

SOFTBALL CHAMPS IN PENNANT GAMES

Baptist and Presbyterians To Meet Each Afternoon At High School

The "big world series" started here Wednesday afternoon, when the Baptist and Presbyterian softball teams met in the first of a five-game play-off to decide the pennant winners.

Schedule of games calls for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week, and Monday and Tuesday of next week, provided of course, it is necessary to go the five-game limit to decide the winner, and observers of the two teams are of the opinion that the full five games will have to be played.

The Baptist team won the first half honors, while the Presbyterians came out on top in the second half which officially closed Tuesday afternoon. Games will be played on the high school field, according to rules agreed upon at a meeting of the managers held in the Times office Monday evening. Either team not present, or not ready to play, at the six o'clock sharp hour faces the privilege of playing with part of a team or forfeiting the game, and with the rivalry that has been shown between the several aggregations during the second half, there is scarcely any possibility of a forfeit.

All games, with the exception of the Friday afternoon go, will be free. The charges for Friday afternoon will be five cents per person, big, little, old, or young. This minimum charge is being made to take care of the cost of new balls which will be used in the series.

Only players who have played in the softball league for the Presbyterians and Baptists will participate in the game, and stated umpires, or those agreed upon by the managers, will be used in the series. Tom Carson has been asked to call balls and strikes, with Tom Whitmore and C. M. Douglas to call bases.

The softball league has furnished exceptionally fine entertainment during the summer, and plans are already on foot to have the four teams again enter a tourney next summer.

Standing of the teams at the end of the second half was as follows:

Presbyterian	9	3	750
Baptist	7	5	583
Methodist	6	6	500
Episcopalian	2	10	166

FLOWER GARDEN IS GREAT ATTRACTION

Bishops Raise Flowers For Pleasure—One of Show Places in County

Visitors to Transylvania county who travel along the road between Brevard and Pisgah Forest rarely fail to notice a certain house and garden just outside the village of Pisgah Forest from which a brilliant and varied profusion of flowers strikes the eye.

This house and garden which attract so much attention belongs to Miss Rosa Bishop and her father, William Bishop, and contrary to the belief of many people, they raise the flowers not for commercial use but for their own pleasure.

"We grow them and work with them, only because we like them," Miss Bishop said in an interview with the Times. "Work?—yes, I guess there's a good bit of work to it," she said. "There's somewhere around a half-acre of them, but then we don't consider it work because we like it, and one never regards anything one likes as work," she concluded.

A tour of the Bishop's garden revealed about every known species of dahlia, beautiful red prince-feathers, multi-colored zinnias, clematis, chinese wool-flowers, purple, graceful forget-me-nots, and in general, flowers of practically every species which grows in North Carolina.

Strangely enough, the raising of the flowers, themselves, is not one of the Bishop's major problems. It's visitors, for there is never a day that three or four cars do not stop at the house, and some days there are as many as ten or twelve. They come from nearly every state in the union—some just to look, others to buy, and others still who are anxious to pick up any useful hints on growing them they can. But no matter what they come for, they all stay to admire, and all are courteously received, always shown around the place. "We like visitors," Miss Bishop explained with a smile.

Flowers by the Bishops are seen in car decorations all around the county. The floral display which attracted so much favorable comment at the commencement exercises of Brevard College Friday was made of flowers from their garden. Brunot and Warner dahlias entered by the Bishops in the recent dahlia show in Brevard took first prizes. Clematis and gladiolus exhibited by Miss Bishop took first prizes at the general flower show held some time ago, but it's not for the prizes or the thrill of exhibiting that Mr. Bishop and his daughter grow their flowers. They grow them simply because they like them and because they like the people their flowers bring to them.

Republican Visitor

CLYDE H. JARRETT, of Andrews, Republican nominee for Congress in this district, was a Brevard visitor last week, and stated that he was exceptionally well pleased with the response that his candidacy was getting throughout the district.

Mr. Jarrett is completing a tour of the 13 counties in this district, and expects to be in the district headquarters, at 19-20 Electrical Building on Patton Avenue, Asheville, Thursday and Friday of this week when "get acquainted" days are to be held.

Large Enrollment At Rosman Schools Noted On Opening Of Term

ROSMAN, Sept. 2.—High and elementary schools opened Monday, with 503 present. The high school had 137 and the elementary school 366.

It is expected that within the next two weeks the enrollment will have reached upwards of 600 in both buildings as there are many who will not be able to come at the present time and have indicated that they will be in soon.

Miss Pauline Porter, of Laurinburg, N. C., is to be the music and commercial teacher. These two subjects will be on a subscription and tuition basis, as was the case last year, for the present.

Monkey-Faced Owl Is Center Of Attraction

O'neal Cantrell, prominent farmer of Route One, had an interesting group about him Tuesday morning in Brevard when he brought a "monkey-faced" owl to town. Mr. Cantrell had caught the owl in a steel trap which he set for crows.

The owl had a face that looked for the world like a monkey, and its coat of feathers was beautifully marked in soft colors. The owl was seemingly gentle, and while it had a very sharp beak it did not offer to bite when being handled.

Cost Of Getting Drunk To Be Higher

Judging from remarks made by Mayor A. H. Harris at the weekly session of court held here Monday night, those who MUST get drunk to celebrate had better do their drinking (and/or celebrating) outside the town limits.

After hearing six or eight cases, in which the defendants were for the most part "repeaters," or those who have been before His Honor on previous occasions, Mayor Harris said, in straight manner—

"I'm warning you fellows that I cannot continue to let you go with a small fine and costs in drunk cases," and he continued, "you had better mend your ways or be prepared to take a stiffer sentence each time you re-appear before me on charges growing out of whiskey."

Most times, Mayor Harris, endeavoring to be as lenient as he possibly could, taking into consideration all phases of the cases, has let the defendants in public drunkenness cases go for a fine of three and five dollars and the costs, which amounts to ten dollars or less.

"Most of the fellows have families to support," the mayor explained when asked why he let defendants in drunkenness cases go for what is ordinarily termed a light fine, "and to put them on the road only takes the breadwinner away from the family. To slap on a heavy fine, takes the money out of the mouths of hungry children in many cases, and if a court has to let one go for less than ten dollars, it seems only fair that the next fellow who comes along should get the same treatment."

The mayor said, however, Monday night, that he was beginning to believe that some of the recurrent drunk case defendants did not want to do better—that in his opinion the best thing the court could do would be to give heavier fines, and sentences.

Lunch Rooms Will Again Be Operated In Three Schools

Serving of lunches in the Brevard school lunch room will begin Monday morning, according to an announcement of Miss Jackie Clayton, county supervisor of the WPA lunch room and canning projects.

The lunch room in the basement of the grammar school building has been remodeled and improved, the work being made possible through donations from local individuals and summer visitors. Hot and cold water have been installed, a 30-gallon water tank having been donated by Harry Patton, and the piping and fixtures by a friend of the lunch room. Cash donations have also been made by several of Brevard's tourists interested in the cause. The rooms have been freshly painted in white and gray, the paint being donated by individuals.

Mrs. Essie Orr will be foreman of the Brevard lunch room; Mrs. Francis Bryson, of the Rosman lunch room; and Mrs. Dovie Sentell of the Pisgah Forest room.

The lunch room is sponsored by the P. T. A. and is free to all needy children of the school. Other school children are also permitted to get their lunches in the school lunch room for a very small charge, which money is used toward providing school supplies for the underprivileged children. Or garden produce will be accepted in exchange for lunches for children whose parents are able to pay.

Miss Clayton invites the parents to visit the lunch rooms at any time, and states that donations of cash or supplies to carry on the work will be gratefully received.

Hartsell at Campobello

The Rev. Paul Hartsell, pastor of the Brevard Baptist church, is conducting a revival meeting at the Holly Springs Baptist church, near Campobello, S. C. The special series of meetings began Monday night and will probably continue for 10 days. The Rev. C. E. Puette is pastor of the Campobello and Holly Springs churches.

Highway Patrol Will Have Radio Outfits

RALEIGH, Sept. 2.—Money was allocated Tuesday from highway funds to establish and maintain a state-wide police radio system for the state highway patrol by the state advisory budget commission.

Bids on radio equipment will be received by the state division of contract and purchase on September 18. The system, which was authorized by the 1935 general assembly, may be operating by the time the next session convenes. Approximately 90 days will be needed to install the equipment, according to A. S. Brower, director of the division.

Captain Charles D. Farmer of the highway patrol, has estimated that the radio will improve the efficiency of his organization by at least 100 per cent and that it will save the state more than $1,000,000 in recovery of stolen property. Estimated cost of the system is $160,000, of which approximately $100,000 may come from highway funds. Annual maintenance cost is set at $35,000.

Atlantic Champion Cleaving The Ocean at Thirty Knots

LONDON. — Britain's liner Queen Mary claimed the blue ribbon of the North Atlantic for speed Monday after crossing from New York to Bishop's Rock in three days, 23 hours, 57 minutes. For the 2,929 miles her average speed an hour was 30.63 knots.

It will be necessary for the Queen Mary to retain the record for three months before it can claim possession of the trophy, now held by the Normandie of the French line, that goes with the speed record.

The Normandie's best speed for the west-east crossing was three hours and 31 minutes more than the Queen Mary's record. On her last east-west crossing, the Queen lowered the Normandie's record for that route too.

Alabama Resident On Paper List 42 Years

J. M. Allison, of Gainesville, Alabama, has been a constant reader of the Brevard paper for 42 years, and he still likes the paper well enough that he stopped by the office Thursday and paid his subscription on in advance to 1938.

Mr. Allison (known to home folk as Jim) is a brother of J. Mack Allison of Brevard, and a son of the late John Allison, whose old home place was located where Captain Bill Fetzer's residence now stands.

Football Practice Started At Brevard Under Coach Tilson

Football practice at Brevard high school was scheduled to start Wednesday afternoon, according to Coach Ernest Tilson, with the team to be made up from the large group of boys who were expected to show up for the initial workout.

Coach Tilson said Monday that he was uncertain as to just who would be back, and who would be on the first string, but that Brevard would have a team, and every boy who attends Brevard high school has a chance to make the squad—depending on those who come out and work.

Several first stringers of last year's squad will not be back in school, but there are several of the second stringers who were showing up well toward the last of the 1935 season and the coach said he was not afraid of what his team would be.

Coach Edwin Wilko will start his juniors to running signals and taking light workouts on Monday afternoon of next week. Through this "little boys" aggregation, several good players were made eligible last year for first squad duty, and Coach Tilson is again depending on Mr. Wilko to bring out new material for the letter squad.

First game of the season will probably be played on September 25.

Football Practice Starts At College Next Monday Morn

Coach Arthur J. Ranson and Mrs. Ranson arrived in Brevard Tuesday and are residing on East French Road avenue. During the past two weeks Mr. Ranson has been attending the coaching school in the University of North Carolina.

Mr. Ranson expects to begin football practice next Monday, September 7. All local young men interested in football will be asked to report on the college field at a suitable hour that day. Letters are going out from the college office to other young men who may wish to come a week early in order to have a week's practice before the opening of the college year September 14.

In addition to his work as coach of football, Mr. Ranson will coach other major sports and give particular attention to a program of physical education. All young men in the college will be expected to have a regular schedule of physical exercises under the direction of Coach Ranson. It is the purpose of the college authorities to give some attention to physical education without neglecting at any time the major sports.

The first game of football will be played on Saturday, October 3. A complete schedule of nine games will be played. All the junior colleges in the western half of the state and two or three freshman teams in South Carolina are on the schedule. There will also be a schedule for the "B" team.

Mullenax Funeral To Be Held This Morning

Mrs. Lue Mullenax, aged 75, died at the home of her son, W. E. Mullenax, at Pisgah Forest, Wednesday morning at 6:30. Death was due to a stroke of paralysis which occurred Tuesday afternoon.

Here and There Over the County

By J. A. Glazener, County Agent

To Dr. Wexler Smathers goes the credit and honor of being the first person in our county to invest in a lespezdeza combine for saving seed. It is indeed a very interesting yet not complicated piece of machinery that attaches to the mowing machine. It is claimed for the machine that it will save about 90 per cent of the lespezdeza seed.

Farmers should not become discouraged if they find that the price of the machine is a bit high. Simple seed pans from which the combine idea was conceived can be had for less than $10.00. It is expected that several farmers will buy these inexpensive seed pans before the lespezdeza season is over.

To make preparation now for lespezdeza seed harvesting will mean that more home grown seed will be sown next spring at a considerable saving to the farmers who save their own seed. To discuss the value or importance of growing lespezdeza either for hay or soil building would be considered a back number, for the farmers all over the county have learned its true value. The important phase of lespezdeza growing just now is a greater supply of quality home-grown seed.

Mrs. Siniard Buried Friday Afternoon

Mrs. C. M. Siniard, 70, died at her home at North Brevard, early Thursday morning, following an extended illness. Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at the Brevard Presbyterian church, conducted by the pastor, the Rev. J. P. Simmons, the Rev. Paul Hartsell and the Rev. G. A. Hovis. Interment took place in the Oak Grove cemetery.

Surviving are her husband and six sons and one daughter, as follows: Robert G. of Ocala, Fla.; James C. of Kingsport, Tenn.; Hale S. Jerome N. Oatis N. Joe A., and Miss Henrietta Siniard, all of Brevard. Two brothers also survive, Dr. William B. Mackey, of North Worth, Texas, and Oatis Mackey, of Long View, Texas, and a niece, Mrs. S. N. McKelvey, of Long View, Texas, and a large number of grandchildren.

Mrs. Siniard was formerly Miss Lillie E. Mackey, a native of Summerville, Ga., but had made her home in Transylvania county since early childhood. In her girlhood she became a member of the Davidson River Presbyterian church, later moving her membership to Brevard, where Mr. Siniard is an honored elder of the church.

Flower girls included: Marjorie, Nelle and Lillie Siniard, Esther Mae McCrary, Johnny Dennis, Fay McCall, Margaret Bowen, Marie Smith and Annie Belle Allison.

Osborne and Simpson Funeral Home had charge of arrangements.

Large Beans Grown

Bob Pruitt of Brevard, may not have the finest tasting beans in the county but from a specimen he brought to the Times office last week, he certainly has some of the fastest "weighing outers" to be found, if one were to count the pods that it would take to weigh a bushel. The bean was of the pole variety, large as a man's finger, and more than two feet long.

Over 900 Children Registered In Two Schools At Brevard

Over 900 children were registered at the two Brevard schools Monday morning.

Three hundred seventy-nine were enrolled at the high school the first day. Professor Robert Kimzey said, and additional students are expected to register during the next few weeks.

At the elementary school, Professor John Ruffy reported 538 youngsters on hand Wednesday morning, and his biggest trouble right now is adequate classroom space.

The old white building is entirely unfit for school purposes, and all the children are in the grammar building.

COLLEGE DORMITORY SPACE TO BE FILLED

Additional Rooms Built This Summer—Faculty Mem- bers Are Arriving

Present prospects are that every available space in the dormitories at Brevard College will be filled. Accommodations are being provided for about 145 young women. According to information from President Coltrane's office, the number of young women applying at the present time is considerably above that number.

With the provision of space in Taylor Hall to accommodate thirty-three additional young men, it is expected that the college will accommodate 185 boys this year. At the present time the applications are somewhat above that number and new applications are being received daily.

Several members of the faculty are already on the grounds. Miss Harriett Killough, the new dietitian at West Hall, arrived Sunday and began her duties Monday. Miss Killough graduated from Berea College in June of this year. She comes to Brevard with the recommendations of the entire staff at Berea. The first faculty meeting has been called for Friday morning, September 11, at ten o'clock. All teachers have been instructed to be here for the meeting.

Dr. and Mrs. Burt W. Loomis, after finishing their work in the Mars Hill summer school, have been visiting in Missouri. Dr. Loomis expects to leave Missouri within the next few days and has indicated that he will be here by September 8. Dr. and Mrs. Loomis will live on East French Road avenue.

John B. Bennett, Fort Mill, S. C., the new instructor in religious education, has indicated that he will arrive early next week. Bunyan H. Andrew, the new dean of men in Taylor Hall, is expected Saturday of this week.

There are ten or twelve students who are completing the work of the summer quarter under the instruction of J. Wesley Williams, C. H. Trowbridge, and Miss Marjorie Craig. These students are expecting to take their examinations the middle of next week.

Practicing Religion Seen As Prime Rule For Healthful Life

Putting the Christian religion into practice, and spreading its influence, was pointed out as one of the most important things in life by Dr. Thomas P. Bailey, who delivered the address before the graduating class at Brevard College last Friday morning.

Dr. Bailey, who is a noted psychologist and who spends his summers at Eagle's Nest camp, said that there are other things which life would demand of the graduates, things which would necessarily have to be taken care of in the line of duty, and in the carrying on of the various vocations of the graduates, but that importance should be attached to the living, knowing, and spreading of the Christian religion.

Following Dr. Bailey's address, diplomas were awarded to ten students who graduated at the end of the summer quarter, by President E. J. Coltrane.

Labor Day Will Be Very Quiet In Town

Labor Day—next Monday—will have very little significance in Brevard, insofar as any sort of celebration is concerned.

The bank will be closed for the day, but other business and industries are expected to go on just the same as any Monday.
