

ELECTION RETURNS TO BE BROADCAST

Special Hook-up Will Provide County and National Tabulations Tuesday Night

County, state and national election returns will be broadcast by George Bromfield and John Reese Sledge from their electric shop on Main street opposite the court house...

A direct hook-up will be made from the radio broadcast station with the board of elections office...

Two receiving sets will be operated in the electric shop, one to secure state election returns and the other national returns...

It is requested that any returns which are brought in from outside precincts be taken direct to the board of elections office...

The Rev. J. H. West, former Brevard pastor, who has been at Randleman the past year, will have the Fletcher-Mills River charge this year.

Rosman School Will Stage Gala Affair on Friday Evening

ROSMAN, Oct. 28.—One of the most elaborate programs ever given in the local high school will be that of Friday evening of this week when a Hallowe'en party will be given with all departments of the school taking part.

The evening's entertainment will start with a one-act play entitled "The Attic Hallowe'en." This will be given in the auditorium of the high school.

Following the brief play, a continuous program of events will be carried on in both the primary and high school buildings, with varied and appropriate settings.

Refreshments will be on sale in the buildings, with a regular supper to be served at 8 o'clock in the high school lunch room.

Appreciative Crowd Hears Wollner Here

An appreciative audience heard Mark Wollner, noted concert violinist, of Asheville, in a varied and classical program Tuesday evening at the high school auditorium.

Mr. Wollner's well rendered program was received with hearty applause, he being called back a number of times for encores.

The concert was sponsored here by the Woman's Missionary society of the Methodist church.

Large Potato Grown On Jim Neely Farm

Sweet potato pie, a good sized slice fried, and still some left, all came out of the large Porto Rico potato which Jim Neely brought to The Times office last week.

The large potato weighed four and one-half pounds, and Mr. Neely said that he found several more nearly as large in his field this year.

The potato would be just a mite large for selling to stores, but for a country editor, raised on the farm where "sweet tater pie" formed a big item in the regular menu, it looked like the good old days.

$2 For A Name

Mull's Main street store has moved next door to the Walker Insurance agency, and is offering two dollars to the person who brings in the most suitable name for the store.

High School Football Team Will Play Black Mountain On Friday

Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock the Brevard high school football team will play the Black Mountain eleven on the Brevard high school field.

Both teams are light weight, and both are playing practically new teams this season, and the game is expected to be a close one.

Paul Schachner, former Brevard high star is coach of the Black Mountain team, and is making a good record with his eleven that has only two of last year's players.

The Black Mountain team has won two and lost two this season, winning over Weaverville and Biltmore high schools, and losing to Canton and Sand Hill.

Returns To Brevard

THE REV. J. H. BRENDALL, popular pastor of Brevard Methodist church, has again been assigned to the Brevard pastorate by the Methodist Conference which met in Salisbury last week.

Members of the church, and other citizens of the community sent requests to the conference asking that Mr. Brendall be returned here for his third year.

The Rev. J. H. West, former Brevard pastor, who has been at Randleman the past year, will have the Fletcher-Mills River charge this year.

Varner Pledged

Eddie Varner, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Varner of Brevard, has been pledged to the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity at the University of South Carolina where the popular young man is in college.

The Phi Sigma Kappa is a National Fraternity and one of the oldest in the United States.

Wilson Rebuild In Selica Community

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Wilson of the Selica section, whose home was destroyed by fire several weeks ago, have rebuilt, and recently moved into their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson wish to publicly thank their neighbors and friends for timely assistance in refurbishing their home. Cash, household supplies, and furniture were given the family by friends to assist them in setting up housekeeping after everything in their home was destroyed.

Apple Tree Blooming

A dainty, pink apple blossom, found blooming on a tree in C. M. Siniard's orchard, was brought to The Times office Wednesday. It was the only blossom on the tree and presented a rather freakish appearance, it was said, at this season in the year when the leaves are beginning to fall.

Black Widow Spiders Found By C. Killian

Carl Killian advises that there are still danger points around rubbish piles, even if there have been a couple of light frosts. Mr. Killian found three black widow spiders among some trash and refuse last week, either of which would have been capable of injecting sufficient poison into a person to make one sick, if nothing more serious.

The sleek, black, creepy things, with their hour-glass markings on the under side, were given to the high school laboratory for use in the study of insect life.

Little River School Plans Party Friday

The Little River school is entertaining with a Hallowe'en program Friday night at 8 o'clock. The program includes string music by the school band and the Orr boys band of Brevard, recitations, singing and a Hallowe'en play, "The Hallowe'en Pudding."

Characters in the play are: Mrs. Hallowe'en Witch, Kathleen McCrary; black cat, Ruth Fisher; the owl, N. L. Ponder; harvest moon, Walter VeHaun; small witches, Sybil Merrill, Edith McCall, Rosell Ball; Hallowe'en pumpkins, Sylvia Hamilton, Novella McCrary, Mary McCrary; Hallowe'en apples, Mary Jane McCall, Myrtle Merrill, Decima Hall; Hallowe'en ghosts, Ruby McCall, Calvin Merrill; stars, Evelyn Nicholson, Lavonne Orr, Jacqueline McCall.

McCrary Home Burned Early Monday Morning

The large home of Volney McCrary at Grange, in the Little River section, was completely destroyed by fire early Monday morning.

Neighbors who saw the blaze about 8 o'clock in the morning are of the opinion that the building caught from the kitchen stove flue. The house was a complete loss as well as most of the furnishings.

Battle of Ballots Holds Sway Throughout Nation Next Tuesday

Interest of most people in this section seems to be centering about the "battle of ballots" which will be held between forces armed with paper and pencils Tuesday of next week—November 3rd.

Despite the fact that most interest is centered on county election, there is also grim line of battle being drawn between the Landon and Roosevelt forces, the Transylvania partisans joining in the nation-wide movement for and against Roosevelt.

Amendments to the state constitution have received but little attention in this section, and it is very doubtful if more than half the voters will vote either for or against the proposed changes in the North Carolina constitution.

The polls will open at 6:55 and close at 5:32, according to advice received from the state board of election officials, and count out in some of the boxes in this county will probably not be completed before midnight Tuesday.

Complete unofficial reports of the county election, as well as that of the presidential election will be published in The Times Wednesday following the election on Tuesday.

Officials who will have charge of holding the general election in Transylvania county next Tuesday, November 3, as given by the board of elections office Tuesday, include:

Chairman of county board, L. P. Wilson; N. A. Miller and Judge D. L. English.

Sunday School Meet To Hear James Brown

James L. Brown, prominent church and Sunday school worker of Hendersonville, will speak to Sunday school workers at the regular quarterly meeting next Sunday November 1st, at 2:30 p. m. in the parlor of Brevard Baptist church.

The Transylvania Association superintendent urges each Sunday school to have a report in and a good delegation to hear Mr. Brown.

Special music will be rendered by folks from Little River.

Mrs. Lewis Funeral Rites Held Monday

ANDERSON, Oct. 28.—Funeral services for Mrs. Lula Jane Lewis, 59, were held at 4:30 o'clock, Monday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Richard Craft. The services were conducted by the Rev. C. D. Garner.

Mrs. Lewis was a native of Brevard, N. C., but had lived here for more than 40 years. She was a daughter of the late L. J. and Mrs. Jane Cresson Simpson.

She is survived by her husband and one son, W. L. Lewis; two daughters, Mrs. Myrel Sanders and Mrs. Richard Craft; one brother, T. W. Simpson; four sisters, Mrs. Ellen Middleton, Mrs. Eliza Templeton, Mrs. J. H. Morgan and Mrs. Laura Saraske.

M. O. McCall of Quebec, and Edgar Reid of Oakland, have been notified to appear in Asheville on Nov. 9 to serve as jurors from this county in federal court which convenes there on that date. Transylvania cases will be called on Thursday, November 12.

Judge E. Yates Webb of Shelby will preside at the fall term.

Mrs. Sellers Heads Art Campaign Here

A membership campaign is under way for the establishment of a North Carolina museum of art, the proposed institution being sponsored by the North Carolina State Art Society. Campaign week for this project is from October 26 through October 31.

It has been the purpose of the Society to promote all art other than painting and sculpture during the past 10 years of its existence, such as all efforts towards art development in the state and those cultural projects which add to the beautification of the state. It is felt that the people of North Carolina will recognize the value of such an institution as a state museum and will respond to the membership drive, which is $1.00 per year for general membership.

Mrs. Harry Sellers has been named chairman of the museum campaign for Transylvania county. Any individual, business firm, school student or benefactor who desires to contribute toward this fund is asked to get in communication with Mrs. Sellers.

Kiwanis Election To Be Held Next Week

Annual election of officers will be held at Brevard Kiwanis club on Thursday of next week, to fill the expiring term of Dr. Charles L. Newland.

The Rev. Paul Hartsell was scheduled to take the position after serving one year as vice president, but has resigned his pastorate at the Brevard Baptist church and will make his home in Johnston, S. C., after November 9.

Dr. W. A. Parker, extension educational worker of Western Carolina Teachers College was guest of the club at the meeting last week, and made an interesting talk on education, and the call for workers in specific vocations.

Wants Gourd Handles

Gourd handles, with a few inches cut off at the small end are wanted by Miss Sadie North, instructor in first aid in the county. These gourd ends are used as suction cups in first aid kits for small puncture wounds, especially for poisonous snake bites.

Those having gourd handles to donate for this purpose are asked to see Miss North at any of her first aid classes, or leave them at the Pickelshimer drug store in Brevard.

Annual Turkey Sale Staged By Plummer's

MANY ALUMNI WILL BE HERE SATURDAY

Brevard College Home Coming To Be Outstanding Event For This Week-End

Brevard College will hold its annual fall home coming October 31 when classroom activity will cease, to clear the way for the large group of alumni who are expected to return to the campus.

Faculty officials and student leaders have planned a full program, which begins on Friday, October 30, with a bonfire at 7:30, and reaches the climax when the Brevard Tornado football men meet Belmont Abbey Junior College team at two o'clock on Saturday afternoon.

At eight o'clock Friday night all the literary societies on the campus will entertain all former members of their respective societies. These parties will be in the Administration Building and at West Hall.

Saturday morning, October 31, there will be a public program in the college auditorium. Eddie Carlisle, president of the student body, will preside over the meeting. President Coltrane will deliver a short speech to the assembled group of alumni and students. There will be a short oper forum after the completion of the planned program.

Lunch will be served in all the college halls at 12:30. At two o'clock the kick-off whistle will sound to open the football game that is to be played on the high school field.

Following the football game there will be a barbecue supper on the campus near Ross Hall. At eight in the evening there is to be a Hallowe'en costume party for students and alumni.

Provisions have been made for as many as five hundred alumni of Brevard College, of the former Weaver College, and of the former Brevard Institute. Special invitations have been mailed to all traceable alumni.

Hallowe'en Party To Be Given Saturday Evening In Brevard
