

BREVARD CHURCHES IN EASTER SERVICES

Special Music and Other Features For Occasion—Good Friday Exercises

Easter will be observed in the different churches of Brevard Sunday with appropriate sermons by the pastors and special music by the choirs and by other features of a special nature.

St. Philip's Episcopal church services for Sunday have been announced by the rector, the Rev. Harry Perry, as follows: Holy Communion, 8 o'clock; Sunday school baptismal service, 10 o'clock; Holy Communion and sermon, and soloist, Mrs. Harry Bobst, 11 o'clock. Sunday evening at 7:30 choral vespers will be held at the church in a union service with the Presbyterian church, with music by the combined choirs of the two churches, and sermon by the Rev. C. M. Jones, pastor of the Presbyterian church.

The Holy Week services which have been held daily at St. Philip's this week will conclude with the Good Friday service and sermon on the Seven Last Words on the Cross at 10:30 o'clock Friday morning.

The Rev. E. P. Billups, pastor of the Methodist church, has announced services for Easter Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. His sermon text will be "Life's Supreme Question." Mrs. Nat Townsend will be soloist and the choir will render special music. Special feature will be flowers placed in the church in memory of departed loved ones. Mrs. D. L. English, chairman, has asked that those desiring to place flowers in the church notify her not later than 6 o'clock Friday.

Good Friday afternoon Holy communion will be held at the Methodist church from three to six o'clock. Dr. T. F. Marr will be in charge the first hour; Rev. G. C. Brinkman the second hour; and Rev. J. H. West from five to six o'clock. There will be no formal service but members and friends are asked to come at any convenient time during the three-hour period and remain for meditation and prayer, and to partake of the communion ceremonies.

The Rev. Yancey C. Elliott, pastor of the Baptist church, and the Rev. C. M. Jones, pastor of the Presbyterian church, have announced no special Easter services, with the exception of sermons suitable to the occasion and special music by the choir.

Elaborate Ball Will Be Given at Rosman 14th

ROSMAN, April 5—Rosman Civic Center will be scene of the first elaborate occasion of the season on the evening of April 14, when a benefit ball will be given.

Plans call for an out-of-town orchestra, decorations in keeping with the formal occasion, and an evening of dancing on the fine dance floor of the civic center which will accommodate better than one hundred couples.

The event will be given for benefit of the Lyday Memorial hospital at Brevard and tickets will go on sale this week, in Rosman, Brevard, and Hendersonville. Admission price will be 50 cents per person.

Music will start at 9 o'clock sharp, according to Ernest McPaul who is heading the group putting the formal dance on.

LEGISLATURE ENDS WORK ON TUESDAY

Record Spending Budget Bill Adopted—Health and Ballot Law Changes

Representative Pat Kimzey returned Tuesday night from Raleigh where he has been attending the 1939 sessions of the legislature.

The session ended Tuesday morning shortly after two o'clock when both houses adjourned sine die on its 91st day.

Chief among the statewide bills passed at the session was the absentee ballot reform bill and the health measures affecting marriages, and unborn children.

The assembly gave North Carolina a health set-up which physicians predicted would help banish syphilis in little more than a decade.

The legislators handed North Carolina a record $155,000,000 budget, balanced with anticipated revenue for 1939-41.

At Lyday Hospital

Patients reported at Lyday Memorial hospital on Wednesday were: Jim Hayes, C. H. McCall, Mrs. Emma Eldridge, Mrs. Guy Pitts, Ernest Mc-Faul.

Townsend Plan Leader To Speak Here Tonight

Grant Lowe, national representative of the Townsend Plan, will speak at Brevard court house Thursday evening of this week at 7:30 o'clock. Also on the program for short addresses will be J. Scroop Styles of Asheville, prominent attorney, and Guy Weaver, Judge, also of Asheville.

Local sponsors of the speaking engagement state that the Townsend Plan will increase business, greatly reduce taxes, employ the unemployed; and will, in general be a recovery program of the first order.

Brevard Leader Dead

Wm. E. BREESE, Brevard attorney and public official, died last Thursday evening at 10:15 at Lyday Memorial hospital following an extended illness of heart trouble and complications.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon from St. Philip's Episcopal church, with the Rev. Harry Perry, rector, in charge. Interment was made in the Cemetery at St. Paul's in the Valley.

Hundreds of friends and leaders from many sections of the state attended the last rites of the man who had been a leader in political and civic activities in Western North Carolina for forty years.

Pallbearers included R. L. Gash, A. G. Kyle, S. F. Allison, T. J. Wilson, Jos. S. Silverstein, A. O. Kitchen, C. C. Yongue, and J. S. Bromfield. Several cars and trucks were required to carry the beautiful floral tributes that came from friends in all walks of life.

Mr. Breese is survived by one daughter, Mrs. John R. Hudson of Brevard; two sons, Dick Breese, city editor of The Memphis Commercial Appeal, and E. W. Breese of Kansas City, Mo.; three sisters, Mrs. J. M. Allison of Brevard; Mrs. Robert T. Kirksey of Pickens, and Miss Margaret Breese of Summerville, S. C., and one brother, Edmund Breese, of Milwaukee.

Born in Charleston, S. C., Mr. Breese had resided in Brevard for more than 40 years, and had led an interesting

Public Requested To Attend C of C Meet

Monthly meeting of the Brevard Chamber of Commerce will be held Friday evening at 7:30 in the City Hall for discussion of matters pertaining to the community's welfare, and officers invite all citizens to attend the session.

While the meetings each first Friday evening are nominally called for transaction of business by the directors, the public in general is always welcome, the officers point out, and are requested to take part in discussion of all matters taken up.

COLLEGE HOLIDAYS WILL BEGIN TODAY

Methodist Pastors and Church Workers Here For 2-Day Education Meeting

Spring holidays for the students of Brevard college will begin at noon Thursday, April 6 and will continue through Tuesday April 11.

After their last class on Thursday, the students will leave for their respective homes, which are located in various sections of North Carolina, Virginia, South Carolina, Kentucky, Florida, and Louisiana. Three special buses will be on hand to take them to Asheville, Charlotte, and Winston-Salem.

Christian Education Retreat

During the absence of the students, a retreat, for the pastors and workers with the young people of the Asheville and Waynesville districts, will be held at the college on April 10-11. The work of Christian Education in these districts will be discussed with emphasis on the young people's programs in local churches. Rev. Earl D. C. Brewer, of Brevard college, will have charge of the recreation for the retreat.

Spring Festival

The committee for the Spring Festival has been elected, with Mrs. John B. Bennett as chairman.

Other members of the committee are: Mrs. Palmer; Miss Sizemore; Miss Kilgough; Miss Craig, Mr. Schoenkecht, and Mr. Brewer.

The event is scheduled for Saturday, May 6.

The Southeast International Relations Clubs Conference will be held at the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Virginia, April 6 to 8. An outstanding feature of the program will be the student round tables on present-day situations.

Distinguished speakers will address the conference as guests of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace which sponsors these groups in college and universities throughout the country. The clubs have as their principal aim the objective study of international affairs. There are at present 859 clubs organized throughout the world and 706 in the United States.

The speakers will include Miss Amy Hemingway Jones, the Carnegie representative in charge of International Relations Clubs; Dr. Calvin B. Hoover, professor of economics at Duke University whose subject is "Problems in Formulating a Foreign Policy for the United States," and Dr. Clyde Eagleton, professor of international law at New York University, who will speak on "The Far Eastern Crisis."

Dr. Lionel H. Laing, faculty adviser of the International Relations Club at William and Mary, is in charge of the conference.

A delegation of six, from Brevard college will attend the conference.

Tax Listing Started County-Wide Monday

Tax lists in the several precincts of the county started their work Monday morning, and reports from Tax Supervisor Lyday's office Wednesday were to the effect that good response was being had at most of the polling places.

The commissioners have issued an order to the effect that penalties will be added to property where the owner does not list during the stated periods as advertised in this newspaper.

Tax books will be in the hands of the listers in each of the precincts for another week, Mr. Lyday said, and any person who has missed the lister near his home should make contact at once.

Mr. Twiggs said that he planned to renovate the present building located on the lot, and use it as a restaurant and tea room this summer. Future plans for development of the property have not been announced.

The property was owned by the Security Life & Trust company. No purchase price was given out.

SUPERIOR COURT TO END APRIL TERM HERE ON THURSDAY

Few Civil Cases To Be Heard—Criminal Docket Was Cleared Wednesday

April term of Superior court will very probably complete its work here Thursday, according to court attaches who were contacted late Wednesday afternoon.

Sheriff George Shuford requested The Times to notify all jurors who had been summoned for the second week of court that their services would not be necessary.

A large part of the civil cases were continued for the term, thus facilitating adjournment. Criminal docket was completed Wednesday morning and Solicitor Clarence Riddings left for his home. Miss Kelly, court stenographer, will remain here through Thursday.

Judge J. A. Rousseau, of North Wilkesboro, presiding for his first term in Transylvania, has dispatched the cases before him with exceptional speed, and the court has moved along rapidly under his leadership.

Especially noticeable during the first two days of court was the fact that Judge Rousseau is a firm believer in the laws of the highway pertaining to driving drunk being enforced. One case brought before the court for driving drunk was disposed of by giving the defendant 15 days in jail at his own expense, a fine of $100, and payment of court cost, or the alternative of serving 90 days on the roads.

Protection of vacant property was also given a boost by the court, when three defendants—a man and two women of more or less character—were given a total of from 6 to 15 years for entering a summer home and stealing household goods.

Mercy, however, was shown in cases where it was merited, by Judge Rousseau. One little negro lad who plead guilty of stealing money was allowed to go. He had already served sixty days in jail, and the court took into consideration that the lad was young, his father dead, and probably had no chance in life prior to the theft.

Tuesday morning a memorial service was held for Wm. E. Breese, former member and president of the Brevard Bar association, who died last Thursday evening.

Judge Rousseau gave up his seat as presiding officer to Judge D. L. English, president of the local bar. After expression of respect from members of the bar in regard to the departed member, President English appointed Attorney Ralph H. Ramsey, R. L. Gash, Lewis P. Hamlin, and A. F. Mitchell to draft appropriate resolutions of respect for Mr. Breese.

JONES - GLAZENER TO ACT VALEDICTORIANS

Brevard Students Each Make High Rating of 96.5 During School

Edward Glazener, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julian A. Glazener of Brevard, and Paul Jones, son of professor and Mrs. J. B. Jones of Brevard, tied for top places in their four years of high school work with the exceptional average of 96.5.

Both young men have had good extra activity records, taking part in many phases of school programs and projects.

Edward Glazener was winner of the 4-H club corn growing contest in 1936, with 88 bushels. He is a Boy Scout with Star rating, and has also served as assistant patrol leader, treasurer and reporter.

Edward is a member of the Baptist church and is secretary of his Sunday school class and an associate teacher for the intermediate department. In his junior year he was in the class play, and was chief marshal at commencement.

At present he is president of the 4-H club, member of the FFA, and reporter for the senior class as well as treasurer and member of the high school newspaper staff.

Edward is in the senior class play cast, and was named as the most studious senior, most courteous, and most dependable. He was nominated as a school citizen three years. He was valedictorian of his B-grammar school class, as well as president. He represented the Junior Music club at the district meeting when in the ninth grade, has been member of the club four years, served one year as reporter, and one year as president.

Paul Jones has served during his senior year as editor-in-chief of the school newspaper, one of the places sought after annually by a large group of students. He was associate editor during his junior year.

Paul is a member of the senior class play cast, and is also vice president of the seniors. He was a member of the junior class play cast, and also acted as marshal in his junior year at commencement.

Interested in music, Paul has served one year as president of the Junior Music Club, and won the music appreciation contest while in grammar school. He was winner of the "Young America on the Air" contest here recently, and was invited to play in Charlotte before a convention of refrigerator dealers. He was elected most musical in his last three years in high school, and as a member of the Baptist church and Sunday school is pianist for the intermediate department. For the three past years Paul has been nominated for the school's best citizen, and was selected as one of the six best French pupils to enter the statewide contest. He received honorable mention in the American Youth Forum contest in 1938, and was in the readers and declaimers contest in his freshman year.

Home Talent Program Be Presented April 17

New Store Opens In Brevard On Saturday

McBride's 5c to $1 store will open for business here Saturday, April 8, according to announcement in this week's Times. The store will be operated by W. R. McBride and son Harry, of Waynesville, who have been in this line of work for several years. A wide line of inexpensive items will be featured by the new concern.

District Singing Meet With Calvert Church

Upper District singing convention will meet Sunday afternoon at Mt. Moriah, Calvert church. The program is scheduled to start at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and singers from all sections of the county as well as the upper district are invited to be present.

The district conventions are always well attended, and leaders from other counties are generally present to add to the occasions.

Easter Seal Sale To Continue Thru Week

Brevard's annual Easter seal sale for crippled children will come to a close on Saturday, sponsored by the local department of public welfare.

Mrs. E. D. Franklin, county chairman of the sale, has been assisted in the campaign by school children and representatives of the different churches. Six cash prizes will be offered to the school children selling the most seals, based on the daily average attendance for the first six months of school.

In addition to seals being sold by the school children, they are also on sale in the post office each day and in the business section. Mrs. Ashe Macfie is chairman of the sale in the business district, which has been divided into zones for the campaign.

Penrose Benefit Party

A benefit party will be given at the Penrose school Friday night at 7:30 o'clock, according to announcement made by the principal, Miss Fleeto Freeman. Games will be played and prizes offered. There will also be a fishing pond, an ice cream booth, and an old fashioned cake walk. Admission charges will be 10 and 20 cents. Proceeds will be used for benefit of the school.
