Mr. Young, a business man of Clayton, bought the property as an investment, and plans to remodel the building and modernize both the first and second story.

While no purchase price was named by Mr. English, it is understood from the revenue stamps attached to the deed that the price was $12,000.

The building is now occupied by Mull's Grocery and market, the Sharp Variety store and one room recently vacated by Austin Studio. Part of the office space upstairs is also rented.

Plans are to have a Santa Claus, and refreshments for the youngsters, in addition to the toys, and contributions of cash have already been made to the fund by members of the fire department.

The executive committee in a meeting this week decided that outside donations would be accepted from any person or club, but request that no donation be for more than one dollar from any individual.

Members of the committee who have been authorized to accept donations for the buying of candy, fruits and other goodies for the party include: Alex Klizer, city clerk, B. H. Freeman, chief police, John W. Smith, Dan Merrill, C. F. Misenheimer, and C. M. Douglas, Mrs. B. D. Franklin.

Christmas Seal Sale Will Be Started Soon

Annual Christmas seal sale will start Friday and continue until Christmas, announcement has been made by Mrs. Edwin Wilke, general chairman of the campaign, sponsored by the P.T.A.

Seventy-five percent of the proceeds of the sale of seals will remain in this county to be used in health work among the needy families and underprivileged school children. The various civic and religious organizations of the town together with children of the different grades of the Brevard schools will assist the Parent-Teacher association in the drive.

THREE SCHOOLS GIVE 100% TO DRIVE FOR NEW HOSPITAL FUND

Brevard High, Rosman High and Elementary Students Make Cash Gifts

Students of three schools of the county have contributed 100 percent to the new Community Hospital Building fund, reports showed Wednesday noon.

First group to make 100 percent contributions was the Brevard high, followed by Rosman high and Rosman elementary.

In each of the three schools specific donations were made by each student, and although some of the gifts from children were small, in the aggregate the building fund has been materially increased, and it is believed that when other schools of the county make their reports that a sizeable amount will have been raised.

The fact that all school children are willing to make contributions is the notable factor, members of the finance committee state, and proves that interest in the movement to build a new community hospital is good.

All schools of the county have been asked to cooperate in the move to raise the necessary $25,000 with which to match Duke Foundation funds, and from reports of the first three schools, the drive by school children for their portion will be gratifying, the finance committee states.

Half holiday was given the eleventh grade students of Brevard high school for being first to contribute 100 percent, and the largest average amount per pupil.

College Football Team Meets Mars Hill Squad Here Thursday

Brevard College annual football classic will be played here Thursday (this) afternoon at 2 o'clock when Mars Hill comes here for the pointed game of each team.

Mars Hill is rated by some would-be prognosticators as two touchdowns better than Coach Christenbury's charges, but people who saw the local squad against Lees-McRae two weeks past, and have seen the boys at work during the week are willing to put their money on Brevard even-steven.

Brevard's squad were all out for work-out Tuesday, and showed up well. There are no injuries to mar the lineup for today's game, and Coach Christenbury will have two complete teams of first-stringers ready to go.

Mars Hill has had a more pretentious season, judging from comparative scores, but Coach Christenbury has not been able to have his entire team on the field at any previous game, and the fact that his full team will be ready to go Thursday afternoon, lends strength to the belief that Brevard will give the visitors their first defeat in five tries.

Thursday's go will be the last for Albert Shuford of Brevard, co-captain, who graduates next spring. As a triple-threat back Shuford has added materially to the team's scoring during the season.

James Pickelsimer, another Brevard back, who has been out during two previous games with injuries, will be in the lineup Thursday, as will Chuck McFee and Buck Barden, making a quartet of backfield men who are top-raters.

Bill Campbell, hard-hitting guard, has been on the injured list, but is expected to be able to start in the Mars Hill fracas.

DEER HUNTERS HERE FROM MANY STATES

Hunt in Pisgah Game Preserve Will Continue For Three More Weeks

Hunters from several states are congregated here this week for the annual deer hunt in Pisgah National Forest.

Boarding houses and hotels reported a large number of registrations for the first three days of the week, and additional hunters were arriving late Wednesday for the Thursday, Friday and Saturday hunt on Davidson River.

Nicest deer killed the first three days, judging by the head, was taken Tuesday afternoon by Charlie Green of Rosman. The buck had ten points, and weighed approximately 175 pounds.

Larger deer were killed by A. T. Bayless of Morristown, Tenn., and C. C. Gibbs of Brevard—these two bucks each weighing 190 pounds. Mr. Green made his kill at 30 yards, using a 30-30 rifle.

Only 249 hunters entered the forest Monday morning due to the fact that there was not time for applications to be filled and returned for proper credentials notifications, but 300 are expected to enter Thursday morning of this week.

Thirty bucks and 17 does were killed the first day, along with one bear; Tuesday's count was 30 bucks, 10 does, and one bear.

The hunt will be conducted on the Davidson River watershed this week-end with two new areas—Pisgah Ledge and Bradley Creek compartments to be opened for the first time.

Next week the hunt will be on the Mills River side of the forest, and checking station maintained for the week at the North Mills River recreation center.

December 11th will see the hunt again on Davidson River lands, with checking station maintained near Pisgah Forest, and last week will be conducted from Mills River checking station.

Plans announced last week call for 2,000 hunters to enter the forest, and advices from the Asheville office Wednesday were to the effect that majority of the hunters the last of this week, and next, would be out-of-state people.

Christmas Gifts Display In All Local Business Houses

"Spirit of Christmas" seems to be pervading the stores in Brevard, and everywhere Yuletide decorations and displays are taking prominence.

Plummer's department store announces that a "real Santa Claus" will be at their Toyland opening on Friday evening of this week from 7 to 9 o'clock, and a general invitation is extended to all children to attend the formal opening.

Belk's is also opening their toy and gift display on Friday. At Long's and Macfie's Drug stores, the extra fine little doo-dads that tickle the fancy of the fastidious are being put on display this week, and the variety stores are also showing their "spirit of St. Nick" articles, with dolls and toys taking prominence in the display.

Managers of Brevard business houses who have been contacted by The Times state that they have bought far more Christmas toys and gift supplies than ever before, and with general business conditions here on the up-grade which has been true for months, the next three weeks will very probably surpass by nearly double, any previous like period.

Buy First Brick For Community Hospital

Harry H. Straus, president of Ecusta Paper Corporation is shown above as he receives the first "Buy a Brick" pin from Mrs. Wm. P. Jordan, chairman of the committee. Professor J. B. Jones, chairman of the Transylvania Community Hospital Association, looks on with approval as the chairman of the finance committee gets the first pin.

The "Buy a Brick" committee will have the little green ribbons on sale in all parts of the county during the week, in an effort to get every person in the county to contribute to the fund to erect the new community hospital. Saturday will be known officially as "Buy a Brick Day" and girls will be on the street selling the attractive pins.

At the Brevard-Mars Hill football game Thursday of this week, members of the committee and other young ladies will have the pins on sale, and each person attending will be approached as a customer for one of the "Buy a Brick" pins.

Following a meeting of the committee chairman heads at the Ecusta office last Friday afternoon, Chairman Harry Straus stated that the drive for funds was receiving hearty support in every corner, and that he expected the goal of $25,000 to be raised locally to be reached in a short time. "People are all interested" the official said, "and we sincerely hope that everyone will take the opportunity of this Thanksgiving season to really be thankful and follow the 'It is better to give than to receive' part of the Golden Rule."

MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION for Community Hospital Week

Whereas: Owing to the increased industrial activity in Brevard and Transylvania County, and to the inadequate Hospital facilities of our community; it is imperative that steps should be taken to provide for the citizens of this section a MODERN HOSPITAL, and

Whereas: Public spirited citizens, including leading industrialists, professional men and women, our business men and agriculturists, in fact representative men and women in every vocation who feel deeply interested in such an enterprise have organized, and are now at work in a serious way on plans for securing funds to be used in the erection and equipping of such an institution, with the assured help of the Duke Endowment, such a building to be erected on favorably located property now owned and paid for by the "Transylvania Community Hospital," Inc., and

Whereas: Plans have been made for an intensive drive or campaign for the purpose of raising the necessary funds for the Hospital immediately, Therefore: I, A. H. Harris, Mayor of Brevard, do set aside and designate that period between Wednesday, Nov. 29, and Thursday, Dec. 7 as Hospital Week and do most earnestly call upon all our citizens and residents, young and old, to cooperate with, and contribute to, this most worthy cause, to the best of their ability, feeling that it would be a fine thing for all of us to make some personal sacrifice in keeping with the spirit of Thanksgiving, having in mind that the Christian religion lays down the principle, "It is more blessed to give than to receive." Certainly the giving toward an institution for the care of the sick and injured would be a fine example of that spirit. Given this 27th of November, 1939.

A. H. HARRIS, Mayor

TOURIST CAMP WILL BE BUILT BY GIBBS

French Broad Site Purchased and Cabins Planned For Boys Camp Property

French Broad Camp for Boys site has been purchased by C. C. Gibbs, of Brevard, who has announced plans for starting a modern tourist camp at the site on the Greenville highway.

The property was used for a number of years as a boys' camp, and is regarded as ideally suited for a tourist camp. Located one and one-half miles from Brevard, the 75-acre tract borders the French Broad river, and faces on US highway 276.

A lake is already built on the property, and water and sewer are also provided for. Electricity is furnished by the Duke Power company with a line touching the property.

Mr. Gibbs purchased the property from J. M. Allison, of Brevard and Gainsville, Ala., at an approximate price of $10,000, and states that he plans to start immediately on improvements.

A service station and grocery will be erected along the highway frontage, with dirt removed from the service station site to be utilized for improving entrance to the property near Wilson Bridge. Six log cabins will be erected along the site of the present tent-line which was used by the boys camp, and other buildings on the property will also be utilized.

Chamber of Commerce officials have been interested for the past several years in locating a modern tourist camp near Brevard, and leaders are enthused over prospects of the new enterprise to be undertaken by Mr. Gibbs.

Christmas Lighting Will Be Sponsored By Garden Club Here

The Brevard Garden club is sponsoring the Christmas lighting contest in order that the homes of the town and community may show outward and visible signs of the inner spirit of Christmas.

Two prizes will be offered this year by the club—a first prize of $10.00 for the best lighting effects and a second prize of $5.00. A third prize of a lamp will be donated by the Duke Power company.

Judging of the decorations will be from a view from the street. Living trees are suggested for outside lighting, thus keeping in mind conservation of native plant life.

Those entering the contest outside the city limits are asked to notify Mrs. H. J. Bradley, the president of the club, or any member of the following named committee: Mrs. C. E. Buckner, chairman, Mrs. Roy Long and Mrs. John Maxwell.

The judging will be done by disinterested parties on Saturday night, December 23, between the hours of 8 and 10 o'clock.

In addition to the lighting contest, the Garden club will also sponsor a sale of Christmas greens and decorations, beginning on December 18 and continuing through the week. The following committee will conduct the sale: Mrs. Ashe Macfie, chairman, Mrs. Joe Poole, Mrs. Fred Holt and Mrs. Lee Bauer.

Snow Fall Recorded Here Over Week-End

Folk who have been wishing for cold weather had a nice dose of it Friday night and Saturday of last week, and woke up Sunday morning (those who got up at getting-up time) to see the ground and trees blanketed with an inch of snow.

In Pisgah National forest, especially along the ridge and over on the Haywood side two to four inches of snow was reported, and some of it was still to be seen late Monday afternoon on the western slopes of the Pisgah Range.

Two inches of snow was reported at Caesar's Head, and extending a slight distance down the south side of the ledge, but The Greenville Piedmont reported Monday afternoon that no killing frost had been noted in the South Carolina city 46 miles distant yet this season.

HUNTING SEASON TO OPEN IN COUNTY 30

Quail, Ruffed Grouse, Rabbits May Be Legally Taken Beginning Today

Quail, ruffed grouse, and rabbits will be subject of a lot of scaring by would-be hunters beginning Thursday of this week, or in some few cases, victims of the dead shots, and those who accidentally make shots and claim they are good.

Squirrel season has been open since October 1, and an exceptional number of squirrels has been reported here, although it is about time for migration to set in.

Reports from several sections of the county are to the effect that rabbit and quail are both plentiful, and the same applies to ruffed grouse, the choice morsel of bird hunters.

There is no bag limit on rabbits; 10 quail per day, 150 per season; two ruffed grouse per day, 10 per season.
