KIMZEY WILL NOT INCREASE TERMS OF LOCAL OFFICES

Sets Forth Reasons For Being Against Extension of Time For Two Years

Representative Pat Kimzey stated in a letter to The Times last week that he did not expect to introduce any legislation whereby office-holders in Transylvania county would be given an increase in pay for the present term, nor an extension of time of their office.

Statement of the Transylvania representative follows in full:

"As two citizens of Transylvania county have written me requesting that I extend the terms of one or more of the Transylvania county officials and as I understand, there has been considerable discussion about this matter, I wish to take this opportunity of informing the people of Transylvania County concerning my views on this subject.

"The present county officials of Transylvania are all friends of mine and I think that these various officials are performing the duties of their respective offices in a splendid manner, however, I am fundamentally opposed to the substitution by legislative enactment for the direct rule of the people. These officials were elected by the people of Transylvania County for a definite term of office, and I do not believe that the people of Transylvania county would like for their representative to change this expressed will of the people during their respective terms.

"As I am county attorney, if the terms of the county commissioners are extended to a period of four years, it would indirectly probably mean that I will be extending my appointment as county attorney for this period of time and I certainly do not wish to be put in this position. If the various officials perform their duties in such a way that the people wish to elect them for another term of office, they undoubtedly will do so.

"Considering the fact that the congressman and State officials must be elected every two years, no saving to Transylvania county would be effected by extending the present terms of the county officials.

"As part of the county officials are now elected for a four year term, it is my opinion that it would probably be better for all of the county officials to have a four year term, however, if a law of this nature is to be put into effect, I think it should apply to the officials elected at the next regular election rather than to the terms of office of the present officials. If a state-wide bill is introduced extending the terms of one or more of the county officials to take effect at the expiration of the terms of the present officials, I expect to consider it, otherwise I expect to take no action in the matter, however, as representative I feel it my duty to take into consideration the views of the people whom I represent and if in the future I am satisfied that the majority of the people of Transylvania county desire the extension of the terms of the present county officials, I will try to do what the people of my county desire."

Library Hours Changed

A change in the schedule for opening the UDC library has been announced by the librarian, Miss Annie Jean Gash. The library is now open from 10 to 12 each week-day morning and from 1 to 5 o'clock each afternoon. The worn books have been repaired and make a neat appearance on the shelves with their fresh covers.

Corn Show and Banquet To Be Held In Brevard On Saturday, March 4th

Annual Transylvania Henderson corn show will be held in Brevard Saturday, March 4, according to plans being made by county agents and agricultural leaders of the two counties.

The corn show will be held in the county agents' office on East Main street, and the banquet will be held in Brevard College dining hall at 7 o'clock.

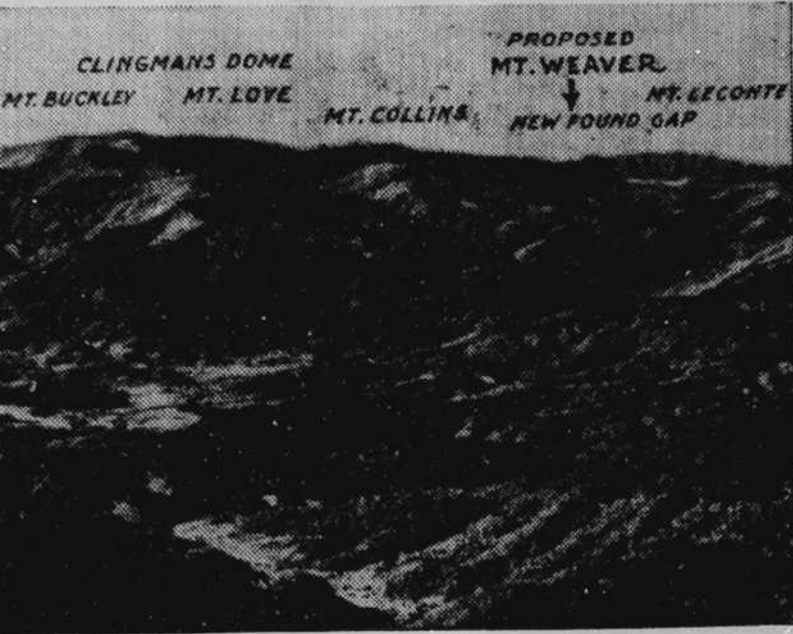

Dr. Frank Graham, president of the Greater University, and Frank C. Jeter, editor of the Extension Bureau service, have been invited as speakers for the banquet.

Entries in the corn show will be made by farmers and boys of 4-H clubs of the two counties, together with vocational agriculture students of the seven high schools.

Farmers and boys who entered the corn growing contest will be guests of honor at the banquet at the college, with several invited guests also to be present.

Prizes for best yields in each of the two counties will be presented at the

Where Scenic Parkway Will Finally Lead

Most beautiful scenery in Eastern America, preserved in its original state will be viewed by the tourists who will soon be enabled to travel 250 miles along the scenic parkway via Transylvania county and through Pisgah Game Preserve.

WPA Workers Must Swear to Citizenship

WPA field foremen in Transylvania county are checking the nationality of each and every WPA worker in the county, and any aliens found here will be dropped from the working list, according to W. A. Wilson, engineer for this county.

The work here is similar to that being carried out all over the state, and in the nation.

Workers who do not make affidavits as to their birth and nationality will be dropped from the roster immediately, Mr. Wilson said, and any persons expecting to be re-assigned to the WPA or who are asking work through the federal bureau will be required to make affidavit.

Agitation was started recently in the United States Senate by Senator Bob Reynolds and others to purge the relief and WPA rolls of aliens, and this is a part of the work.

District Sing Meet On Sunday Afternoon

Lower District Singing convention will meet Sunday afternoon at English Chapel on Davidson River, beginning at 2 o'clock.

DAY OF PRAYER TO BE OBSERVED HERE

Brevard Churches To Join In World Movement For Peace Friday Afternoon

Annual "World Day of Prayer for Peace" will be observed with a special service to be held at the Baptist church Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, to which members of all the churches of Brevard are invited to attend.

An interesting and helpful program has been prepared, with Mrs. Burt Loomis as leader. Members of all denominations will take part on the program.

It is expected that a large representation from all the churches will be present at this special timely service set aside for prayer for world peace.

Corn Show and Banquet To Be Held In Brevard On Saturday, March 4th

banquet, and also prizes for best seed corn entered in the several classes at the show.

Prizes for ten high growers in each county range from $25 for first place down to $3, with fertilizer, and soda also being given by manufacturers.

Cash and commodity prizes will be given for first places in the seed corn show, all of the prizes and awards to be presented at the banquet on the night of the show.

Silver loving cup will be presented to Gerald Allison of Cherryfield and Reid Lane of Henderson county as high growers of the two counties. The cup was awarded to T. J. Wilson of Transylvania the first year, and to J. D. Hooper of Henderson the second year. This is the third year of the contest.

County Agent Julian Glazener of Transylvania and County Agent G. D. White of Henderson are in charge of general arrangements, with other agricultural workers assisting in various parts of the work.

FEDERATION WILL BUILD WAREHOUSE MILL IN BREVARD

Farmer Co-Op Directors Are Elected at Annual Meet Here Saturday

Transylvania county stockholders of the Farmers Federation voted at their annual meeting Saturday in the county's Brevard warehouse to erect a new building on a lot at the rear of the warehouse to be used for storage purposes and to house equipment for grinding corn meal and stock feeds.

The building is to be of frame construction approximately 80 by 35 feet. The federation owns the lot the new building will occupy as well as the present warehouse. The new building will be financed, it was decided, by the sale of new stock shares. A campaign to this end was set to start in two weeks.

Lloyd Cantrell, of Brevard route 1, was nominated to succeed himself for a two-year term as one of two representatives from this county on the federation's board of directors. The other director from Transylvania is E. O. Shipman, Pisgah Forest, whose term extends for another year.

An advisory committee of 10 members for the local warehouse was re-elected as follows:

E. Otis Shipman, Pisgah Forest, chairman; J. A. Whitmire, Brevard route 3; J. L. Gash, Brevard route 3; S. A. Jones, Cedar Mountain; Sam Owens, Lake Toxaway; Frank P. Shuford, Pisgah Forest; Tinsley E. Brown, Balsam Grove; Lloyd Cantrell, Brevard route 1; Y. J. McCrary, Brevard route 2; R. A. Merrill, Penrose.

James G. K. McClure, federation president, reported on the co-op's activities during the past year, and S. C. Clapp, head of the organization's seed department, made a short address on "The Value of Good Seeds." He emphasized the importance especially of careful selection by farmers of seeds for pastures and hay crops with view to guarding against seed containing noxious weeds, especially wild onions.

Miss Annie Gash Is Notified of Sale of Weaving Invention

Miss Annie Jean Gash has recently been notified that patent rights to her Bias Weave-It invention have been purchased by Donar Products corporation, of Medford, Mass.

Manufacture of Miss Gash's invention has already been started by the company and the product is now being placed on the market. In addition to the original purchase price of the Weave-It loom invented by Miss Gash, she will also receive a royalty on all future sales made by the owner of the patent rights.

Along with the little square loom in an attractive box container, is included also an illustrated booklet giving directions for weaving and sewing the completed squares together. Pictures of several articles woven on the loom by Miss Gash are shown in the booklet.

Bags, scarfs, dresses, coats and many other articles of wearing apparel may be fashioned from the bias squares made on the loom.

Center District BTU Meets at Carrs Hill

County Teachers To Meet Here Saturday For State Election

Transylvania county teachers will meet in Brevard Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at the Brevard high school. Special business to be taken up at the meeting will be election of state officers, with each member-teacher voting instead of the usual delegation type of election.

Dr. J. Henry Highsmith is unopposed for the office of state president of the North Carolina Education association, and T. C. Robertson of Buncombe county is said to be a favorite for the vice presidency.

"Safety in Schools" in connection with fire hazards will be discussed by Attorney Ralph H. Ramsey of Brevard.

Rosman WOW Hold Celebration of New Community Building

ROSMAN, Feb. 22—Woodmen headquarters in the community building were formally opened last Friday evening, when a dinner was given by the Chestnut Oak camp members, for their families.

Following a delicious dinner of potato salad, oysters and fish, cake, pie, coffee, and hot chocolate, dedication ceremony was held with Ralph W. Lyday, secretary of the Brevard camp as speaker.

The new lodge hall will be used by the Woodmen and Woodmen Circle members.

MONEY MAKERS

In the above picture may be seen a sow and litter of O.I.C. pigs belonging to Marvin Garren of the Camp Carolina section. At bottom of picture is a shoot from the sow above, which J. H. Garren raised, and which tipped the scales at 325 pounds—age seven months, ten days. Marvin says that his sow is a good money-maker, and is one of his best investments.

Albert Brothers To Employ 250 Men On National Drive

Willie Allison Was Heart Attack Victim

William A. Allison, well known resident of the Wilson's bridge section of Brevard, died early Monday morning at his home. He was 67 years of age. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at Carr's Hill Baptist church, with the Rev. Mr. Reece and the Rev. Mr. Blythe officiating. Interment was in the cemetery nearby.

Surviving are his widow, a daughter, Mrs. Clyde Pittman, two granddaughters, of Brevard, two brothers, Lee, of South Carolina, Oat, of Hendersonville, and one sister, Mrs. James Holden, of Brevard.

Funeral services were Willis Brittain, D. P. Kilpatrick, Charles Scruggs, Sam Allison, Lynch Moore and Charles Orr. Mr. Allison was one of the most successful and progressive farmers in the county, a man of sterling character and capacity for making and keeping friends, of whom he leaves a large number to regret his passing.

Moore and Trantham funeral directors had charge of arrangements.

Annual Big Egg Contest Will Be Started By Times This Week

Annual "Big Egg" contest by The Transylvania Times begins this week with the first weighing of eggs to be held Saturday night of this week. One dollar will be paid each week for the largest egg brought to The Times office.

Only eggs laid by Transylvania county hens may be entered in the contest, or those in the Wolf Mountain, Etowah, and HorseShoe sections, which communities are served by this newspaper.

Size of the eggs will be determined by weight again this year instead of by tape measurement which is regarded as the more accurate manner of getting at size. The weighing will be done each Saturday after closing the office and one dollar

First Project To Be Started West of Asheville

Brevard Has Excellent Tie-In Route Via Highway 284

Years of anxious-hard work by enterprising Western Carolina leaders brought fruit of their labor Monday morning when work was started at Wagon Road Gap 16 miles from Brevard on the first link of the Great Smoky Mountains National Parkway west of Asheville.

Albert Brothers, Salem, Virginia contractors, began setting up temporary headquarters for operations Monday, and established a camp at the merging of the Transylvania-Haywood county lines where highway 284 crosses the Pisgah Ridge.

The contractors will begin actual construction work on Wednesday of next week, with their contract calling for completion of the five and one-tenth mile stretch of the scenic parkway within 450 calendar days.

Approximately 250 men will be employed when the work gets fully under way, according to L. J. Missimer, superintendent for Albert Brothers, majority of whom will be drawn from Transylvania and Haywood counties—units touched by the parkway under construction.

A new yard and half shovel was placed on the job Wednesday, and two other shovels will be here by first of next week, along with bull-dozers and other heavy machinery which is being moved in by McCrary Transfer company of Brevard for the company.

Beginning Wednesday of next week, crews will clear right-of-way, followed closely by the heavy machinery to do grading, and in turn, later on, by crushed stone and gravel for surfacing. The surfaced roadway will be 20 feet, with shoulders five feet, to be built by the contractors, and other crews of the federal government will beautify the route after it is completed for 100 feet on either side.

The scenic parkway, the longest of its kind in the world, as well as the most scenic, will extend from the Shenandoah National Park to the Great Smoky Mountains National park, and will be used exclusively for light tourist travel.

Plans of the Washington officials, as announced several weeks ago, call for letting of another link west of the Wagon Road Gap stretch, and reaching to Tennessee Bald at the southwestern corner of Transylvania county. A road is now being built to connect with the paved highway at Rosman, and Waynesville, so that a loop of the parkway will be open to the public within the next two years.

The state highway department, forestry officials, and CCC units are co-operating on the Rosman-Sunburst road which will provide access at the southwest end of the 14-mile link of parkway, to make the parkway open
