

BANK ASSETS WILL BE SOLD AT AUCTION

First Advertisement To Appear Dec. 26—No One Filed Objection

There having been no objection whatever filed in the office of the clerk of the Superior court opposing the petition of the commissioner of banks for the completion of the liquidation of the Brevard Banking company upon the plan unanimously adopted by the depositors of the bank some few weeks ago, and which petition was filed in the office of the clerk of the Superior court on November 6th, Judge Wm. F. Harding, in open court, signed an order on Monday authorizing the advertisement for four weeks in the Transylvania Times, of each and every asset of the closed Brevard Banking company, and for these assets to be offered at public auction for sale, beginning at 1 o'clock on Monday, January 20, 1936.

Judge Harding authorized the acceptance of 22 per cent of the total amount on claims against the closed Brevard Banking company as cash in purchase of any of the assets which will be offered for sale or in settlement of obligations now due said bank.

Pat Kimzey, liquidating agent of the Brevard Banking company, expected to start the advertisement of these assets next week. However upon the request of a considerable number of debtors who desire to settle their obligations prior to the advertisement of the assets Mr. Kimzey has postponed the beginning of the advertisement of assets until the week of December 22nd, at which time the advertisement of the assets will be started and run for four consecutive weeks immediately prior to the sale date.

Mr. Kimzey states that Thursday, December 19th, will be the last date that obligations due the closed Brevard Banking company can be settled prior to the advertisement of said assets. However, settlement of these obligations can still be made with the liquidating agent until the actual sale date.

Be Careful Friday— Unlucky Thirteenth

Transylvania county citizens are warned to be on their guard tomorrow which happens to be Friday and the 13th—both of which added together make a very unlucky day.

Walking under ladders, scratching the back of a vicious black cat, tickling a mule's hind leg, driving a car in excess of 75 miles per hour, jumping off a 10-story building, drinking carbonic acid, looking into a gas tank by the light of a match, hunting on the government preserve, throwing fire crackers at the chief of police, striking matches on the piano, buying fur coats for the other fellow's wife, forging checks, and a number of other things will surely bring bad luck if done on Friday the 13th.

We advise going about your business in usual manner, with paying the preacher, the grocer, and the newspaper set out as three very appropriate things to do on Friday, Dec. 13th.

May Have To Call Special Election For Choosing Added Town Officials

It may become necessary to hold a special election in Brevard for the selection of adequate officials to man the police court.

From the number of cases tried Monday, the conclusion is drawn that the mayor should have a regular court clerk, a bailiff, court stenographer—and if the cash continues to come in—an extra treasurer whose duties it will be to look out after fines, forfeitures, costs, etc.

Nine cases were tried by Mayor Harris on Monday night at the regular check-up of ordinance violators, and as usual, they were all drink cases . . . some public drunkenness, some drunk and disorderly, some ferocious drunkenness, and some just plain drunk.

Most of the fellows paid the cash on the barrel head, which will swell the coffers of County Superintendent of Schools Jones for repairs on school buildings, while two chose to labor on the streets in lieu of ready cash, and one took an appeal to a higher court.

The cases were dispatched with unusual rapidity, "Next gentleman" being called regularly by His Honor until the nine had faced him, paid, pledged to work or otherwise disposed of their cases.

During the day two young women had been tried by Magistrate M. M. Feaster for violation of town ordinances—both of whom (the two women) were charged with public drunkenness. Both are old offenders and have caused no little comment among the better class citizenry, and both had the pleasure of spending some time in the county jail before they were brought out for trial before Magistrate Feaster.

One of the women, or rather girls, (as neither of the two feminine violators appeared to be over twenty) was arrested Sunday night about midnight for having looked too long

ADULT SCHOOLS TO START AGAIN HERE

Seventeen Teachers Qualified To Organize Under Federal Setup

Fifteen or more adult schools are expected to be in operation in the county within a few days, grant of funds for payment of teachers having been set up last week by the Federal Emergency Relief Administration, the grant being for starting the work, and the WPA is expected to provide for the teachers after January first.

The federal appropriation will pay teachers salaries only, ranging from $39 to $64 per month, while the local communities must provide places for the classes to meet, light, heat and other supplies other than instructional. Each teacher is required to have at least ten pupils to continue the school.

Much work of satisfactory nature was done by the adult class work last year in this county, and it is believed that the classes will each have increased memberships this year.

Mrs. Russell Townsend is acting as county chairman of the Transylvania teachers, a position which she filled well last year. Her office is now located at her home on West Proberta street, Brevard.

Teachers on the eligible list at this time include Mrs. Nettie Benedict, Mrs. Zula Cox, Miss Janie Gillespie, Mrs. Ruth Simpson, Miss Ruth Vaughn, Mrs. Ora C. Gray, Mrs. Mary Loftis, Miss Sarah North, Mrs. Jean McCullough, Mrs. Betty Owen of Brevard; Mrs. Beulah Hanson, Rosman; Mrs. Ethel Wilde and Miss Beulah Reid, Lake Toxaway; Miss Susie Jordan, Brevard R-3; three colored teachers—Flora Lee Ruth, Agnes Hunt and N. H. Sessoms.

It is expected that there will be other teachers qualify before the first of the year.
