

TOWN ELECTION TO BE HELD TUESDAY

Few Votes Expected—Harris to Take Over Duties of Mayor Wednesday

General election for the town of Brevard will be held next Tuesday at which time not more than a handful of votes are expected to be cast due to the fact that there is no opposition to the Harris ticket.

The primary, scheduled to have been held Monday of this week, was called off by the board of aldermen, there having been but one name filed for mayor and only five for the board of aldermen.

After Wednesday of next week A. H. Harris will be mayor of Brevard, with Ralph H. Duckworth, R. P. Kilpatrick, S. M. Macfie and Anthony Trantham, present members of the board again filling their places, with the addition of Fred E. Shuford.

Liquor Bill Not To Pass Says Ramsey

Senator Ralph H. Ramsey wired The Times Wednesday morning to the effect that he did not believe the liquor bill would get through the senate. Mr. Ramsey, together with other western senators, is joining in a move to vote against the Hill bill or the new house bill.

Passed by the house, the measure would require 51 or more counties to vote wet before liquor stores would be permitted, and then would be allowed only in those counties voting wet.

Time of adjournment of the legislature is still in doubt, with the revenue measure sent back to the senate for concurrence after the exemptions were taken from the sales tax measure by the house. The revenue and liquor measures are chief obstacles in the way of early adjournment.

RALEIGH, April 30—The west last Thursday voted almost solidly against the liquor bill. Of the 18 representatives from the 17 mountain counties, 12 voted against the measure, three for it and three were not recorded.

Sullivan of Buncombe, Sherard of Henderson and Morphew of Graham were the only western representatives to vote for the bill.

Recorded as against it were: Craig of Buncombe (absent but paired), Bryson of Jackson, Henry of Transylvania, (Mrs.) Hutchins, of Yancey; Hyde of Cherokee, Jones of Swain, Peterson of Mitchell, Ray of Macon, Sprinkle of Madison, Wilson of McDowell, Bailey of Haywood and Bowers of Avery.

McLeod of Polk, Head of Rutherford and Gray of Clay were absent and their vote unrecorded.

Streams opened for the nine-day period are:

Among the regulations announced by Mr. Broadbent for the fishing period are the following:

Woman Bootlegger Caught In Brevard

The Times office, considered as the most "bone dry establishment" in Brevard, nearly lost its reputation as such last Saturday morning when Chief Bert Freeman nabbed a whiskey peddler within a few steps of the back door of The Times print shop.

The peddler in this case was a woman—one of the very few feminine dispensers of "Transylvania dew" to have been caught here since the prohibition law came into effect years ago.

It is common knowledge that much whiskey is being peddled about in Brevard by men... and in some cases, women in homes of more or less ill repute... but this is the first woman street peddler to be caught in the act with her wares (seven pints) ready for the public. The whiskey was poured down the sewer at The Times office and the bottles added to the display of "this 'n that" in The Times window. The woman was bound to Superior court by Mayor J. C. Wike.

Tanners Play Here Saturday Afternoon

The Brevard Tanners will meet the strong team from Hazelwood here Saturday afternoon, the game to start at 3:30 on the high school diamond.

Both teams played their first games last Saturday, the locals defeating Enka by 6-5, while Hazelwood won from Beacon by the same score.

Claude Stepp, on the mound for Brevard, pitched a good brand of ball, while Pitillo, a new addition to the tannery outfit, did an excellent job behind the bat.

TOWN AUTHORIZED TO RUN GOLF CLUB

Golfing Facilities Necessary For Tourist Town—C. of C. Requests Operation

Legislative enactment permitting the town of Brevard to operate the Country Club golf course is contained in a bill introduced in the senate last week by Senator Ralph Ramsey.

It is expected that the town will operate the country club course this year, a lease having been given the town by the owners for a period of several years—for one dollar.

Work on the course will be done by FERA labor, thus putting the town to very little expense, and at the same time assuring the community of golf facilities.

A resolution was adopted at the Chamber of Commerce meeting last week, asking the town board to consider this move, it being pointed out at the meeting that as a tourist center, golf was absolutely necessary.

The Ramsey bill follows: Section 1. That the Town of Brevard is hereby authorized and empowered to lease and operate a golf course, either within or without the corporate limits of said town.

Section 2. That the Town of Brevard is hereby authorized and empowered to prescribe rules and regulations for the operation and maintenance of any golf course leased by said town, and to fix charges to be made to the public for the use of said golf course.

Section 3. That any lands leased by the Town of Brevard and operated for golf course purposes shall be under the general police supervision of said town, whether within or without its corporate limits.

Chief Freeman's Dog Bootlegger's Enemy

Chief of Police Bert Freeman has a new way of finding whiskey. He simply sicks his little dog, Tillie, on the trail and presto, there you are, providing of course, there is any whiskey about.

Chief Freeman found last week by an accident that his miniature wolfhound Chinese feist, (or whatever family his eight-inch high dog is) was adept at the art of finding moonshine.

Taking his dog for a stroll in a woodland in the corporate limits, Chief Freeman saw signs that made him suspicious. Seeing some ruffled leaves near a tree he scratched in and found a half-gallon of whiskey. He unscrewed the cap, and as Tillie, the dog, was cavorting around and seemed rather inquisitive as to just what her master had found, he let the little dog take a whiff.

Yap! Yap! and off scampered Tillie, circling as fast as her short legs could carry her in circles that soon brought her inquisitive nose to another plant.

Again Yap! Yap! and the little dog began to bite and scratch at the heavy leaf mold. There it was. No mistake. A half gallon of whiskey. Somewhat surprised, if not dumfounded, Mr. Freeman hissed his dog on, and within two more minutes, there was another half gallon of whiskey "treed" in the ground.

Sounds funny... but it's a fact, just the same.

College Will Play 2 Games This Week

By JAZZY MOORE

Brevard College's next home game in the North Carolina Junior College conference race is scheduled against Belmont Abbey and the Tornadoes are looking forward to a close and interesting battle.

Coach Ralph James has rapidly developed his team and seems to have the boys in top form. The locals have already demonstrated that they are a scrapping outfit, with a good outfield and a fine pitching staff. They now appear to be on the long end with infielders too. The boys are working out daily and have a strenuous schedule ahead. Next week they go on a six-day trip and tomorrow (Friday) Textile College will be played in a non-conference game here.

Belmont Abbey is understood to have a promising and scrappy club, which expects to give the Tornadoes all sorts of trouble Saturday in the battle for the big end of the score. Tom Graham, ace of the local staff, will in all probability occupy the mound for the Brevard team.

Music will be furnished for the game by the college orchestra, through the courtesy of the Aipwev fraternity. Efforts are also being made by the fraternity to hold a pep meeting in the college auditorium Saturday morning to stimulate more interest in the contest.

SEEKING PROPERTY FOR PARK IN COUNTY

Federal Representative Says Upper Little River Is Ideal Location

L. R. Sharpe, representing the federal park service, is deeply interested in establishment of a state park in Transylvania and Henderson counties, in the upper Little River watershed section, and presented the matter to a group of Brevard citizens here Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Sharpe stated that nowhere in Western North Carolina had he found such an ideal location as that centering on the Coxo estate, north of the Greenville highway, and that if proper boundaries could be procured work would start immediately by the federal government in developing the project.

Around three hundred thousand dollars would be spent in putting the park in shape, the federal government representative said, including the building of roads and trails, a lake, fire break trails, suitable buildings for camping and other improvements.

The park would, after completion of the work by the federal government, Mr. Sharpe said, become property of the state and would be maintained by that unit.

For the development of such a park, Mr. Sharpe said, the federal government will establish a CCC camp in the area to be developed. He estimated that about a year and a half or two years work would be necessary to develop such a park. Lands for the park would have to be donated to the state outright before the work could be started.

A committee from the Chamber of Commerce headed by W. E. Brees will handle the matter in conjunction with a committee from Henderson county headed by E. C. Sutherland and Ash Houston.

With cooperation of the sheriff and policemen of Hendersonville, Sheriff Wood located all accessories that had been sold and otherwise disposed of, and are being held with the car, pending settlement of the theft with the insurance company by the car owner. The radio off the car was found in Madison county.

KAY COLLINS WINS IN ROSMAN PRIMARY

Stroup, Mahoney and Hogged On Board—Election To Be Held Tuesday

ROSMAN, May 1—E. M. (Kay) Collins was high man in the primary election held here Monday, leading Mayor A. M. White and Carl Eldridge by a big majority.

Claud Stroup, Tom Mahoney and Austin Hogged were selected as members of the board of aldermen, with the fourth man, Grover Woodard, being defeated.

The general election will be held next Tuesday, and it is not known at this time whether or not there will be any contest.

Vote count was as follows: Mayor—Collins, 118; White, 51; Eldridge, 20; For aldermen—Stroup, 179; Mahoney, 154; Hogged, 143; Woodard, 78.

Stolen Car Returned To Owner By Sheriff

Fred Philips and Louis Conroy of East Flat Rock plead guilty to stealing an automobile before U. S. Commissioner Alf Hampton here Monday and were bound to federal court under $1000 bonds each. The nice appearing young men waived examination.

The two men told Sheriff Tom Wood that they stole the car, a good 1934 Dodge coach, in Washington, Pa., after they had seen a man and his wife leave the car with the switch key in the lock. After traveling around for a few days in the stolen vehicle, they returned to Hendersonville, they told the sheriff, and sold some of the parts off the car.

Then, their story goes, the car was in turn stolen from them. This part of their story, however, is not substantiated.

The car was found near Indian Creek in the Lake Toxaway section by the sheriff and his deputies, but minus wheels, batter, generator and other removable parts of value. These accessories were located by the sheriff over a mile from the car.

Whoever robbed the car of its parts evidently jacked it up and built a fire under it, the chassis and body being badly damaged by the fire which also spread from the car and burned over a wide area of woodland. The car was pulled into Brevard and stored at the Hayes Motor company and the owner, a resident of Wheeling, W. Va., traced through the serial number on the motor.

With cooperation of the sheriff and policemen of Hendersonville, Sheriff Wood located all accessories that had been sold and otherwise disposed of, and are being held with the car, pending settlement of the theft with the insurance company by the car owner. The radio off the car was found in Madison county.
