

POSTOFFICE SURVEY ORDERED MADE HERE

Clubs and Individuals Continue To Write Letters To Washington, D. C.

Organized groups continue to pass resolutions and write letters to the congressman, senator, and postmaster general in regard to a federal building for Brevard.

As result of the activity here, a survey of the town and surrounding community has been ordered. It is noted from replies received here from the postoffice department at Washington, which is at least an encouraging step.

Resolution as passed by the Brevard Wednesday club in meeting last week, follows:

Whereas, the Town of Brevard needs a new post office because of the poor location of the present one and its inadequate facilities, and

Whereas, the Town is growing and will be seriously handicapped by lack of adequate post office facilities in a very short time, and

Whereas, the town deserves a new post office;

Now, therefore, be it resolved: That the Brevard Wednesday Club does hereby respectfully petition the Hon. Zeb Weaver, Senator Robert R. Reynolds and Hon. James A. Farley, Postmaster General of the United States, to do all in their power to secure a post office building in Brevard at the earliest possible date; and

Be it further resolved: That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this Club, that a copy of the same be mailed to Hon. Zeb Weaver, Senator Robert R. Reynolds and Hon. James A. Farley, Postmaster General of the United States, and a copy be mailed to one local newspaper for publication.

Blue Ridge Parkway May Run Close To Lake Toxaway Area

Possible New Routing Would Give Transylvania Three Connecting Links To Highway

Possibility that the Blue Ridge Parkway may swing east and south after it leaves Tennessee Bald was seen last week when federal reconnoitering parties were seen in the Toxaway section.

Definite line is being established from Wagon Road gap to Tennessee Bald, and no statement has been made as to probability of following original adopted line after the parkway reaches the Tennessee Bald point. Statement has been made from Washington that there is possibility of change west of this point, and the fact that a federal reconnoitering party was reported in the Toxaway section lends credence to the idea that the route may swing to the south and east of Richland Balsam.

The Richland Balsam area is regarded as one of the more expensive links in the parkway, and the further fact that there will have to be new location around the Cherokee Indian Reservation also adds to the strength of the story.

It would be possible to swing down the Tennessee Ridge with the route, move over closer to Sylva and enter the Great Smokies at about the originally planned section.

No announcement was made two weeks ago by the surveying party which started at Wagon Road Gap as to where the route would go after it reached the Tennessee Bald, although general plans as reiterated by Secretary Harold Iles said that the parkway would follow as nearly as possible the originally planned route.

Skirting the Richland Balsams would detract materially from the scenic beauty of the parkway, it is pointed out, but at the same time it would save considerable expense in construction.

Annual Red Cross roll call for Transylvania county will start Monday morning, it is announced with goal set for two hundred memberships in the county.

This county has stood at the top of the list of all western counties in membership quota for the past three years, surpassing all others the past two years in over-subscribing, and it is believed that the goal of two hundred members will be reached within the coming week.

One-half the roll call membership goes to the national chapter, the work of which is known to all, and one-half remains in the local treasury to be used in school and community health work of approved types.

From the money sent to national headquarters, catastrophes such as the flood of last year in the Tennessee and Ohio Valleys, hurricanes, outbreaks of disease, and other worthy national causes.

The National chapter also operates training schools such as the one at Camp Carolina near Brevard each year, at which youths are trained in life-saving, first aid, and aquatics.

Jerry Jerome, roll call chairman, has been out of town for the past several days, but will appoint committees and workers immediately upon his return the last of this week. Joa. S. Silverstein, general chairman of the Transylvania chapter said last week that the start of the roll call was being delayed one week on account of absence of the roll call leader but that he expected the delay to cause no decrease in membership, in which the county has excelled for several years.

MANY HUNTERS ARE STOPPING IN TOWN

Pisgah "Sportsmen" Had Taken 294 Deer, 8 Bears Thru Wednesday

Hotels and boarding houses reported a near-shortage of rooms Sunday and Monday as the largest group of hunters in several years registered here for the first three days hunt in Pisgah National Forest.

Probably thirty of the hunters had checked out Wednesday morning after they had made their kills—which included bucks, does, and two bears.

Another group was expected to begin registering Wednesday afternoon and Thursday for the Thursday start of three days in the Davidson River area.

Several large bucks were reported killed Monday and Tuesday, while a few of the hunters had to be contented with "littles deer" of the doe species, ranging down below the 30-pound mark.

One bear was reported taken Monday and another Tuesday, while Ralph Steele of Murphy made the biggest buck kill of the year—204 pounds. A total of 294 deer and eight bears had been killed through Wednesday, the forestry department announced.

Five bucks and 14 doe were killed Wednesday. Assistant Ranger Huber said. Governor Browning of Tennessee, who was scheduled to check in Monday for the wilderness hunt, had failed to arrive Wednesday.

The main hunt will end on November 27, with the last week hunters going on to the Mills River area. Following the 27th, the check-in check-out hunt will start, and end Dec. 10.

The charge for heavy cars, which average 3,500 pounds, will average $12.50.

The fee on trucks weighing 4,000 pounds, gross rating, will be reduced from $16 to $12. The fee on trucks of from 5,000 to 12,000 pounds will remain the same as this year, varying in this range from 40 cents to 50 cents per hundred pounds shipping weight.
