Rabies Inspectors In Townships Appointed

Rabies inspectors for the various townships in Transylvania were appointed by the board of commissioners Monday. However, as the appointments are made tentative to acceptance by the individuals, names are not being published.

The board was sitting as a board of equalization Tuesday and took up the matter of rabies inspectors during the day.

PROFESSOR W. M. HUNT HAS MOVED TO ROSMAN

ROSMAN, July 17—Professor W. M. Hunt moved here Monday from Boone and is occupying the Kimzey home. Professor Hunt will be principal of the Rosman schools. Mrs. Hunt will join her husband here within a short time.

Professor and Mrs. R. T. Kimzey are moving this week to Brevard where Mr. Kimzey will be principal of Brevard schools, after having been principal here for the past several years.

Orphanage Concert Cancelled

The Oxford Orphanage singing class which was scheduled to give a performance in Brevard on July 25 will not be here on that date, due to conflict in schedule. It is hoped to bring the class from the orphanage which is under the sponsorship of the Masonic Order to Brevard at a later date.

Serious Crime Charged

Glenn Williams of the upper end of the county was placed in jail last week by Sheriff Tom Wood. The thirty-year-old man was charged with a serious crime against a nine-year-old girl and is being held without bond to Superior court.

K&M Auto Service In New Broad St. Home

Announcement is being carried in the advertising columns of this week's paper of the opening of the new and up-to-date home of the K. & M. Auto Service.

Erected at a cost of around $12,000 on the lot just below the square formerly owned by the town of Brevard, the station property is owned by J. H. Reaben of Hendersonville, district manager for the Texaco Gas and Oil company, who has leased the plant to the K. & M. to be used both as a service station and garage.

In the large shop will be located the repair department under supervision of Dan Merrill and Robert Kilpatrick, with Harold Kilpatrick in charge of the sales department for Plymouth and Chrysler cars. The concern is well known in this section, having been in the repair and sales business for a number of years. Their new place is a decided improvement in the North Broad street section.

WPA Director

W. E. BREESE, of Brevard, who has been appointed district director for the Works Progress Administration.

Everett Farm Sold To New York Man

Dr. Edward H. Jones of New York and Texas has purchased the Everett farm at Davidson River and plans to use the 1,600 acre tract as a place for fattening cattle that are raised on western ranches owned by the purchaser.

Dr. and Mrs. Jones have already taken possession of the farm with O. E. Shipman in charge of operations. In addition to the Everett farm the Jones have also purchased a 200-acre estate near Hendersonville where they plan to make their home.

The Everett estate of 1,600 acres, known as the Lowndes estate, is located in Transylvania county along Davidson river south of the present state highway from Hendersonville to Brevard. It has long been famed for its fine grounds and the beautiful farming lands. On this estate the buildings alone are said to be worth about $100,000. There is a beautiful old mansion on the property and two large stone barns, one of which was built at a cost of about $30,000.

The establishment of a cattle ranch in this section at Davidson River is the second time within the past two years that the value of Western North Carolina for this purpose has been recognized. About a year ago the Half Circle B ranch was established near Fletcher in Henderson county.

Dr. Jones, who has had wide experience in both cattle raising and dairying, having two large ranches in Texas and large dairying interests in New York state, plans to use the Everett estate for the purpose of fattening about 1000 head of cattle at a time from his Texas ranches where he has about 3,500 head of breeding cattle.

Dr. and Mrs. Jones came to Western North Carolina several years ago and built an attractive mountain retreat near Hendersonville. They liked this section so well that they decided to locate here permanently and after looking over offerings they decided on the two estates mentioned.

The Baldwin estate of 200 acres is one of the finest and best known in the Flat Rock section. It was the original home of Charles Baring of London, who is credited with being the first to recognize the value of the Flat Rock section as a summer resort.

LOUIS SENTELL DIES IN ELECTRIC CHAIR

Former Transylvania Resident Buried at Carr's Hill Church Sunday

Funeral services were conducted last Sunday afternoon from Carr's Hill Baptist church for Louis Sentell who was electrocuted at state's prison, Raleigh, last Friday.

The Rev. Harry Souther of Pisgah Forest and the Rev. Carl Blythe of Penrose had charge of the service that were attended by several hundred people. Interment was made in the Carr's Hill cemetery.

Sentell, formerly of this county, was convicted of slaying his paramour, Mrs. William Drake of Shelby, last December. He was the first white man ever to be electrocuted from this county.

Surviving are the wife who was before her marriage Miss Callie Raxter, and two children Lloyd and Opal, who reside in Hendersonville; the father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. Lankford Sentell, who now live near Wilson's Bridge; three sisters, Mrs. T. B. Lane and Mrs. W. S. Hoker of Brevard and Mrs. Spurgen Edmundson of Davidson River; three brothers, Elton and L. V. Sentell of Hendersonville and Ed Sentell of Davidson River.

Several hundred people attended the funeral rites Sunday afternoon. Pallbearers were Roy McCall, Lewis Reed, James Barnett, Pat Allison, Eek Sims and Flower girls were Marjorie Hamilton, Dorothy Souther, Willie Mae Waters, Alma Fowler, Flora Mae Pittman, Dorothy Pittman and Earleene Waters. Kilpatrick Funeral home had charge of arrangements.

Brevard Man Heads Western WPA Setup

W. E. Breese, Brevard attorney, has been appointed Works Progress administrator for the western district of North Carolina comprising 16 counties.

John P. Brady, Emergency Relief engineer for the Asheville district for the past six months, has been named assistant director of the office, with Polk L. Threlkeld, formerly in charge of the district highway offices in Brevard, as WPA engineer.

Mr. Breese expects to have the district office open by August first and at that time will probably have a large part of his organization selected. The headquarters for the district will be in Asheville and the Brevard man will spend considerable time there.

The district office will receive, study and approve applications for work projects from this territory and forward them to the state office for final approval and allocation of funds.

The Works Progress administration will have charge of projects that have heretofore been operated under the several federal agencies, such as the Public Works administration, Civilian Conservation Corps, Federal highway and Rural Resettlement administrations, and other branches of the federal agencies that have been in operation for the past two years.

Plans under the federal setup of the Works Progress administration call for placing of people on jobs of material or lasting value, wages to be paid from the four and a half billion dollar appropriation made by congress.

The Works Program Administration will finance projects costing under $25,000 each while the Public Works Administration will continue to finance projects costing over $25,000.

It is pointed out that whereas the PWA grant is 45 cents out of the dollar to local government units, the WPA will be able to grant a maximum of 70 per cent, and will thereby enable more needed projects of a civic nature to be started immediately. All labor costs under the WPA will be borne by federal funds and a part of the material costs.

Roads that are not on the federal or state systems will be ideal projects according to announcement made by George W. Coan Jr., state director, and projects of modern sanitation. This phase is especially interesting to Transylvania county residents, there being several road projects in the county that will come under this classification, as well as sanitation programs and improvements of health conditions. This type project will be financed by federal funds, under plans of the WPA.

Much Interest Seen In Farm Program

(J. A. Glazener, Co. Agt.) Over 100 applications have been received at the county agent's office from farmers desiring their farms be placed on the approved list of TVA demonstration farms.

The principal objective in having these demonstration farms is to assist and encourage the farmers in planning a farm program. Such a program includes soil building and soil conservation, which can be accomplished largely by planned crop rotation to include legumes and grasses, along with a balance between crops and livestock produced on the farm.

Farmers who have planned their farm program to include soil building and soil holding crops, namely grasses and legumes, are to be benefited by the use of the triple phosphates that will be furnished them by the TVA. Farmers who have not given this farm planning idea a serious thought are urged to consider it carefully, weigh all points and see what is to be gained by so doing. It means more than just a few hundred pounds of phosphates at the present time for the program is being planned to help the farmers for the next several years. If any phase of the program is not clear, kindly drop in at the county agent's office and have it explained.

AIR SHOW TO BE PUT ON OVER WEEK-END

Two airplanes, a five passenger and a three, will put on an air show at the Dr. Smathers field north of Brevard Saturday and Sunday, according to announcement made by Joe Musleh and John Crawford, who will bring the two planes here.

Stunt flying and parachute jumping will be featured with passenger flights to be made during both days. The pilots each won six or more first places in the Miami air show January.

TANNERS PLAN DANCE FOR BENEFIT OF TEAM

Joe Maddox and his orchestra from Greenville will play for a dance to be given in the Brevard Gym on Main street Friday night of this week, the dance to be sponsored by the Brevard baseball team.

The event is being widely advertised and it is expected that a number of out of town couples will join Brevard dancers in making the dance an enjoyable affair. Favors and confetti will be distributed to the ladies.

Increased Patronage At Local Golf Club

Increased patronage is being noted daily at Brevard Municipal golf course with out of town and home folk using the splendid nine hole course.

Cost of conditioning the course made possible by donations of individuals and firms of the town is now being supplemented by greens fees. Books of thirty tickets may be purchased at the club house or the city hall for ten dollars.

Reward Offered For Capture of Redmond

Reward of $25.00 is being offered by the K&M Auto company for the arrest of Wm. M. Redmond, who left Brevard early Monday morning and has not been seen since. Redmond is charged with theft of an automobile in the reward broadcast that is being sent out by Sheriff Tom Wood to police and sheriff departments over the country.

Redmond has been connected with the CCC camp at Gloucester for the past fifteen months, recently resigning to become connected with the office of the Lyday Memorial hospital. He is alleged to have given a bad check to the K&M Auto company for part payment on a new Plymouth sedan and then skipped the country.

Road Enthusiasts To Meet In Waynesville

Several Brevard business men have been invited to attend a luncheon at Waynesville today (Thursday) for the purpose of discussing the Pisgah or 284 highway matter which vitally affects both Transylvania and Haywood counties.

This highway, which connects Newport, Tenn., via Waynesville and Brevard to Greenville, Columbia and other points in South Carolina, is regarded as an ideal scenic and at the same time a short route from the Middle West in to the South, and the fact that the highway is in fine condition with the exception of that stretch from Brevard to the Tennessee line northwest of Waynesville makes the matter very imperative from a business standpoint to the two communities meeting today.

County Seeking To Refund Indebtedness

W. E. Easterling, secretary of the North Carolina local government commission, was in Brevard Monday in consultation with the county commissioners in regard to refunding the county's indebtedness.

The local government commission is taking such steps as they are able to take in an effort to help the commissioners get a suitable plan of refinancing. Mr. Easterling said, and further expressed the promise that any assistance possible would be rendered by the state department.

TRANSYLVANIA RATE WILL BE UNCHANGED

Commissioners Approve Tentative Budget at Meeting Here Tuesday

Tax rate for Transylvania county will be practically the same as last year, $1.55 on the hundred dollar valuation, according to Ralph W. Lyday, county accountant.

The commissioners met Tuesday and adopted a tentative budget after checking proposed expenditures item by item for the fiscal year beginning the first of this July.

Final adoption of the budget will be made on the first Monday in August, copies of the estimate being left in the office of the register of deeds until that time for public inspection.

Mr. Lyday had not completed working out details of the estimated expenditures when The Times went to press Wednesday, hence the summary will be carried in next week's paper.

GREENVILLE PEOPLE INVITED TO BREVARD

Invitation has been extended to the Retail Merchants Bureau of Greenville by officials of Brevard offering facilities of the municipal park for the annual outing of the group of from one to two hundred business people and their employees.

Decision of the Greenville people has not been made as yet. However, a letter from L. M. Glenn, secretary of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants Bureau is to the effect that if the outing is held out of the city this year that the group will accept the hospitality of Brevard.

ART EXHIBIT TO BE STAGED NEXT WEEK

Noted Artists Will Have Displays Here—July 26-27 Dates Selected

The art exhibit to be held in the Whitmire building on Friday and Saturday, July 26 and 27, numbers many famous artists in its lists.

Elizabeth O'Neal Verner of Charleston, S. C., has sent a number of famous etchings for display. Mrs. Verner has spent some time as a summer resident of Brevard and is well known in this section. Mary Witmer, a home girl who has studied in Paris, will exhibit portraits. Lewis Hoffman Kemper will exhibit coats of arms. Mary Harris Cray also will have coats of arms on display. Lillie Haynes McMullen will exhibit pastel portraits. Margaret Moore Walker will exhibit portraits also. Lorene Payne, local artist who has studied at Cooper Union School of Science and Arts and has a scholarship there for next year, will exhibit nudes. Beulah Bowden, who has exhibited in the southern artists exhibits and won a prize there, will have some works for display. Ruth Doris Swett of Southern Pines will have a display of etchings. Ruth Harl, who has exhibited in Paris, will exhibit landscapes. Some of the desert landscape scenes and hand-painted china, work of Miss Caroline Trowbridge, will be on exhibit.

It is of interest to know that so many people of the local community are artists and that these artists will have their paintings on exhibit. Any local artist wishing to exhibit is invited to do so.

Among the articles on display will be large and small spinning wheels, a love seat, candle sticks brought over in 1637, a snuff box which is a relic of Henry Clay's presidential campaign, sheets handwoven over 100 years ago, a sampler made by a slave girl, and another sampler made in 1820. The first oil lamp brought into Currituck county, a burglar's horror and a candle holder which belonged to the royal family of England over 100 years ago, a wooden peg that was used to hold logs together in a church near Siler City that was founded by Bishop Assbury, blue and mulberry dishes over 100 years old, set of scales used to weigh gold in the mining days of Transylvania county and many other things of interest and value.

In order to help defray expenses of the exhibit a silver offering will be taken.

Fire Protection To Be Started By CCC

Work on roads and fire protection projects is expected to be gotten underway during the coming week by the Brevard CCC camp unit under the supervision of R. E. Staton, supervisor.

Around 200 enrollees are at the camp which is situated just north of Brevard. The camp is operated under the United States Army with Lieutenant Nesbit in charge.

Dahlia Show Meet

Plans were discussed for staging the annual dahlia show in Brevard at a meeting of the Transylvania Dahlia club held here Tuesday night and another meeting of the club was set for July 30, to be held in the offices of Fred Shuford.

W. R. Johnson

W. R. Johnson of Weaverville and formerly connected with the state highway offices in Brevard where he made his home, was killed in an automobile accident near Asheville Monday night.

AT LYDAY HOSPITAL

Patients reported at Lyday Memorial hospital the past week include: Arthur Wilson, Jimmy Hall, Luther Buchanan, Howard Rector, O. O. Moore, Mrs. H. A. Pell, Ollie Parsons, James Carson, Lieutenant Charles Johnson and Lee Bourne. In addition to the regular patients there were 40 tonsil operations performed at the hospital last week during the tonsil clinic.

Training Classes To Be Held On July 28

The Transylvania Baptist Training Union will hold its annual convention at the Little River Baptist church on Sunday, July 28.

An all-day program has been arranged in order to give all those who attend a more worthwhile and enjoyable time and the presence of each Baptist young person in the county is requested in order to make the event a success.

All presidents of unions are expected to bring a list of officers in their unions together with address of each. Union reports based on the six-point record system are also necessary.

A basket lunch will be served at the noon hour and attention is called to the fact that baskets of food are necessary.

While the convention is primarily for young people all parents and friends are urged to attend... may we count on you?

ANSEL JONES, President.
