Organization of Information Group Will Be Perfected Here Monday Night

Meeting of all members of the Chamber of Commerce, all prospective members, and any persons interested in Brevard and the surrounding community as a tourist center, will be held in the court house Monday evening, May 18, at 8 o'clock.

Plans will be presented for approval or improvement suggestions at the meeting Monday night by President E. J. Coltrane and the committee in charge of the work, and matter of selection of officers to serve for the year will also be taken up.

Membership solicitors made an excellent report Wednesday afternoon of the response given by business houses, boarding house people, and individuals, and stated that a full report that would be gratifying would be made at the meeting Monday night.

Order has been placed for Brevard booklets, and arrangements are being made for opening of an information bureau at an early date, possibly within the week. Two places are being considered for the bureau of information, and these two will be presented to the meeting Monday night for approval of either, or another place.

Preliminary plans that have been made, but not approved by the membership which will have final voice in all matters of expenditures of monies for the community, show that operating expenses will be very low for the summer.

Every person interested in the community's welfare is invited to attend the meeting. In the meantime, Mrs. Frank McIntosh and Randolph Myers are contacting prospective members.

Rosman Exercises For Graduation Announced

ROSMAN, May 13.—All exercises of Rosman high school will be held during the week ending Wednesday, May 20, with a varied and interesting program announced for the week.

The junior-senior reception which will be held in lieu of the annual banquet, is scheduled for May 15 in the gymnasium, with Miss Beatrice Sisk in charge. A Gypsy camp idea will be carried out.

The Rev. J. C. Canipe, pastor of the First Baptist church of Boone, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon to graduates of the high school class on Sunday afternoon, May 17, at 2:30 o'clock.

The senior class play will be given on Monday evening, May 18, at eight o'clock. Miss Louise Williams is directing the senior production, which is a three-act comedy.

"Twenty Years Hence" will be theme of the class day exercises which will be given on Tuesday evening of next week. Miss Beatrice Sisk is sponsoring this program.

Graduation exercises on Wednesday evening, May 20, at 8 o'clock will conclude the commencement exercises, when Professor P. L. Elliott of Western Carolina Teachers College will deliver the literary address to the senior class.

Rehearsals are being held daily on "The Strange Bequest," senior class play which will be given Monday evening, and the strange bequest that was left by the deceased Mr. Andrew Owen promises to bring plenty of entertainment. Cast of characters for the senior production includes:

County Chairman Place To Be Filled At Meeting Saturday

W. E. Brees, for the second year chairman of the Transylvania County Democratic executive committee, has resigned his office as county chairman. The position is now vacant and will be filled at the meeting of the executive committee on Saturday afternoon.

In a letter to Mrs. H. Davidson River, who is chairman of the committee, Mr. Brees stated that his duties as chairman require all his time, and he therefore tenders his resignation. Following is a copy of the letter:

"As you know, I am director of the Works Progress Administration for the Eighth District of North Carolina. The duties of the office require all of my time. It has become advisable that the officers do not take too active a part in local politics. Realizing as I do, that..."

Handles Blue Bird

The Galloway Cafe announced that it will be Brevard agency for the Blue Bird ice cream products already well known in Brevard. Electrical containers have been ordered at the Galloway Cafe for the purpose.

Methodists Plan To "Clean Slate" During Thirty-Day Checkup

Interest and enthusiasm are beginning to prevail in the 30-day mid-year financial drive now in progress at the Brevard Methodist church. The goal as set by the pastor, the Rev. J. H. Brendall, and the members of the board of stewards is to raise $1000 in the coming 30 days.

The object of the drive is to bring the budget up to date as nearly as possible, in order to avoid the usual stress and strain on the church members and collectors at the end of the conference year in the fall.

The members of the church who have paid one-half or more of their current assessment will have their names on the honor roll and the list posted in the church vestibule as the campaign progresses.

In addition to the cooperation of the part of the church members, several community spirited citizens are also making contributions, for which they will get due recognition, the pastor states.

Quarterly conference will be held next Sunday at the 10 o'clock vesper hour, at which time the Rev. W. A. Rollins, presiding elder of the Waynesville district, will preach.

McDonald Will Speak Here Saturday Morn

Announcement is made that Dr. Ralph W. McDonald, candidate for governor on the Democratic ticket, will speak at the court house in Brevard, on Saturday morning of this week, May 16, at 11 o'clock.

Dr. McDonald is making a tour of the western part of the state in interest of his campaign, and will speak in several Western North Carolina towns this week.

Services Wednesday For Brevard Resident

Funeral services for Mrs. W. B. F. Wright, 57, who died late Monday afternoon at her home in Brevard, were held Wednesday afternoon at the Brevard Presbyterian church. In the absence of the pastor, the Rev. J. P. Simmons, the service was in charge of the Rev. W. L. Hutchison, former pastor of the Davidson River church, the Rev. Paul Hartwell and the Rev. J. H. Brendall. Interment was in Gillespie cemetery.

Mrs. Wright had been apparently in her usual health until Monday morning when she complained of slight indisposition and was confined to her room the rest of the day, but was not sufficiently ill for members of her family to be at all alarmed about her condition. About six o'clock Monday afternoon she passed quietly away, suddenly, in what was said to be a heart attack. Mrs. Wright was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Miner, originally from Michigan. Her father was for many years editor of the Transylvania County paper, then the Transylvania Valley News, a prominent leader in the community.

Mrs. Wright was a member of the Brevard Presbyterian church and was a member of the Brevard Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star.

Brevard School Won High Awards at Final Exhibition In Raleigh

Brevard was well represented at the final state creative art contest held recently in Raleigh, when the Brevard high school won recognition and three of its pupils were prize winners in the different classes.

The Brevard school was awarded the honors of distinction in type and variety for the exhibits submitted in the state contest. In addition first and third places were won by St. Clair Austin for his soap sculptures of Venus DeMilo and Winged Victory. Jack Morgan won third place for his pen and ink drawing. Honorable mention was given Lewis Hamlin, Jr., for his typing outline of a ship.

These awards were made in the final elimination contest, following the local exhibition of school exhibits at Brevard.

BROOKS UNOPPOSED IN DEMOCRATIC RACE FOR TAX COLLECTOR

Mull and Galloway Additional Aspirants for Places on County Board

W. L. Mull, member of the present board of county commissioners, and M. Wallace Galloway were filed with the board of elections in addition to the list already published for places on the Democratic ticket. Avery B. Galloway, E. Carl Allison, and John L. Wilson had already been announced.

Names of two other persons for nomination on the board of commissioners, and six names for the board of education were filed Saturday, but these citizens had their names stricken from the list the first of the week. Chairman L. P. Wilson stated, when he turned the names in for publication.

Leto Brooks, tax collector for the past two years, will have an open field in the Democratic primary, no opposition having been filed against him. Contest will be held on June sixth for places on the ticket for all other county offices. The complete list follows:

Voters Very Slow To Register For Primary

Registration of voters at the several precincts over the county was reported to be very light on opening day of the registration books last Saturday, despite the fact that a new registration of voters has been called for.

The books will be open at the polling places on Saturday, May 16, and Saturday, May 23, and all persons who expect to vote in the Democratic primary are required to appear in person before the registrar—no one being allowed under the law, to place the name of any person on a registration book who does not appear in person.

"Brevard Day" Planned for June By College and Leaders of Community

"Brevard Day" is expected to bring near two thousand people to Brevard College on June 10, when a combined home-coming, booster, and graduation program will be staged.

The occasion will be graduation of around 135 students who have completed their two years work at Brevard College, and plans are to have friends of the college and of Brevard from far and near here for the occasion.

Alumni of Brevard Institute, Weaver College, and Brevard College are being issued special invitations to attend the big event. In addition, ministers from many sections, high school principals and teachers, and other leaders are also being invited. Dr. J. Henry Highsmith will be principal speaker of the occasion. The fact that he is rated as one of the leading educators in the State is expected to be a drawing card from many sections who are active in educational work.

All clubs, civic organizations, churches, and individuals of distinction are being asked to cooperate with the college in making the biggest ever to have been held in Brevard.

While final details for the occasion have not been worked out, invitations are going out, and newspaper work is being started. Not the "Brevard Day" be a big day for the college, but it will also be a day of community advertising that obtain through no other means.
