Scouts Plan Larger Field of Activities

Friday, January 10th, marked the beginning of a "new deal" for the Boy Scouts of Brevard.

With Scoutmaster J. E. Ruffy presiding the Scout meeting came to order with the customary salutations and reporting of good turns by each of the boys. Of the 17 scouts present, six were voted into the following offices:

Scribe, Oliver Orr Jr.; monitor, Charles Dickelimer; doorkeeper, Raymond Hayes; librarian, Vance Jackson; flag bearer, John Walker; reporter, Steve Bracken.

As there was no other important business, the scoutmaster then turned his attention to the scouts' "new deal," stressing the fact that accomplishments of the troop had not been what they should during the past year, and urging more constructive work to be done.

He gave the scouts five objectives for the following week, each objective representing a symbol of scouting:

- 1—List all birds seen in the next week;
- 2—know at least 15 trees under winter conditions;
- 3—earn a sum of money from five cents up;
- 4—put out feed for birds;
- 5—have an extra good turn for the following Friday.

The meeting then adjourned with a snappy monitor's report.

Eyes are now being turned to the Court of Honor, and the jamboree to be held at Asheville, and to a most successful year in scouting.—Steve Bracken, Reporter.

New Type Face Used In This Week's Issue

A new type dress is given The Times this week, which the management hopes will meet with approval of subscribers.

Faced with the problem of buying new matrices for the typesetting machine in The Times office, the new style shown on this page was selected for its neatness and also because of the fact that it would carry more words per inch than the old-style face which has been in use for several years.

The Times requests subscribers to criticize the new style type face, and of course, if it does not meet with approval of readers, will be changed to one that is more suitable...for after all, chief aim of this newspaper is to please its readers in as many respects as possible.

President Coltrane Speaker at Meeting

Featuring the January meeting of the Parent-Teacher association, held Tuesday afternoon in the Brevard grammar school auditorium, was an interesting and instructive address given by President E. J. Coltrane of Brevard College.

Mr. Coltrane discussed the problems and opportunities confronting the community in the field of public education, giving facts and figures on school operation. "The state merely lays the foundation of our system by paying the actual expenses," the speaker said. "We must get together and finish the job." Several suggestions for doing this were cited by Mr. Coltrane, as, better library equipment, new buildings, nine-month school term and special art teacher.

Resignation of Mrs. Walter Banks as president was accepted with regrets. Mrs. Roland Whitmore, vice president, was elected president of the organization for the remainder of the school term. The nominating committee was instructed to name a vice president. Decision was made for the executive board to investigate and make arrangements about the proposed school lunch room.

Mrs. J. M. Allison, representing the U. D. C., asked the teachers to observe the following birthdays: January 14, Matthew Fontaine Maury; January 19, Gen. Robert E. Lee; January 21, Thos. J. Jackson; February 3, Sidney Lanier; February 5, Gen. J. E. B. Stuart.

LOCAL VETERANS TO RECEIVE LARGE SUM

Bonus Bill Seen As Certain To Pass, Paying World War Soldiers

Transylvania county veterans of the World War will receive $105,632.43 if Congress enacts the bonus bill which now seems very likely to go through at the present session.

American Legion headquarters in Raleigh announce that 63,926 North Carolina veterans will receive a total of $31,622,162.89 under the proposed bill which has passed the lower house and is now being threshed out in committee before going to the senate.

Word from Washington Tuesday afternoon was to the effect that a compromise bill providing for payment in bonds which are immediately cashable or can be held as an investment, had been reported favorably by a count of 15 to 2 in the finance committee. Leaders believe that the bill will pass the senate by or before the end of the week.

Washington, Jan. 15.—A compromise bill authorizing immediate payment of the $2,491,000,000 soldier bonus, backed by powerful administration and veteran leaders, is being pushed toward early passage in the senate.

Payment would be made in non- negotiable bonds valued at $1,836,950, which could be turned into cash by the veterans at their local postoffices, and in $87,786,500 of actual currency, under the terms of the senate measure.

The house passed a bill last week calling for immediate payment of the bonus but left it up to President Roosevelt to determine how the money would be raised. Action of the senate leaders in approving the compromise indicated administration officials had abandoned hopes of postponing action on this issue which has been before congress for 17 years under every president since Warren G. Harding.

Mr. Roosevelt's lieutenants in Capitol Hill are said to have advised him several days ago that it was highly unlikely that sufficient votes could be found in either body to uphold another bonus veto. First indication that the administration had capitulated came when Majority Leader Joe T. Robinson of the senate predicted that some compromise measure acceptable to the White House could be agreed on.

All AAA payments due North Carolina farmers up to January 6, 1936, will be paid, according to word from Washington, received by Dean L. O. Schaub, of State College.

The treasury department has announced that all AAA checks now being distributed are good and may be cashed at any time.

The dean could not say just when checks for payments now due will be distributed, as preparations for these payments had not been completed at the time the AAA work was suspended.

Dean Schaub expressed his belief that some way will be worked out for completing these and other payments within a reasonable time.

Farmers who kept faith with their crop adjustment contracts up to the time the Supreme Court invalidated the AAA deserve to get the payments promised, the dean said.

Ray Bailey Given Life Sentence For Slaying Greenville Police Officer

Greenville, S. C., Jan. 14.—A life in prison or on the county chain-gang faces Ray Bailey, 26, of the Burnsville section of North Carolina, who Monday pleaded guilty to the murder of Motorcycle Officer A. B. Hunt here nearly four years ago.

A verdict of guilty with recommendation to the mercy of the court was accepted by Solicitor J. G. Leatherwood and Judge A. L. Gaston, of Chester, sentenced the North Carolinian to serve the remainder of his life in the state penitentiary or on the public works of this county.

In a signed statement after his sentence, Bailey maintained his innocence and declared that it was only because of the "falsehoods" that had been sworn against him in the case and his lack of funds with which to put up an adequate defense that he had entered the plea.

The defendant, pictured at various times as a desperado and mountain bad man, broke down as his plea was entered by C. G. Wyche, of defense counsel, and sobbed audibly while sentence was being pronounced.

Hunt was shot through the heart and instantly killed on the night of May 1, 1932, when city officers stopped a taxicab to question its occupants. It was estimated that between 75 and 100 shots were fired in the exchange and officers expressed confidence that they had wounded seriously one of the gunmen. Bailey was later found at a hospital in Sylva, N. C., suffering from bullet wounds and was arrested on a charge of murder.

He was freed after a habeas corpus hearing in which he offered an alibi. The North Carolina Supreme Court upheld the decision, but it was reversed by the United States Supreme Court. Bailey remained a fugitive for some months, being captured last fall in Georgia about a week after he had shot his way out of a trap near Rosman, N. C.

Three other alleged members of the band were charged with murder and likewise were given their liberty at a habeas corpus hearing held in Ashe-

Mrs. Mary Burgess and her daughter, Miss Bertie Burgess, both of the Oakland section, were shot with a .32-caliber pistol in the hands of Mrs. Jess Breedlove, also of Oakland, last Wednesday night.

Condition of Mrs. Burgess, who is about sixty years of age, was considered very serious for a few days, but she is reported now to be resting fairly comfortably. She was shot through the left chest just under the collar bone, the ball ranging downward and passing out through the back after puncturing a lung.

Miss Burgess was shot through the left side, but it was a flesh wound, and Dr. English said was not considered serious.

Mrs. Breedlove was brought to jail Wednesday night by Sheriff Tom Wood and is being held pending outcome of the condition of Mrs. Burgess. Warrant for her arrest, charges, assault with deadly weapon with attempt to kill.

Large Group Hears Jackson Day Speaker

Eighty Democratic leaders of Transylvania county gathered in the Woodmen of the World hall Wednesday night and heard I. Curtis Arledge, prominent Hendersonville attorney, in a Jackson Day address.

The meeting was presided over by John E. Ruffy, president of the Transylvania Young Democratic club, with Senator Ralph H. Ramsey, Jr. introducing the speaker.

Mr. Arledge traced the origin of the Democratic party from the time of Thomas Jefferson, through the days of Andrew Jackson, and on to the present Roosevelt era, placing Roosevelt in the same position as leader of a nation and civilization as were Jefferson and Jackson.

Well versed in history, Mr. Arledge made interesting comparisons of the leadership of Jackson and Roosevelt, and closed his speech with the assertion that the people of the United States would rally around the Roosevelt standard with the same courage, and the same success that attended the leadership of Jackson.

Music for the dinner-dance was furnished by the Carter orchestra. Short speeches were made by chairman W. L. Aiken of the county board of commissioners, W. Pat Kinzey, Brevard attorney, and Professor J. D. Jones, superintendent of the county board of education. Official recognition was given by Chairman Ruffy to the members of the program, membership, and arrangements committee for the work done in arranging the successful event.

Galloway was given first aid treatment by Dr. R. L. Stokes and later removed to Lyday hospital where his condition is reported very good. One hip was dislocated, and he was considerably bruised. Mr. Fisher was bruised when he was knocked down and trampled by the bull but not seriously.
