BIBLE THOUGHT
 THE SIN BEARER: He hath poured out his soul unto death; that he bare the sin of many, and made intercession for the transgressors.—Isaiah 53:12.

SQUIBS AND SQUAWKS

Preachers are mighty nice fellows to have around—and they come in handy very often too. Mr. Billups dropped in last Thursday just after a lady had called and asked me what "E Pluribus Unum" means, and off-hand I couldn't tell her... could you have? Well I'll tell you what Preacher Billups said in next week's paper.

We folk who have lived here a long time often forget that new-comers are nice folk, and that they are interested in the town too. First four memberships I sold to the golf course and country club were to "outsiders" who have moved in to make their homes here—A. B. Burton, G. G. Page, Lee M. Bauer, and Dr. Claude B. Squires.

W. R. Kilpatrick down at Penrose says he can't get along without The Times, and "enjoys it just as much as if it were a REAL newspaper." What's more he enjoys it enough to pay for it each year, and that's proof enough for me.

From "way back in the mountings"—at Rosman to be exact—the honorable postmaster sends in his dollar for renewal, and with it the following literary gem worthy of reproduction—

dear mister duggs:—
 har is you dolla, now yo quit sendin dem dons.
 efen i didd hev mo to do den you is id visit roun an see foks wonce in whll.
 yo ole hl hat—i seed yo mon nite but yo no look roun an see me. dats alrite—al yo wants is dis here dolla, now yo is got it. send me nother don bout year frum now.

Down to Greenville Friday afternoon, along with Dr. Fred Holt, and now I really know why so many people in our sister city come to Transylvania in the summer time. Greenville is a fine city, it has a lot of extra fine people, and they are for the most part very friendly toward our county, but the folk there do have to suffer in the summer time... heat, yes! Just like an oven to a pair of mountaineers like Doc Holt and the "old man."

Brevard at one time had an attractive road sign just below Travelers Rest, pointing out the way to Brevard, and telling in brief words something of our section. Now the sign is in ill repute... looks sorter like North Broad street—needs fixing up. Suggest that the Chamber of Commerce have some work done on the marker.

Several people have gotten sort of grouchy toward me about continued mention of North Broad street... and I had aimed to forget it for this week, but just had to use it to make a comparison for the Travelers Rest sign. Maybe we will soon have some improvements on Probate street extension—Caldwell to Methodist church—if WPA Engineer Wilson and the board of aldermen can get it figured in on their street improvement program, and then there will be an added incentive for all the property owners on North Broad to do some straightening up.

Several people reminded me Thursday and Friday that folk either failed to read my high class? ? ? column, or if they did read it paid absolutely no attention. Seems to me and my informants as well, that more cars were parked a-straddle of the white line on Brevard streets Thursday and Friday than usual. Maybe some folk who own cars just can't read, or maybe they don't give a happy whoop.

Friend of mine came in the office this week and literally "hopped all over me" about the item I wrote two weeks ago in re Brevard people shopping out of town. Said one reason he didn't like to shop in Brevard was that he wasn't treated with courtesy like he received in out-of-town places. I told him right off the bat that I disagreed with him, emphatically, but the idea is worth passing along. Sometimes, most of us, get a little lax in our courtesy toward customers—catch myself at it very often... but on a whole I think our business people do exceptionally well.

Over to Knoxville Friday night—or rather Saturday morning early—and that is another neighbor (not so close) that has its share of the heat, plus,

Nice place, even though some parts of the city look old, and some of the streets are rather narrow, same for the sidewalks, and some of the buildings evidently built before the day of streamlining. Worst feature I ran into was the heat... guess I've lived in Transylvania county so long that I expect every other place to be nice and pleasant in the summer... but we've got the world beaten on climate, even though there are a lot of things need improving in the home town... go over to Knoxville, or down to Greenville, and just keep tab on how much nicer and more comfortable you begin to feel as soon as you start back into the mountains. Knoxville has as nice hotels as Asheville, but the difference in being cool and hunting for an extra blanket at 4 a. m. and wondering if a cold bath would help any, is a lot to folk who are getting along in years like the old man, and who must have comfortable sleep.

Stopped at two hotels—Knoxville, and Asheville, during the week-end, and I am forced to mention the fact that Brevard needs a hotel, badly. How much another hotel here would pay the investor, I am not in position to say, but it would be a community asset, absolutely, and for certain.

Brevard is "growing up." Transylvania Trust company reports assets passed the half million dollar mark last Wednesday—deposits going up past the four hundred thousand mark... naturally the folk down on the corner who handle all my overdrafts were tickled, and me too... means a better and bigger town, more money to lend, and a healthy state for the bank. Healthy banks make healthy communities and healthy communities make bigger and stronger banks.

Have you been around to McFee Jewelry sale? Worth going just to listen at the auctioneer tell his story, and he really knows how. Mr. Roos (he says it is the first four letters just like the President's name) has been holding sales here for years, and the folk must like his ways else he couldn't keep on coming back.

Lamar Lewis brought me the following clipping on how to be successful... but he doesn't guarantee the process... at least he hasn't made out with it, unless one were to count size for success—

A recently retired business man was asked how he accumulated his fortune: "I attribute my ability to retire with $50,000 in the bank, after 30 years in the field, to close application to duty; always hewing to the mark and letting the chips fall where they may; the most vigorous rules of economy; never spending a cent foolishly; everlastingly keeping at my job with whole heart and—the death of an uncle who left me $49,999.50." — California Growers Advocate.

John Paul Lucas, good will emissary for the Duke Power company, paid Brevard his first visit in months, and was amazed at the progress here. Mr. Lucas kind of lost track on Brevard during an extended illness, but now that he is "on his feet" he plans to check up on the improvements, and especially the fine road through Pisgah National Forest.

Course I COULD be wrong, but I'll bet a doughnut hole that Swain county votes against likker stores, and Buncome for.

Several people disappointed Sunday afternoon uptown... blew and blew on their auto callopes or whatever the noise-maker on a gas wagon should be called, but they got no curb service, because it was raining. Don't blame the soda clerks, I'd hate to go out and give curb service any time, but when it's raining, no sir-ee!

WAR HAS BEEN DECLARED, or it looked so here over the week-end... scrapping, fighting, cutting, and slashing... course I missed it all by not being here... maybe just as well, might have been hurt trying to get out of the rush. One gent suggested Sunday afternoon that the war might be traced to some mean moonshine—there are kinds of the white mule that make people fight, so I've been told.

By gadding around over the country, missed a good dinner up at Captain Bass Gillespie's last Sunday... guess I'll have to stay around home more and get in on all the dinners that my friends will be giving for the next couple months... nothing like a family home-coming and the fine eats to make a country editor feel good.

County Agent Glazener says he expects to be out and at 'em again within the next week or so, and that he certainly will eat no more green apples to upset his stomach. Julian is getting along fine as a fiddle but Uncle Sam's hospital over at Oteen says stick around until we say you're oke before we let you out. Shore and Julia are doing a good job of county agent-ing while the boss is out.

Wonder why a postoffice doesn't need screens... reckon files never go after their mail.

Sheriff Chet C. Kilpatrick says that he emphatically has not moved to South Carolina to make his home, as reported, and that he will be back "where he belongs" within a short while.

I heard about a filling station that certainly didn't belong to our town—a sign across the front said "Don't ask for information; if we knew ANY thing we wouldn't be here."

It will happen here someday... 50 spectators injured at a fire at Morganton Monday morning... our folk MUST run to the fire and, just like it happened in Morganton, there will be a bad accident, involving a lot of people... might be bad if just one were injured and that one turned out to be YOU or one of your children... firemen are able to cope with fires.

P-Vine Price says it pays to advertise—somebody borrowed the town's "sewer steel" and forgot to bring it home... a want adv brought the steel back home.

Paul Glazener and his new "motor-scooter" outfit caused as much excitement last Monday afternoon as if it had been an elephant he was riding instead of the little half-and-half bicycle automobile, do-jigger... think I'll get one to do some of my scouting around.

Brevard will be a city first thing you know... stop and go light being put up on the square, and within a few days, the motorists will be looking up to see when they may cross instead of getting into traffic jams like we have been witnessing here for past several months. I don't like the light system, but when we "grow up" those things have to be taken care of.
