J. E. Sherman, of Hendersonville, was re-elected as counselor, a position which he has held for several years. Other officers elected were—vice president, R. W. Proctor, of Marion; secretary, M. R. McCown, of Tryon.

Members of the district executive committee included: Transylvania county, Lewis P. Hamlin; Rutherford, Wade Matheny; McDowell, Paul J. Story; Yancey, Alden P. Hummelt; Henderson, G. H. Valentine; Polk, Jack T. Arledge.

Invitation of the McDowell county bar was accepted to hold the 1937 meeting at Marion, and R. W. Proctor of Marion, Col. E. F. Watson, of Burnsville, and Fred Hamrick, Jr., of Rutherford, were named as program committee. Other committees will be appointed later by President Kinzey.

Forty members of the six-county association were present for the meeting which convened at 11 o'clock in the county court house, and later retired to the W. E. Breeze barbecue grounds on the Greenville highway where a barbecue dinner was served with the Brevard Bar as host. The meal was prepared by S. P. Allison.

Judge J. Will Pless, Jr., of Marion, and Attorney J. M. Broughton, of Raleigh, were principal speakers at the morning session, with business and round table discussions being held at the barbecue grounds in the afternoon.

Following the business sessions after lunch, the association as a group thanked the local bar, Mr. Breeze, and Mr. Allison for the excellent manner in which the attorneys were provided for here.

The first game will be played Saturday afternoon, beginning at 4 o'clock, with Woody Patton slated to do mound duty for the Brevard nine. Manager Kyle stated the first of the week that he expected to have four or five pitchers on hand but that he would start Patton in Saturday's game.

A double-header will be played Sunday afternoon on the Asheville field, regardless of the outcome of the first two games. Joe Hall will probably start for the Enka team Saturday afternoon, and the Enka team, like Brevard, has two or more pitchers in reserve.

Enka has led the league during the second half with ten wins and one loss, while Brevard has been second with nine wins and two losses.

Hi School Gridders Point To Sept. 25th

New, raw material, interspersed with several last year's players are beginning to make Coach Tilson's high school football crew look like a winning aggregation.

Faced with the loss of what was termed his best charging and punting backs from the 1935 squad, Coach Tilson has developed new passers and receivers, and the punting is far from being short.

First game of the season will be played on September 25th, Coach Tilson said Wednesday, with complete schedule to be announced later.

College Opens Fall Term With Largest Enrollment In History of Institution

Brevard College campus is all astir. Students are registering and being classified. Teachers are giving advice by suggesting courses, arranging schedules, and explaining the content of the different curricula. At the end of work Tuesday afternoon, two hundred and sixty-one students had been registered. There were about one hundred and fifty awaiting registration Wednesday morning.

All available space in West Hall, Virginia Lodge and other homes operated by the College for young women have been occupied. Some young women came to the College hoping to get accommodations but were turned away. College officials have been busy arranging furniture and providing other forms of equipment. All rooms in dormitories for young men have been filled. Ten men students are located in the home of Mrs. D. L. English.

Classes will begin Thursday morning at 8:30. The first chapel program has been scheduled at 10 o'clock, with Dr. E. K. McLarty, pastor of the Methodist church in Hendersonville, as speaker. It is expected that the regular class schedule will be in operation by Friday morning. President E. J. Coltrane has been confined to his home since Sunday morning on account of a temporary illness but expects to be out Thursday. All of the members of the college faculty are here and are busy solving minor problems.

Numerous receptions by local churches have been arranged for college students. At six-thirty Wednesday evening, a banquet was held at West Hall for all students who have been employed by the college for the past several weeks in preparation for the opening. This banquet was arranged by Miss Harriet Killough, college dietitian. Dean W. Colvard and Grady W. Campbell, directors of student labor, were in charge.

First College Game Will Be Played At Brevard, October 3

Thirty-four men were out for football practice at Brevard College Wednesday morning, with Coach Ranson expecting at least ten more to report before the week is up.

First game of the season will be with Wofford Frosh here, on October 3rd, followed by a game with the Erskine Frosh, away. Complete schedule of games has been arranged with the exception of November 7, and Coach Ranson has a tentative game arranged with Campbell college for that date.

Workouts with a small squad started last week, augmented Monday with an increased number of new men, and with several other good prospects expected to register during this week, the College eleven has the earmarks of being up to the usual standard by October 3rd, when the first starting whistle is blown.

Practice has been held twice daily during the past ten days, but this will be cut to one session each day beginning Thursday, with the men scheduled to be on the field at 3 o'clock each afternoon.

Uniforms will be provided for all men who care to come out for the team. Coach Ranson said Wednesday, and he expects to have four teams running by the first of next week.

It is impossible at this time to select a probable first string, as several places are being fought for by from two to seven men, and it will probably be the last of the month before any places are actually "tagged."

Tallest Corn Stalk

A. B. Galloway, of Brevard, brought a stalk of corn to The Times office Wednesday that measured fifteen feet. Three well-formed ears of corn grace the stalk, but Mr. Galloway does not advise growing this type corn, as he says it will take an 8-foot man to gather the corn, and one even taller to cut the tops.

Transylvania Co-Operative Market Established For Handling Produce

What is believed to be a great step forward in farm marketing for Transylvania county was the action taken by the county Agricultural Advisory committee, which met last Saturday and set up the first unit of a co-operative marketing system.

Letters have gone out to all farmers of the county from the county agent's office advising them of the action of the advisory committee, and inviting the farmers to take advantage of the services which the advisory committee and the county agents believe will prove to be the beginning of a large wholesale curb market operated on a co-operative basis.

The newly organized market will deal with beans at the present time, as marketing of the scattered bean crop is felt to be the most urgent.

The farm committee selected the B & B Feed company as representative dealer for the co-operative market, inasmuch as this concern has adequate and approved storage space in their building, and are already handling FCX seeds through the co-operative plan.

Details of the co-op is continued in the following circular which has been mailed from the county agent's office.

In order to develop our marketing possibilities in this county it is an evident fact that an effective co-operative marketing system should be worked out. Just now there are many bushels of beans to be marketed.
