire-box, but which the boys hastened to assure the visitors were "just the thing" for economical heating. Bunks of army style were all neatly made with the blankets tucked in just so, and belongings of the occupants placed in such orderly manner that there was plenty of room but no space wasted. Nary a cigarette

LEGISLATURE GIVES O. K. TO SALES TAX

Five Per Cent Beer Promised —Anti Rabies Measure Becomes Law

Senator Ralph H. Ramsey, Jr., who was here over the week-end, expressed the opinion that the legislature would run three more weeks, possibly four.

RALEIGH, Mar. 27—"Off again, on again, Finnegan"—seems to be style of the general assembly now.

First the three per cent sales tax passed the house on two readings; then it was reversed Monday and two per centers won out over the administration standpaters. Then, Tuesday the house reversed its opinion, and the bill is now in the senate finance committee for a couple of days, after which observers here assert it will be quickly passed by the senate body—three per cent general sales tax, no exemptions.

Ratification of the five per cent beer bill was expected late Wednesday or Thursday. The bill has already passed both houses and only awaits ratification to become law.

Passage of the anti-rabies bill created quite a stir among those who "were afraid of what it would do to young politicians" last week. However, all dog owners will now be forced to have their animals vaccinated against hydrophobia.

There is little chance, observers say, that the Hill liquor bill will be passed at this session of the legislature. Chief reason for defeat of the measure lies in the fact that upon such measures of importance to the "folks back home" a roll call vote is taken and the names of the legislators who vote yes and nay printed in the state and home town newspapers.

"Playing politics" is taking quite a bit of energy in the house of representatives, with center of attraction being speakership place for 1937. Several of the apparent candidates are chairmen of committees, and this adds to the zest.

Corn-Hog Contracts

Attention is called to the fact that time for making application for AAA or corn-hog reduction contracts, expires on March 30. All farmers who have not signed contracts and who wish to share in the reduction benefits are urged to see Assistant County Agent Maness at his office in the Breese building at once.

AT LYDAY HOSPITAL

Patients reported at Lyday Memorial hospital on Wednesday were Miss Violet Gibson and Mrs. Ed Owenby.

Miss Edith Padgett, one of the nurses at Lyday Memorial hospital, returned the first of the week from a week's visit at her home in Charleston, S. C.

but or item that would be obnoxious to milady was seen on the floor of the several "homes" visited, and despite the fact that the camp is a purely stag affair, there were no boys looting about in undershirts and bare feet.

Adequate, though simple first aid room and hospital requirements were found, with the attendant hospital-like atmosphere, the bottles of pills, castor oil, bandage and other requisites necessary for treatment of minor disabilities.

At the far end of the camp ground is the bath house which was being used by a continuous string of youngsters. Lots of soap, towels, brushes, wash basins and shower baths... young fellow in looking tired and soiled from eight hours road building or forestry work... fifteen minutes of hot water, soap and shower and presto... one of Uncle Sam's best scattered forth to fall in line with the two hundred that about faced for taps as the flag was lowered at sunset.

Curiosity of surroundings satisfied, the party was shown into the officers' mess where a dinner fit for any king, or even the president was spread. Food, "just as good as mother's" was plentiful and the event was one of joviality skin to both a full dress affair and a family reunion.

Then to the recreation hall that would make Brevard complete were it to be paved up bodily and transferred to the municipal park. Here the guests were given official welcome by Captain O'Neal, Educational Instructor Rice, following which an hour's entertainment of songs, music, dancing, backface skits and music was enjoyed.

Altogether the evening was one to take away the Brevard growl, and give a different slant on the bigness of the CCC—big things it is doing for young men, and big things that it is doing for Transylvania county. Captain Bernard O'Neal is in charge of the camp, assisted by Lieutenant A. L. Jackson, Project Supervisor J. F. Woodley, Sergeant W. E. Redman, Professor J. L. Rice and a corps of foremen and leaders, majority of whom are well known men of this section.
