Jail On Fire Causes Rosman Excitement

ROSMAN, April 29.—People here were led to believe that the brick calaboose or town lockup was susceptible to fire.

It seems that Chief of Police Stroup arrested a visiting citizen on charges of taking too much of the new kind of corn that is brought in from South Carolina, and had locked the gent in the brick edifice wherein those who break the law in various and sundry ways in this incorporation, are housed.

The man had been in the bastion about but a very short while before passersby decided that the brick had become saturated with oil, and had accidentally caught on fire. This idea growing out of the volumes of smoke pouring from every aperture of the Rosman prison jail, however, revealed that the incriminated man had only set fire to the mattress in the jail.

No casualties were reported, and the damage to property was minor.

Clyde Hoey Leading Candidate In Race For N. C. Governor

Clyde Hoey is the leading gubernatorial candidate in Brevard, judging from a poll taken by The State Magazine here during the past ten days. Fifty-five people in Brevard voted in the straw vote for the magazine, with 29 for Hoey, 13 for Graham, 12 for MacDonald, and 1 for McTee.

One hundred nine postal card inquiries were mailed to box holders at Brevard postoffice on April 16, and the above figures were taken from a report carried in the current issue of the weekly news magazine published at Raleigh.

Taken in a little over half the counties in the state in a random sort of way, The State poll shows MacDonald leading 2,482 to 1,936 for Hoey, with most of the mountain counties piling up leads for Hoey.

In a poll started several days ago by daily newspapers, sending a ballot to every twelfth Democratic voter instead of postoffice box holders which would naturally include both Democrats and Republicans as is the case with the Raleigh publication poll, the western counties show a little better than two-to-one preference for Hoey. Out of 29 votes cast in Transylvania county, 19 were for Hoey, 6 for Graham, and 4 for MacDonald.

Records for both milk and butterfat production.

Although they are not up to the standard of the strictly beef herds, authorities say, they have a place on the small farm where they produce enough milk for the family use and at the same time produce steers for market that are superior to regular dairy cattle as beef animals.

In general, Red Polled cattle are medium in size. Although the body has not as much flesh covering as the strictly beef breed animal, it is well ribbed and the hooks are smooth.

The hind quarters lack the thickness and depth of the beef breeds, yet they are superior to those on cattle of the strictly dairy breeds.

James Grant Charged With Federal Forgery

James T. Grant, young Brevard man, faces a severe sentence in the federal penitentiary for theft and forgery in connection with two United States treasury checks which he admittedly took from the Brevard postoffice and cashed, after forging the endorsements of two people on the checks.

The checks, one for $6.52, and one for $5.25, were taken from a Brevard postoffice box on February 16. Grant admits that he took the checks to two different business establishments in Brevard, and after forging the names of the payees, cashed them.

Falling to receive the checks on time, the parties to whom the checks were supposed to have been paid, Eugene M. Grant and Herman Calvin Grant, notified WPA officials here, who in turn checked with the Asheville office, and learned that the checks had been mailed.

Sheriff Tom Wood was called in on the case, and after a quiet investigation, arrested the young man, who confessed that he had taken the checks and forged the names.

The sheriff turned Grant over to federal officers who came here last Friday, and after preliminary hearing before U. S. Commissioner Hampton, took the young man to Henderson county jail where he will be held until the May term of Federal court in Asheville.

So far as can be ascertained this is the first theft of federal checks in the county, and after the arrest, and very probable conviction of Grant, it is believed that no more attempts to defraud workers on a federal project will be attempted.

TAX LISTING TIME ENDS ON SATURDAY

Penalty Will Be Added Unless Personal Property Is Turned In

Over a hundred tax payers in Transylvania stand to pay a ten per cent higher rate this year than ordinary, on account of the fact that they have failed to list their property for taxes, and in such cases the law provides that a ten per cent penalty SHALL be added to the tax.

Tax Supervisor Ralph Lyday has given repeated warning and notice of listing times and places, and of the fact that the law requires him to add 10 per cent penalty to non-listers' taxes on personal property, and he made the statement Monday that there was no way out of it for him but to add the extra penalty, and that the law would see that the penalty was collected along with other taxes.

Mr. Lyday said that most of the delinquent listers were in Brevard townships, and that with few exceptions, those people who live out in the country have listed when the listers were in the various communities.

Books for all townships will be open for the last three days this week in the office of Mr. Lyday for convenience of those who have failed to list.
