

WORK STARTED ON BREVARD CCC UNIT

Lieut. Nesbit In Charge Of New Camp—To Be Ready By July 31st

Preliminary work was started Monday morning on the new CCC unit just north of Brevard with a group of fifteen men working under Lieutenant Arthur P. Nesbit, who will have charge of the outfit.

The camp is to be built on the C. K. Osborne property between the Hendersonville highway and entrance to Camp Sapphire this location being decided upon by a group of army officials last week, after several sites have been proffered.

The camp will consist of 200 CCC enrollees and 16 locally employed men, who will work under the State Department of Conservation and Development in soil erosion and forestry projects. The work will be confined to private property in Transylvania and Henderson counties, it is understood.

Lieutenant Nesbit stated Tuesday that the camp was to be completed and ready for occupancy by July 31st, and that the enrollees would be placed immediately following that date.

City water and lights will be utilized in the camp, under the tentative plans. The camp will be constructed by civilian labor, the fifteen CCC men now at the temporary camp to have charge of preparing the campsite and other work attendant to building of the camp aside from actual construction.

Lieutenant Nesbit, who is in charge of the camp for the army, is a native of Columbia, Tenn., and holds his commission in the U. S. Infantry Reserve Corps. Before going with the federal government in the CCC work, Lieutenant Nesbit was a practicing attorney in his home state. He is a graduate of Alabama Polytechnic and has very favorably impressed those here with whom he has come in contact. He is married and expects to bring his wife to Brevard within the next few weeks.

Lieutenant Nesbit invites any persons interested in the work to call by the camp at any time. He expects to have the road leading to the camp in good condition shortly.

College Plays Friday

Brevard College ball team meets Blue Ridge here Friday afternoon of this week, the game to be called on the college field at 3:30.

Both the Blue Ridge and Brevard outfits have been playing snappy ball and a good crowd is expected to see the Jamesmen in action Friday.

Little River Library Now Open to Public

PISGAH FOREST, May 21—The Little River community library was opened by the women's civic club at the home of Mrs. Roscoe McCall on April 19.

Miss Margaret Gilbert, of the North Carolina Library commission, of Raleigh, spoke to the club on April 18 at the regular monthly meeting. She gave many helpful suggestions on how to manage the library and promised one of their traveling libraries to supplement the book supply.

The library is open on Fridays from 3 to 5, and is for the use of the community. The club has collected through gifts over 200 volumes and many magazines. The rules are liberal and the children especially are enjoying the books.

This is the first community project the club has undertaken and its success has encouraged the women to try their wings on some other flights in community needs later on.

At the May meeting, Mrs. Latham, director in the general federation, was the speaker and succeeded in linking up the club's vision of work with that of the general women's club movement.

Must List Taxes Or Pay Added Penalties

Tax Supervisor Ralph Lyday has instructed all list takers of the county to accept listing of property owners who failed to meet the list takers on their rounds which are now completed, provided the property owners act at once.

Mr. Lyday states that under the law he is forced to add a penalty on property owners who fail to list, and that most people of the county have already listed. However, in Brevard township there are a large number who have not listed, Mr. Lyday says, and some few in each of the other townships. These people are subject to indictment under the law, and may have the penalty also added.

O. L. Erwin, tax lister for Brevard township, will continue working in the commissioners' room in the court house during the remainder of this week and Monday of next week, says that he will be glad to wait on the public during these several days, while preparing his books for the tax supervisor.

Beauty Revue Will Be Held Friday Eve

A beauty revue and dance has been announced to be held in the City Gym on Main street Friday night of this week. A prize for the most beautiful girl will be given, and a dance will follow the revue.

The American Legion will get a percentage of the proceeds.

WMU ASSOCIATION HEARS MISS CURRIN

Mrs. Holliday Made President —Next Meeting To Be Held At Calvert

Annual Baptist associational meeting of the Women's Missionary Union of Transylvania county was held Tuesday in an all-day gathering at the Pisgah Forest Baptist church. A large representation from the various churches in the county was in attendance and an unusually interesting and profitable meeting was reported.

Miss Mary Currin, state director of young people's work, of Raleigh, was the main speaker at both the morning and afternoon sessions. Miss Currin's morning talk was in the nature of an inspirational message while her afternoon talk related mainly to activities in the state work and giving also helpful suggestions applicable to the local W. M. U. organizations.

Election of officers was an important part of the afternoon session. The following county officers for the (Continued on back page)

S. C. Girl Scouts In Camp Near Brevard

Girl Scouts from all sections of South Carolina will attend the annual scout camp to be held during June and July at the T. J. Wilson camp near Wilson's bridge.

Several Girl Scout officials and interested sponsors of the work in South Carolina spent the week-end at the camp, and are now engaged in work preparatory to regular opening.

Dance at Camp F-14

An invitation dance is being given on Friday night, May 31, by the personnel of Gloucester CCC camp F-14. This will be one of several like events to be given at the camp during the season.

Clean-Up Week Here Was Not Completed

Much unsightly trash was removed from various sections of the town during clean-up week which was staged in Brevard May 13-18, with plenty being left showing to bad disadvantage.

Several vacant lots were cleared of debris, with more than several being left all the worse looking account of other cleared spots. Some few flowers were planted, with vast spaces left messy.

The Boy Scouts cleared trash and debris from the vacant lot corner of Jordan and Caldwell streets as their public contribution to the move. The town truck was furnished gratis to the few citizens who cared to use it.

Dr. Newland at Kiwanis

Dr. C. L. Newland, vice president of the Brevard Kiwanis club, will have charge of the meeting to be held at The England Home on Thursday of this week at noon.

NO MAIL

The chain letter fad has taken several routes in the Brevard section during the past week, jumping from ten cents a try to fifty, one dollar and in a few reported cases, five dollars.

One enterprising young fellow gathered in several nickels the last part of the week by going about and asking for the loan or gift of a nickel. Upon his request being granted he passed out slips reading as follows: "Your nickel is to be used to ship mules to Jerusalem, so don't be a jackass and ask for your nickel back—you get yours like I got mine."

Some have reported returns on their fifty cent and one dollar chain ventures, while most of those who have gone into the "Fast Investment, (un)Inc.," have decided that the thing must eventually cost someone, and have quit. To date no one has been rated as millionaire by Dunn & Bradstreet as result of a dime, half dollar or dollar investment in chain letters.—Cut courtesy Hendersonville Times-News.

Dr. J. M. McConnell Heart Attack Victim

Dr. J. M. McConnell, dean of Davidson College's faculty, died in his sleep of a heart attack early last Thursday morning. He was 60 years old.

Dr. McConnell, in addition to being well known in educational circles throughout the South, was well known in Western North Carolina, being interested in Camp Carolina for Boys near Brevard, and spent his summers here each year. T. S. Williams has recently completed a beautiful summer home for Dr. McConnell near Camp Carolina, and the educator planned to move his family here in the near future.

Points On Growing Late Cabbage

(By Julian Glazener, Co. Agt.)

Prepare the land early and keep cultivating it to kill weeds, conserve moisture and to make the soil better prepared for the plants. The use of good strong plants grown in beds is a very important factor. Tests seem to show that strong plants grown in beds give better results than those grown in the field.

Set plants 12 inches apart in 30 inch rows. The rows should be run off and from 700 to 1000 pounds of a 3-12-6 or a 3-8-6 fertilizer applied in the row 10 days before setting the plants.

On bottom land side dress cabbage plants three to four weeks after setting with 100 pounds of nitrate of soda per acre. On upland or heavier type of soil or on land less supplied with manure or humus, make a second application of soda, 100 pounds to the acre a few weeks following the first application or just before cabbage heads begin to form.

Extension Horticulturist H. R. Niswonger has the following to say concerning the control of cabbage worms: "Spray to control worms. Use 2 pounds of arsenate of lead to 50 gallons of water with 2 pounds of soap adding soap last; or dust with arsenate of lead or calcium arsenate; 1 part to 4 parts of hydrated lime. Spray or dust when cabbage butterflies are first seen in the cabbage field. Repeat again as is necessary. If worms are present when cabbage begins to head use rotenone dusts 2 per cent, at rate of 10 pounds per acre."

There are several commercial preparations on the market containing rotenone, derris and pyrethrum which have given favorable results in the control of the cabbage worms. These are known as "non-poisonous insecticides. Red Arrow, Ever Green and NonPo are some of the ones most generally known in the county.

COMMERCE BODY TO MEET ON THURSDAY

All members invited To Attend—Offices Are Opened On Main Street

Chamber of Commerce meeting Thursday night is expected to hold increased interest inasmuch as a regular office has been opened with Mrs. A. H. Harris as full-time secretary.

The meeting Thursday night will be held in the county agent's assembly room, and a general invitation is extended to all people interested in the town's welfare, to attend. Stress is laid on the fact that the Chamber of Commerce meetings are not for directors alone, but for all members.

Mrs. Harris reports that many inquiries are being received, and that letters are being sent to former visitors in an effort to interest them in returning to Brevard for the summer.

Chamber of Commerce signs have been placed on the county agent's office windows by Milton Sellers and a large street sign is being gotten ready. The office has been arranged to suit the convenience of both the Chamber of Commerce and the county agent work. The location was decided upon two weeks ago by the directors in regular meeting, after two other possible locations had been discussed.

Lands Big Rainbow

One of the fine rainbow taken from Pisgah National Forest during the week was that one landed by Leonard Simpson. This fine specimen measured sixteen inches in length and weighed one pound thirteen ounces.

Special Services At St. Philips Sunday

Special services will be held at St. Philips Episcopal church Sunday morning in observance of the completion of 10 years' service of the Rev. Harry Perry as rector of St. Philips church. Celebration of Holy Communion will be held at 8 and 11 o'clock.

The Rev. Mr. Perry assumed his duties as rector of the local church on the first Sunday in June, 1925. After serving a successful term of 10 years as rector, as well as engaging in various community projects, St. Philips church is now observing completion of the decade with special services appropriate to the occasion.

Laurel Festival At College Saturday Eve

Preparations are under way for a laurel festival to be held on the campus of Brevard College Saturday afternoon of this week, beginning at 2 o'clock. The event is being given by the expression class of the college, under the direction of Miss Ruth Rich, head of the department.

Those taking part in the festival include the following: Edna Jones, queen; James Webb, Dionisus god of the festival; Jack Brooks, court jester; Jean Thomas, maid of honor; Louise Spaulding, Ruth Henson, Eunice Arnold and Elizabeth McCoy attendants to the queen; T. K. Darrough, herald; Mary Jane Newland and Dorothy Osborne, flower girls; Martha Jay Neely, crown bearer.

Appropriate costumes and special dances will feature the event. The public is invited to attend.

Improvements Made At U. D. C. Library

Many improvements have recently been made at the U. D. C. library, making of this community institution one of the most attractive in the town. The library is open each afternoon from three to five and each evening from seven to nine.

The interior of the library has been re-arranged, with the books catalogued and several new volumes added. New members are needed by the library to continue their worthwhile work of furnishing library facilities to the community. For years the United Daughters of the Confederacy have maintained the library, and even though there has been but small aid from the outside, have been able to keep the institution in a very creditable manner.

County Agents Away

County agents Julian A. Glazener and W. C. Maness are attending a county agents' conference in session this week at Lake Lure. The conference began Wednesday night and will continue until Saturday noon.

Mr. Glazener and Mr. Maness will be back in their office on East Main street Saturday afternoon, after a three-day absence.

Hutches Arrive Here

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hutches of Tallahassee, Fla., have returned to their beautiful summer home, Lo-Vern, for the summer. The Hutches' place is one of the show spots of the county during the summer and attracts many visitors.

BREVARD COLLEGE FINALS BEGIN 9TH

Shelby Minister to Preach Sermon; Snyder Commencement Orator

By JAZZY MOORE
The final curtain on the junior college careers of more than 30 students comprising the 1935 graduating class of Brevard College will be rung down with commencement exercises at 10:30 o'clock Monday morning, June 10th.

Sunday morning, June 9th, the graduates will hear the baccalaureate sermon to be delivered by Dr. E. K. McLarty, pastor of the First Methodist church of Shelby. The sermon will be the second outstanding event of the closing season, the first having been the junior-senior banquet some time ago.

The program for the baccalaureate service is being worked out now and will be released for publication shortly. The service will in all probability be held in either the college auditorium or the Methodist church here.

The final commencement exercises Monday, June 10th, will be featured by the address of Dr. Henry N. Snyder, president of Wofford College. Dr. Snyder needs no introduction to any North or South Carolina audience. He is one of the leading platform speakers in the south and is always heard with great pleasure where ever he goes.

Announcement as to who will present the diplomas will be made later. For the closing exercises the graduates will be attired in black caps and gowns.

Masons To Meet On Friday Night, 8 P. M.

It is urgently requested by the worshipful master that all members of Dunn's Rock Masonic lodge be present at the regular communication Friday night for the purpose of discussion of important business.

Zeppelin Trailer To Advertise For County

Several Brevard business firms and the Chamber of Commerce plan to utilize the "good will" zeppelin trailer for advertising purposes, joining in with other towns and communities of western North Carolina in sending the trailer through mid-western and eastern cities.

The trailer was in Brevard Wednesday and excited quite a bit of curiosity. The Chamber of Commerce and several enterprising business concerns are buying space in the Park to Park magazine. Other literature about Brevard will also be distributed by the zeppelin.

The trailer, an exact miniature of the Shenandoah, is 40 feet long and made entirely of zeppelin cloth. Lettered on its sides will be names of communities in Western North Carolina participating, as well as an invitation to visit the Smokies.

The tour will start from Asheville early in June and stops will be made at Lexington, Cincinnati, Dayton, Indianapolis, Chicago, South Bend, Toledo, Cleveland, Youngstown, Pittsburgh, Cumberland, Baltimore, Washington, Philadelphia, Newark and New York. These are but the key cities. The trailer also will stop at smaller cities en route. In each city visited calls will be made at the leading hotels, travel bureaus, automobile clubs and newspapers.

Literature from communities taking part in the project will be distributed, as well as several thousand copies of the Park to Park magazine, which is published in Asheville.

NEW ARRIVAL

Senator and Mrs. Ralph H. Ramsey announce the birth of a son, Ralph Heyward III, on Thursday, May 16, at Lyday Memorial hospital. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ramsey on May 20, a daughter.

Swimming Contests At Pool Wednesday

Take a free swim at the Brevard municipal swimming pool Wednesday of next week as a guest of Coach Tilson. An added attraction to the program will be water contests at 3:30, with prizes being two week's free pass to the pool.

Both boys and girls will enter all contests, classes being divided into midlets, juniors and seniors, the latter class being over 15 years of age.

Regular prices for swimming are: Children 10 cents, adults 20 cents, with a special price of 15 cents for Brevard College students. Special rates are given for season tickets, the prices being — children, individual, $4; adults individual $4; family up to five $10; over five $12.

All patrons are expected to furnish their own suits and towels. Brevard swimming pool was opened to the public last Friday but late spring weather practically precluded enjoyment of the up-to-date concrete basin that is being operated by Coach Ernest Tilson.

The Weather Man sent temperatures in the fifty neighborhood the first four days the pool was opened but hope is being held out that the warmer weather is here to stay, and that youngsters and old folks alike may continue to enjoy the fine facilities afforded in the park pool.
