

CHAMBER COMMERCE MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Payments Asked Immediately So That List May Be Made Public

Members of the Brevard Chamber of Commerce will be listed in The Times next week, it is announced by the finance committee of the group, and other parties will be contacted during the week in effort to increase the membership.

Annual election of officers will be held the second week in October, and the finance committee is desirous of securing payment of pledges and also for new memberships before time for the election.

It was reported following a meeting of the finance committee in the office of J. H. Tinsley Tuesday night, that a number of business concerns in the town have not paid in this season, although the work has been carried on as usual.

The body is not in debt, it was stressed, but the work will be continued through the winter with part-time secretary, and funds will of necessity have to be available for this purpose.

In addition, the advertising committee is planning to purchase 10,000 booklets for distribution immediately after Christmas holidays, and this will entail a cost of around $300.

During the year, it was reported, 10,000 pieces of literature have been mailed to bureaus making requests and individuals, and the office has been kept open with Mrs. R. R. Fisher in charge. Display space has been purchased through co-operation of the local governmental units and manufacturing plants in several large daily newspapers, four different magazines of national circulation, and in trade publications in effort to interest both tourists and industries.

Ladies Again Invited To Use Golf Course

Response to the "Ladies Days" last Friday and Saturday at the Brevard Golf course prompts Manager Ed Watson to announce another guest occasion for the fairer sex Friday and Saturday of this week.

With reconditioning of the course, increased interest is also being shown in play by men of the community, and there are also a number of visitors playing, Mr. Watson reports.

Extended tourist season, reported by the Chamber of Commerce is adding to play at the golf course, and several people have stated that they are remaining in Brevard in order to take advantage of the cooler days for golfing.

WAR PICTURE TOLD IN ENGLISH LETTER

Brevard Lady Receives Letter From Cousin Telling of Hardships, Fear

Mrs. Mildred Chadwick is in receipt of a letter, dated September 4, from her cousin Grace (Nightingale), who lives in Sussex, England. The letter is of particular general interest at this time, since it relates first hand news of war conditions in England, as experienced personally by the writer of the letter.

The letter, in part, follows: "I have been too upset to write with this awful horror of war upon us, all nerves as a result of that awful illness and operation and this is the last straw. To improve the shining hour have two school teachers and their old mother billeted on me—refugees from London. They are very nice and I suppose I will get used to it in time, any way I will do my best. It is awful to see everyone in the streets with tense faces and it has been awful coping with the darkening of the endless windows in this house and crawling about in a dim light within, and pitch black streets outside. Isn't it cruel that one vile man should have the power of dealing out untold misery and suffering? Please God, England and her allies will crush him. It is impossible to think that evil will triumph. How terrible the news of the passenger ships being torpedoed... I feel ready to break now and if I let myself cry I would continue till the crack of doom. I wish it were not such a difficult work. Poor Mr. Chamberlain, what must he feel that all his efforts have been in vain. Please God, this fiendish war won't last long... Your weary, sad and loving

Grace (Nightingale).

Chief Bromfield To Resign Fire Post He Has Held 25 Years

J. S. Bromfield, for the past 25 years chief of Brevard fire department, tendered his resignation to the board of aldermen Monday night.

Chief Bromfield told the board that his health demanded that he resign, and that it was not from any wish to refuse co-operation with the officials, or to cripple the organization. "Twenty-five years is a long time for one man to hold a job," the chief said, "and this coupled with the fact that I am not as young as I once was, forces me to offer my resignation, effective immediately if you can fill the place, or certainly as soon as possible."

The board told the retiring chief that they as well as the general public, appreciated the work he has done here with the fire department, and that they would only consider his resignation because of his reason stated.

Chief Bromfield is expected to remain on the job for another week or two, while a new man is being selected.

Motion Pictures Be Shown At Schools In County During Week

"The River," a motion picture showing forest, their care, and protection, will be exhibited at five Transylvania schools, as an educational program, in cooperation with the North Carolina Forestry department.

The picture show is sponsored by the TVA county farm agents, and school, as an educational program. Included in the filming is a story of interest, which makes for entertainment as well as education.

The following schedule will be observed in showing the picture:

Monday, Oct. 2—Little River school, 7:30 in the evening.
Tuesday, Oct. 3—Brevard high school, 2:40 in the afternoon; Enon school, 7:30 in the evening.

Brevard Hi Meets Waynesville High Eleven Here Friday, 3:30

With the taste of victory still in their mouths from last Friday's win over Weaverville, Brevard high will meet the Waynesville eleven here Friday afternoon.

The game will be played on the high school field, and will start at 3:30. Tickets are on sale by members of the school athletic association.

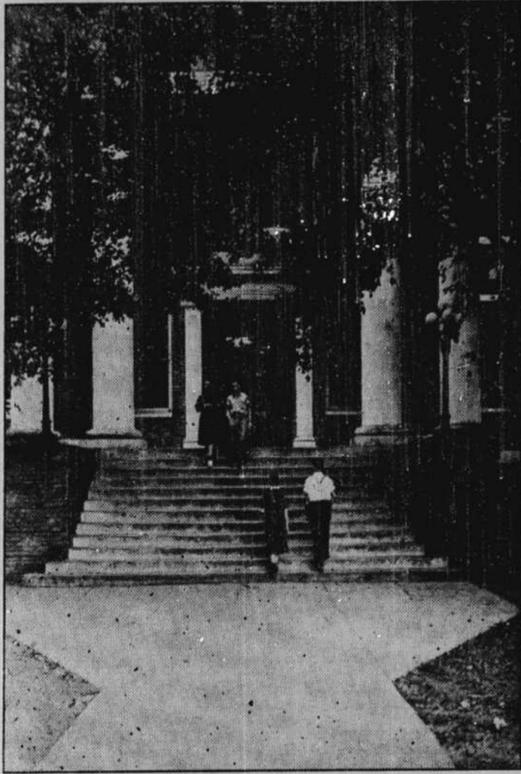

This will probably be the hardest game the locals will face this season, as the Waynesville crew has always given Brevard trouble, and is counted a notch upon the Brevard crew. However, Coach Cox says that he has no qualms about the outcome of the game, and that his entire crew is in good shape for the fray. Misenheimer will add strength to the backfield, and allow some shifting to the line for Brevard.

Hamlin will be at center, putting Dixon at guard, and R. Jackson and Blake will be at ends for the start.

Probable starting lineup will be: Ends, Blake and R. Jackson; tackles, Varner and Lance; guards, R. Hileman and Dixon; center, Hamlin; backs, Misenheimer, Wright, Allison, and J. Hileman.

Over 400 Students Enroll At Brevard

Brevard College campus again teems with action as young people from different parts of North Carolina and other states come to be residents of the college community for a year. The arrival of freshmen on Sunday and Monday filled many of the college dormitories and it is expected that the sophomores coming in on Tuesday will fill all available space.

Dean C. E. Buckner and his associates hoped to complete registrations of sophomores by Wednesday evening and freshmen by Thursday evening. Enrollment is expected to pass the 400-mark Thursday.

On Tuesday evening a House Party was given in all dormitories while Wednesday night was set aside for the presentation of the various clubs and societies of the college.

Thursday evening will give way to a supper for the entire student body on Savannah Hill, after which a free movie, "Moonstone," will be shown at the school.

The first chapel program has been arranged for Friday morning and Friday evening will be given over to the first meeting of the four literary societies. The busy week will close on Saturday evening with a formal reception given by the faculty.

Under the supervision of Dean C. E. Buckner a student retreat was held at Camp Transylvania to discuss the college program which includes the reception of new students.

SQUIRREL HUNT TO BRING SPORTSMEN

Davidson River Section Will Be Entered Monday—Mills River Thursday

Preparations are being made by Pisgah Forest rangers for staging the annual squirrel hunt in the game preserve next week.

Hunters will enter the Davidson River area Monday through Wednesday, with checking station to be located at the intersection of highway 284 and the Boylston road.

Thursday through Saturday, the hunt will be held on the Mills River and Bent Creek watershed areas, and checking station will be maintained for the last three days at the North Mills River recreation camp.

Each hunter will be permitted to hunt four days, and 10 per day limit will be observed. Fees will be $1 per day, payable with a postoffice money order at the checking station, or permits may be secured at the ranger office prior to opening of the hunt.

Standard .22 calibre rifles using standard velocity type cartridges will be the only arms and ammunition allowed to be used.

No dogs will be allowed on the preserve, and no wildlife other than squirrels shall be molested, the regulations covering the hunt state.

Squirrels are said to be plentiful this year in the preserve, and the ranger station reports numerous applications for one and two days from out of state hunters.

24 To Enroll Here In CCC Monday

Twenty-one Transylvania white boys and three colored boys will be enrolled in the CCC on Monday of next week at Camp Sledge, NC P-66, Brevard.

Mrs. C. Y. Patton, welfare superintendent said that over 50 applications had been made by boys of the county, for entry, but that the quota was only 21. Several boys have been selected as alternates, and will be at the camp in case any of the first 21 are turned down for physical unfitness.

Boys will be enrolled at P-66 and then detailed to such camps as are low in enrollees.

College Greetings In Second Section

Special greetings from Brevard business houses and individuals to the incoming students and faculty at Brevard College are being carried in the second section of The Times.

Brevard business people, as well as all citizens, are proud of Brevard College, and they are making expression of this pride in their special message printed in the second section of this issue.

Students and teachers are requested to file the special section of the home paper, as a business guide for future references. A paper is being placed in each room of the college dormitories.

Local NYA Group To Have Exhibit at Fair

Attractive wooden buttons made by the NYA group, under the direction of F. H. Holden, supervisor, will be exhibited at the state fair in Raleigh in October. They will also be on exhibit at the Sir Walter hotel in Raleigh preceding the fair.

The buttons are of varying size and color and are made from a variety of native woods, including walnut, maple, sourwood, holly and other kinds from this section. A combination of two or three different kinds of wood are used to good effect on some of the buttons, all of which are unique and attractive in design.

TWO COMMUNITIES ADDING ELECTRICITY

Turkey Creek and Blantyre Section Placed On System By Duke Co.

Two more Transylvania county communities now have added home facilities that can only be provided by electricity—Turkey Creek and East Blantyre.

The Turkey Creek line serves fourteen homes, in that area from the W. D. Deaver home near Davidson River to the Jud McCall home near foot of Little Mountain. The lights have already been turned on by the Duke system, and the people there are very happy indeed over the added home comforts.

Another line is being built from Blantyre station to Pleasant Grove church, two and one-half miles, and will serve 18 or more families. Already, the people along the new line are thinking of improvements in the nature of electric refrigerators, radios, other home appliances, and farm equipment driven by electric power.

In the past few years, lines have been constructed to the Cedar Mountain and Caesar's Head section; Brevard to Calvert; to Sunny Side Dairy; through Glade Creek; Pisgah National Forest; Connestee school section; Etowah to French Broad along US 64.

Want Adv Section Provides Interest

If you are looking for an apartment, a house, or a room, turn to the Classified Section of The Times.

Likewise, if you have something to sell, the Classified section is a good bet. The same applies to those who have something to sell, to rent, lost, or found—users have found the column very good, and the fact that more and more people are using the "penny a word" advertising is proof of the popularity and worth.

Look around, you may have something you don't need which will bring in some ready cash—Use A Want Adv.
